Accountability Report

SUBMISSION FORM

AGENCY MISSION

The mission of the South Carolina Department of Insurance (Department) is to protect the insurance consumers, the public interest, and the insurance marketplace by ensuring the solvency of insurers, enforcing and implementing the insurance laws of this State, and regulating the insurance industry in an efficient, courteous, responsive, fair, and equitable manner.

AGENCY VISION

The Department of Insurance envisions a competitive and financially stable insurance marketplace. To this end, the Department regulates the insurance marketplace by firmly and fairly implementing and enforcing the insurance laws.

Please select yes or no if the agency has any major or minor (internal or external) recommendations that would allow the agency to operate more effectively and efficiently.

AGENCY'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS
Key Strategic Challenges

Much of the work of the Department is influenced by changes in financial markets at the national and international level. Summarized below are the key challenges facing insurance regulation in South Carolina.

Challenge: Increased Federal Involvement in Insurance Regulation

The federal government's role in insurance regulation is increasing. Examples of the heightened federal involvement in insurance regulatory activities include the enactment of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (ACA) and proposals to repeal and replace it, the Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act (commonly referred to as Dodd-Frank), and most recently, National Association of Registered Agents and Brokers (NARAB II). These Acts have, and will continue to have, a significant impact on U.S. insurance markets and their regulation. While this legislation is federal, it impacts state laws and regulations. Federal legislation often establishes the minimum level of protection that may be afforded. While it recognizes that states are the primary regulators of insurance, it also establishes the standards with which all insurers must comply. States are charged with enforcement, but if the state does not enforce the provisions of the law, the federal government will effectively preempt state law. The challenge for state and federal regulators is to effectively collaborate and communicate in the performance of their regulatory roles.

What follows is a summary of the impact of these internal and external factors on the various divisions of the Department.

Market and Consumer Services

Personnel changes continue to present strategic challenges and opportunities for the Market and Consumer Services Division. The less tenured employees continue to leverage this opportunity to showcase ways that they can contribute to the Division and have taken on training and mentoring of new staff. The Division has also looked internally to further the knowledge base of all employees within the Market and Consumer Services Division. One example is the continued utilization of Lunch & Learns and industry-led webinars.

Much of the duties and responsibilities of the Market and Consumer Services Division are dependent on external factors; the number of consumer calls, consumer complaints, and insurance rate, rule, and form filings that the Division staff must process is directly correlated to how many consumers contact us for assistance and how many insurance product filings are made by insurance carriers in a given period of time. As a result, it can be challenging from a strategic planning perspective to manage resources effectively while ensuring an efficient turnaround of consumer and insurer submissions.

Because of the limited control we have over the workload itself, we strive to focus on the areas that are within our control with a continual focus on areas for improvement in our processes. For example, the total turnaround time for insurer rate, rule, and form filings is impacted by the quality of the filing at submission, the number of times we must request additional information, support, or clarification from the insurer, and how quickly they provide such information. As the aforementioned items are only minimally within our control, we have sought to emphasize the state's review time as this is entirely based upon how long it takes our staff to review a filing after submission and after a company responds to any follow-up inquiries we may have. Of course, we also understand that the total turnaround time directly impacts speed to market initiatives, so we try to balance the two in our focus.

AGENCY NAME:	SC Department of Insurance
AGENCY CODE:	R20	SECTION:	78

In an effort to provide greater transparency for consumers, we continue to leverage SERFF Public Access, a no-cost, Internet-based solution for viewing public insurance company rate, rule and form filings from anywhere at any time. Consumers simply click a link on our website to begin searching for filings and are then able to download the entirety of the filing or select a subset of the filing to review in more detail. Of course, we understand that this may not be an option for all interested parties, so we continue to provide the two options that were previously in place – requesting copies to be delivered by mail or email and viewing filings at our public kiosk – as outlined on our website (<http://doi.sc.gov/595/Insurance-Rates>).

We are also continuing our focus on enhancing our customer service. We continue to maintain extended hours in our Office of Consumer Services and are available 8:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. Mondays through Thursdays and 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. on Fridays. We continue to see increased utilization of our online complaint portal, which allows consumers to file consumer complaints with our Office of Consumer Services through our website.

We continue our efforts to enhance our market analysis program area, which is critical to monitoring insurer trade practices and identifying emerging trends in the market or in a particular insurance carrier/ group. During the fiscal year, the agency completed its first market conduct examination in over 10 years. This exam, which was finalized in July 2016, resulted in a consent order under which the licensee agreed to pay a six figure penalty for violations of state law, ongoing monitoring and compliance reporting, and internal processes and procedures changes for the protection of South Carolina consumers.

As we strive to focus on ways to improve what is within our control, we continue to emphasize regular updates to our exhibits and filing/ reporting resources that we provide to companies to assist them in preparing and submitting a quality filing/ report at initial submission. Our goal for Market Services is to provide carriers with as much pertinent and useful information as we can up front in order to assist them in complying with South Carolina’s insurance laws. To that end, the Property and Casualty (P&C) Unit released updated Actuarial Exhibits in the fiscal year for several lines of business that require rate filings. The Life, Accident and Health (LA&H) Unit continued its focus on processing changes that have resulted from the Affordable Care Act; after each annual filing period, the staff is responsible for identifying areas for improvement and common issues that were identified across carriers. Carrier feedback is also solicited to ensure a holistic approach as the staff works to streamline the filing and review process given that these filings demand significant resources both internally and from our filing carriers.

One area of focus for the Office of Consumer Services continues to be updating our brochures and various printed materials for consumers. During the fiscal year, we published and updated relevant materials for individuals and small businesses regarding the ACA-compliant plans that are available in the individual and small group markets. As was noted in prior fiscal years’ reports, the agency’s Medicare Supplement Insurance Shopper’s Guide is one of the most downloaded documents from our website. As a result, staff continues to identify enhancements for this guide and regularly updates the printed and online versions for consumers.

The Office of Consumer Services also published a variety of new materials for consumers relating to private passenger automobile insurance and homeowners insurance. These include releasing a new brochure relating to the Excess Premium Tax Credits and overhauling our coastal property insurance webpage. As in prior years, the Price Comparison Tool, which provides sample premiums for both private passenger automobile insurance and homeowners insurance, was updated during the fiscal year to include sample premiums based upon the responding carriers’ rates as of June 2017. Finally, new functionality was added by the agency’s website host that allows us to utilize shortcuts to access specific webpages. These have been utilized to create roughly two dozen website shortcuts that make accessing pertinent information more user friendly for our stakeholders.

Licensing & Continuing Education

Regulatory challenges facing the Licensing & CE Division involve streamlining the producer-licensing process and achieving licensing uniformity and reciprocity with other states in the U.S. The intent of the NARAB II legislation mentioned above is to streamline the non-resident producer licensing process but preserve the states' ability to protect consumers and regulate producer conduct. State insurance departments oversee producer activities as part of a comprehensive regulatory framework designed to protect insurance consumer interests in insurance transactions. However, each state traditionally had its own licensing requirements and a producer licensed in one state generally had to meet the separate non-resident licensing requirements in other states in order to sell, solicit or negotiate insurance in such other states. While states have made great strides in implementing more uniform procedures across state lines, NARAB would give agents and brokers who do business in multiple states the option of joining a national association through which they can satisfy various states' licensing requirements through one process and portal. However, until such time as NARAB is actually implemented, the Licensing & CE Division must continue to work with the NAIC and the National Insurance Producer Registry (NIPR) to modernize and streamline our processes, and take steps to improve uniformity and reciprocity with regard to producer licensing.

Financial Regulations & Solvency

The regulatory challenges confronting the Financial Regulation Division involve our ability to effectively implement new regulatory standards in response to federal legislation or financial crises impacting insurers that are members of a holding company system. The contagion effects experienced by U.S. insurers in the AIG holding company system's near collapse prompted U.S. insurance regulators to reevaluate their group supervisory framework and pay closer attention to the risks that are created by activities going on outside of those entities as well as the reputational and contagion issues that could exist. In response, the NAIC voted to adopt a significant new addition to U.S. insurance regulation: the U.S. Own Risk and Solvency Assessment (ORSA). An ORSA requires insurance companies to issue their own assessment of their current and future risk through an internal risk self-assessment process and it allows regulators to form an enhanced view of an insurer's ability to withstand financial stress. Large- and medium-size U.S. insurance groups and/or insurers are required to regularly conduct an ORSA starting in 2017. While few South Carolina domestics are having to conduct this assessment, it is an expensive and time consuming endeavor for this Department. There is no standard way to conduct an ORSA and it will vary from company to company. The output of the assessment will be a set of documents that demonstrate the results of management's self-assessment.

The ORSA assessment is an accreditation standard. It is a part of an overall regulatory strategy to effectively regulate group activity which also includes supervisory colleges. Supervisory colleges are joint meetings of interested regulators with company officials and include detailed discussions about financial data, corporate governance and enterprise risk management. Solvency regulation has a more global focus than it has in the past.

South Carolina, as well as all other U.S. jurisdictions, continues to work to understand the effects of the international discussions on insurance regulation and supervisory standard-setting on the U.S. regulated industry. The Department is actively following these international discussions through the efforts of several different Working Groups created by the NAIC. Additionally, the Department is participating in discussions involving cybersecurity on a national and international basis through Director Farmer's position as the Chair of the Cybersecurity Working Group, also created by the NAIC. At the state level, the Department continues to work with our domestic industry to insure that each company has in place, not only procedures to mitigate cyber breaches, but equally important, a plan that with assist policyholders should such breaches occur.

AGENCY NAME:	SC Department of Insurance
AGENCY CODE:	R20	SECTION:	78

Much of the work of the Division has been devoted to ensuring the Department is prepared for accreditation by the NAIC. During June of 2016, an NAIC Accreditation Team spent a week at the Department of Insurance reviewing, in detail, the work that had been performed by the analysts and examiners, as well as each manager, for both the traditional and captive insurance companies domestic to South Carolina for the past five years. Subsequently, during the NAIC National Meeting in August of 2016, the Financial Regulation Standards and Accreditation Committee voted to approve the Accreditation Team's recommendation that the South Carolina Department of Insurance be re-accredited for the full five year period. This re-accreditation was absolutely necessary to allow all states to continue to have confidence in the Department's ability to regulate insurance companies for solvency, to the benefit of all policyholders. Policyholders who are not only South Carolina residents, but residents of all other US jurisdictions which are members of the NAIC. The Department's ability to recruit and retain competent and qualified staff continues to be a challenge for the agency. During the past rating period, the Financial Regulation Division has continued to reorganize to enable the Department to meet these new regulatory challenges. Additional reorganization and effective succession planning will continue to be necessary as members of the Division retire or transition to other opportunities. To address these concerns, the Division has hired interns, permitted other employees within the agency to job shadow, and mentored employees who may have an interest in financial regulation in an attempt to ensure a qualified pool of financial regulators.

The Financial Regulation & Solvency Division has implemented a policy that requires all analysts and examiners to obtain the Certified Financial Examiner (CFE) certification through the Society of Financial Examiners (SOFE). Previously, only examiners were required to obtain this certification. To this end, the Division has offered and will continue to offer training through presentations by outside professionals as well as webinars produced by the NAIC. An employee of the Division has been assigned to coordinate this effort and has begun accumulating a library of study materials for use by the applicants.

Enforcement Activities

The Department investigates allegations of violations by insurance agents, companies, HMOs, other licensed and unlicensed entities and imposes disciplinary action where appropriate. The Investigations Unit within the Office of General Counsel receives referrals from business units throughout the agency. It reviews, investigates or assists with issues related to statutory violations; unauthorized insurance; unfair methods of competition; unfair or deceptive acts or practices in the insurance business; unfair claims settlement practices; and disaster-related claims handling.

Following an investigation, the Office of General Counsel may bring disciplinary actions that result in license application denials; license revocations and suspensions; monitored agent probations; or administrative penalties. Cases involving fraud are referred to the Insurance Fraud Unit of the Attorney General's Office for review and prosecution. Set forth below are some of the highlights of the Department's enforcement activities this past fiscal year:

- Opened 257 investigations;
- Concluded 256 investigations;
- Imposed 4 license suspensions; 7 license probations; and 37 license revocations;
- Issued 70 warning letters to various licensees about their conduct; and

Referred 7 matters to the Insurance Fraud Unit of the Attorney General's Office for investigation and prosecution.

Challenge: Workforce Planning and Capacity

Several significant challenges face the agency succession at this time. These challenges include increased federal involvement in the regulation of the business of insurance, an increasing number of retirement eligible employees as well as the loss of their expertise and institutional knowledge. These factors have had a significant impact on the work of the Department this past fiscal year.

Out of the 94 Full Time Employees (FTE) assigned to the Department, currently, 29 of filled positions within the Agency are occupied by employees who are either currently retired (i.e. TERI or returned) or will be eligible within 5 years. Twenty (20) of these eligible employees are in positions identified as the most critical, not only because of their retirement status, but also due to the importance of the position as it relates to the organization.

A changing workforce demographic continues to impact the culture of the Department as well as the external environment from which it must recruit and train new employees. State salaries are often not competitive with those offered in the private market. Increasing job mobility in the work-world is a significant trend that government agencies must recognize and address as they seek to attract employees who most likely do not envision themselves as working for one employer throughout their career and are interested in many of the advantages/benefits offered by employees in the private sector.

To address these concerns, the Department has developed, and is implementing, workforce and succession plans to address succession issues and enhance the competencies of staff. The workforce plan identifies the positions in the agency that are mission critical and creates specific action steps for managers and employees to recruit, train and retain staff. This process will ensure that institutional knowledge will not be immediately lost upon the retirement or resignation of current employees.

Additionally, the Department continues to partner with Midlands Technical College for training, and with other local colleges and universities, to identify and recruit employees with insurance backgrounds and other financial expertise. Students from the Darla Moore School of Business and the Insurance and Risk Management Program at the University of South Carolina, SC State University, Coastal Carolina and Claflin have successfully completed insurance-related internships at the Department. These insurance programs have served as important recruitment pools for the Department.

Moreover, Department employees are also being encouraged to take courses to obtain insurance related designations and certifications to enhance their insurance knowledge and otherwise prepare them for advancement opportunities as they become available within the organization. Employees are being cross-trained, mentored and allowed to shadow employees in positions in which they may have an interest. While no guarantees of promotions or employment are made, these efforts help the Department in the event of an unexpected absence and help prepare the employee should an opportunity become available. As a result of these collective efforts, the Department has been able to recruit applicants as well as retain and promote employees with significant insurance knowledge into positions at the Department.

The foregoing discussion summarizes the internal and external factors that impact this agency. It is within this environment that the Department attempts to regulate the South Carolina insurance marketplace. Senior leadership reviews market performance and other regulatory challenges annually. From this, the Department develops its goals and objectives and legislative and other policy recommendations.

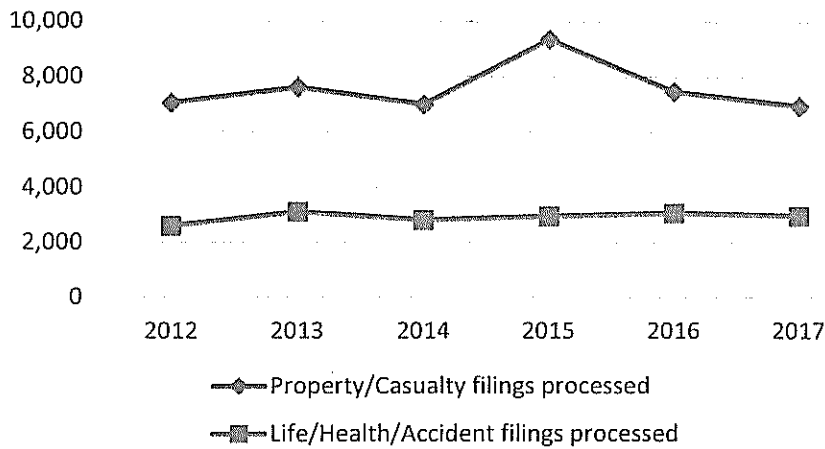

Summarized below are the Department's significant achievements during the fiscal year ending June 30, 2017:

Collected $257,199,680 in revenue from taxes, fees, assessment and fines, etc.

Reviewed and analyzed 9,902 rate, rule and form filings. Six thousand nine hundred forty (6,940) were related to property and casualty insurance products and the remaining 2,962 were related to life, accident and health insurance products. The Department's Office of Consumer Services resolved 3,669 complaints during the fiscal year. Reviewed the South Carolina Code of Laws, Title 38 to determine what, if any, laws that are unnecessary and issued 17 bulletins clarifying issues related to the implementation of South Carolina insurance laws.

Implemented a more robust outreach plan which consists of an enhanced website, additional community events, and enhanced market assistance activities in the communities affected by various disasters or other natural events. Enhanced the quality and efficiency of the services provided to stakeholders by automating processes and upgrading technology to enable the Department to be more responsive and to secure the data maintained by the agency.

Using the Accountability Report to Improve Organizational Performance

The Department uses the Accountability Report to annually evaluate and critique the progress of the agency's strategic plan. The Report is also used to initiate discussion about potential changes or additions to the current year's action plan. Through this process, the performance measures are accurately linked to larger, strategic goals in such a way that promotes the Department's transparency, efficiency, and effectiveness and commitment to its stakeholders.

151	McCarran-Ferguson Act	Federal	Federal Statute	The McCarran-Ferguson Act of 1945 (15 U.S.C.A. § 1011 et seq.) gives states the authority to regulate the "business of insurance" without interference from federal regulation, unless federal law specifically provides otherwise. The act provides that the "business of insurance, and every person engaged therein, shall be subject to the laws of the several States which relate to the regulation or taxation of such business." Congress passed the McCarran-Ferguson Act primarily in response to the Supreme Court case of United States v. South-Eastern Underwriters Ass'n, 322 U.S. 533, 64 S. Ct. 1162, 88 L. Ed. 1440 (1944). The McCarran-Ferguson Act provides that state law shall govern the regulation of insurance and that no act of Congress shall invalidate any state law unless the federal law specifically relates to insurance. The act thus mandates that a federal law that does not specifically regulate the business of insurance will not preempt a state law enacted for that purpose. A state law has the purpose of regulating the insurance industry if it has the "end, intention or aim of adjusting, managing, or controlling the business of insurance" (U.S. Dept. of Treasury v. Fabe, 508 U.S. 491, 113 S. Ct. 2202, 124 L. Ed. 2d 449 [1993]).	No	no
152	Privacy Act of 1974	Federal	Federal Statute	The Privacy Act of 1974 is a code of fair information practices which mandates how Government agencies maintain records about individuals. The Privacy Act requires that Government agencies: collect only information that is relevant, accurate, complete, and necessary to carry out an agency function; maintain no secret records on individuals. The Privacy Act only applies to Government records that contain information on individuals, are maintained by a Government agency or its contractors in an approved system of records, and are retrieved by a personal identifier, such as a person's name, Social Security Number, medical record number or other unique identifier.	No	no

153	Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (1996)	Federal	Federal Statute	The Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA) of 1996 (P.L. 104-191) amends the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 and is designed to improve the portability and continuity of health insurance coverage in the group and individual health insurance markets; combat waste, fraud and abuse in health insurance and health care delivery; promote the use of medical savings accounts; improve access to long-term care services and coverage and simplify the administration of health insurance. It contains standards for the electronic health information transactions; requires providers and health plans to use the standards for the specified electronic transactions; requires privacy standards to be enacted; and specifies the situations where state law may be preempted and the penalties that may be imposed for violations.	Yes	no
154	Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974	Federal	Federal Statute	ERISA outlines minimum federal standards for private employer-sponsored benefits such as requiring a plan administrator to provide a summary of plan benefits to employees, file annual reports, maintain procedures for claiming benefits and provide administrative and judicial remedies for beneficiaries. HIPAA was enacted to address concerns that insured persons have about losing their coverage if they change jobs or health plans. HIPAA established federal requirements to ensure the availability and renewability of coverage for certain employees and other persons under certain circumstances.	No	no
155	Gramm-Leach-Bliley	Federal	Federal Statute	The Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act broke down the barriers in statutes between banking and insurance. It made it possible for banks to own insurance companies and insurance companies to own banks. It recognized insurance as a financial product. It sets forth specific requirements for financial transactions. It also requires many companies to give consumers privacy notices that explain the institutions' information-sharing practices	No	Yes

156	Sarbanes-Oxley	Federal	Federal Statute	The Sarbanes-Oxley Act created new standards for corporate accountability as well as new penalties for acts of wrongdoing. It changes how corporate boards and executives must interact with each other and with corporate auditors. It removes the defense of "I wasn't aware of financial issues" from CEOs and CFOs, holding them accountable for the accuracy of financial statements. The Act specifies new financial reporting responsibilities, including adherence to new internal controls and procedures designed to ensure the validity of their financial records.	No	Yes
157	Terrorism Risk in Insurance Act	Federal	Federal Statute	TRIA establishes a program authorizing the federal government to cover a substantial portion of losses caused by a terrorist attack. The Terrorism Risk Insurance Act of 2002, Pub. L. No. 107-297, 116 Stat. 2322 covers up to $100 billion in total insured losses. The Act also creates certain requirements for insurers and is likely to affect upcoming insurance renewals and premium rates.	No	Yes
158	18 USC 1033, 1034	Federal	Federal Statute	Individuals convicted of a crime involving dishonesty, breach of trust or a violation of the Act cannot work or continue to work in the insurance industry without receiving the written consent of the chief insurance regulatory official authorized to regulate the insurer. A prohibited person who continues to work or works without the written consent of the insurance commissioner risks federal criminal penalties. There is no automatic waiver or grandfather provisions.	No	Yes
159	Pregnancy in Discrimination Act	Federal	Federal Statute	The Pregnancy Discrimination Act 12 requires businesses with 15 or more employees to cover expenses for pregnancy and medical conditions related to pregnancy on the same basis as coverage for other medical conditions.	Yes	Yes
160	Newborns' and Mothers' Health Protection Act of 1996	Federal	Federal Statute	This statute requires that employer-sponsored health coverage that includes hospital stays in connection with childbirth must cover a minimum length of stay for mothers and newborns following delivery. For vaginal deliveries, the coverage provided cannot restrict hospital stays to less than 48 hours; for caesarean births, the coverage provided cannot restrict hospital stays to less than 96 hours. 161	Mental Health Parity Act of 1996	Federal	Federal Statute	The Mental Health Parity Act of 1996 requires that mental health benefits included in employer-sponsored health coverage cannot have annual or lifetime dollar limits on mental health benefits that are lower than any such dollar limits for medical and surgical benefits. The law does not apply to (1) coverage sponsored by a small business with 50 or fewer employees and (2) coverage sponsored by larger businesses that experience an increase in total claims costs of at least 1 percent as a result of complying with the act. The health coverage may still contain other limits, such as those on the number of days or visits covered	Yes	Yes
162	Women's Health and Cancer Rights Act of 1998	Federal	Federal Statute	The Women's Health and Cancer Rights Act of 1998 requires that employer-sponsored health coverage that provides coverage for mastectomies also cover related reconstructive surgery and other mastectomy-related benefits, such as coverage for prostheses and physical complications (including lymphedemas).	Yes	Yes
163	Affordable Care Act	Federal	Federal Statute	Provisions included in the ACA are intended to expand access to insurance, increase consumer protections, emphasize prevention and wellness, improve quality and system performance, expand the health workforce, and curb rising health care costs.
