The Farm Service Agency (FSA) is an agency of the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) that serves all farmers, ranchers and agricultural partners through the delivery of effective, efficient agricultural programs for all Americans. The foundation of FSA's mission and vision rests upon the long-standing core values of strong ethics, customer service, teamwork, inclusive decision-making, and fiscal responsibility. FSA has 34 county offices and each county office is governed by a farmer-elected county committee. Each of these county committees is governed by the State FSA committee that oversees and supervises all county operations. These programs are: Direct and Guaranteed Farm Operating and Farm Ownership Loans; Microloans; Beginning Farmers and Ranchers Loans; Agriculture Risk Coverage and Price Loss Coverage Program (ARCPLC); Conservation and Emergency Loans; Marketing Assistance Loans (MAL); Farm Storage Facility Loans; Dairy Margin Coverage Program (DMC); Margin Protection Program-Dairy (MPP-Dairy); Emergency Assistance for Livestock, Honey Bees, and Farm-Raised Fish Program (ELAP); Livestock Forage Disaster Program (LFP); Livestock Indemnity Program (LIP); Conservation Reserve Program (CRP); Emergency Conservation Program (ECP); Non-insured Crop Disaster Assistance Program (NAP); Organic Certification Cost Share Program (OCCSP); Emergency Forestry Restoration Program (EFRP); and Tree Assistance Program (TAP).

The Rural Development mission is to help rural Americans to improve the quality of their lives. Rural Development programs are administered through USDA's network of State, Area, and sub area offices. Rural Development also helps rural communities meet their basic needs by: building water and wastewater systems, financing decent affordable housing, supporting electric power and rural businesses—including cooperatives and supporting community development with information and technical assistance. Rural Development work is focused in the following areas that report to the Assistant to the Secretary for Rural Development: Business Programs including cooperative development and technical assistance, plus other business development programs; Housing Programs including rural housing programs as well as rural community loan programs; and Utilities Programs, including telephone and electric programs along with water and sewer programs. There are nine (9) full-time offices in the State.

NRCS assists landowners in conserving, improving, and sustaining South Carolina's natural resources. Working in cooperation with the State's 46 conservation districts, the agency provides one-on-one technical assistance to agricultural and urban based individuals and communities. Practical technology and good science are at the heart of conserving our natural resources. For NRCS, this includes soil surveys, which provide detailed information on soil capabilities and a Geographic Information System, which shows the interaction of various elements of the environment. NRCS also has a variety of conservation programs that assist landusers, such as Agriculture Conservation and Easement Program (Wetland Reserved Easement & Agri-land Easement), PL-566 Small Watershed Program, Plant Materials Program, Conservation Innovation Grants, Regional Conservation Partnership Program, Environmental Quality Incentives Program, and the Conservation Stewardship Program.

As one of our country's oldest federal law enforcement agencies, the U.S. Postal Inspection Service has a long, proud, and successful history of fighting criminals who attack our nation's postal system and misuse it to defraud, endanger, or otherwise threaten the American public. As the primary law enforcement arm of the U.S. Postal Service, the U.S. Postal Inspection Service is a highly specialized, professional organization performing investigative and security functions essential to a stable and sound postal system.

Through its security and enforcement functions, the Postal Inspection Service provides assurance to American businesses for the safe exchange of funds and securities through the U.S. Mail; to postal customers of the "sanctity of the seal" in transmitting correspondence and messages; and to postal employees of a safe work environment.

The Federal Highway Administration is the key Federal agency in S.C. for highway transportation issues. The mission of the FHWA is to improve mobility on our nation's highways through National Leadership, Innovation, and Program Delivery. To accomplish this mission, the agency has implemented a four-goal Strategic Plan that includes improvements and objectives in the following areas: Safety, Infrastructure, Innovation and Accountability. The FHWA has Division offices located in all 50 states as well as the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico. Each FHWA division is led by a Division Administrator responsible for administering the Federal-aid Highway Program. The FHWA South Carolina Division partners with the S.C. Department of Transportation (SCDOT), S.C. Department of Public Safety, metropolitan planning organizations, and other federal/state/local agencies or groups in the development of transportation projects and safety initiatives. During fiscal year 2022, over $956,720,483 in Federal-aid highway funds were made available to the State of South Carolina for highway construction including the replacement of bridges, traffic control devices, roadway beautification, and congressionally designated projects. The FHWA South Carolina Division strives to remain a “Partner of Choice” and we pride ourselves in “Strengthening Our World-Class Highway System” in South Carolina.

Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration
(FMCSA)

1835 Assembly St., Suite 1008, Columbia 29201
Tel. (803) 765-5414

The Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration (FMCSA) was created within the U.S. Department of Transportation on Jan. 1, 2000, pursuant to the Motor Carrier Safety Act of 1999 [Public Law No. 106-159, 113 Stat. (Dec. 9, 1999)]. The FMCSA, formerly a part of the Federal Highway Administration (FHWA), is primarily responsible for establishing and enforcing safety and security requirements of motor carriers operations in interstate and foreign commerce. In addition, FMCSA has jurisdiction over hazardous material shippers, container manufacturers, and drums reconditioners. The FMCSR prescribe the qualification and hours of service for drivers, the reporting of accidents, inspections, drug and alcohol testing, and commercial driver licenses. FMCSA’s focus includes targeting high-risk carriers, shippers, and commercial drivers, improving safety information systems and motor vehicle technologies, as well as to increase public awareness. To accomplish these activities, the Administration works with federal, state, and local enforcement agencies, the motor carrier industry, labor and safety interest groups, and others.

The William Jennings Bryan Dorn VA Medical Center (WJBD) opened in 1932 at its current location and has since expanded to include seven community-based outpatient clinics (CBOCs) located throughout South Carolina. The seven CBOCs located in Anderson, Florence, Greenville, Orangeburg, Rock Hill, Spartanburg, and Sumter counties serve eight sub-markets and 32 counties. In 2018, WJBD area of responsibility was officially renamed the Columbia Health Care System. The medical center is a level 1C teaching hospital delivering a full range of patient care services utilizing state-of-the-art technology, education, and research. Comprehensive health care is provided through primary care, tertiary care and long-term care in areas of medicine, surgery, psychiatry, physical medicine and rehabilitation, cardiology, neurology, oncology, dentistry, geriatrics and extended care. The facility is accredited by the American College of Surgeons, the Commission on Accreditation for Rehabilitation Facilities in the Health Care for Homeless Veterans Program, the Psychosocial Rehabilitation and Recovery Care, the Outpatient Interdisciplinary Pain Program, the Mental Health Intensive Case Management Program, and the Commission on Laboratory Accreditation of the College of American Pathologists. All surveys and accreditation visits since January 2016 have been successful including the Joint Commission Survey, the CAP Survey and the Unannounced Community Living Center Survey. The medical center has a Molecular Pathology Section that conducts cutting edge technological tests (e.g. polymerase chain reaction (PCR), HCV Genotype, CT/NG, HPV, etc.) to all VA medical facilities across VISN 7 (Alabama, Georgia, and South Carolina). The facility and the University of South Carolina School of Medicine recently opened a new Simulation Center that will be used for current and future health care professionals.
