AGENCY’S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

FY23-2024 ACCOMPLISHMENTS, MILESTONES, AND ENGAGEMENT

During FY2023-24, the South Carolina Department of Employment and Workforce (DEW) furthered its mission to promote and support an effective, customer-driven workforce system through collaboration, focus on continuous improvement, enhanced support for rural communities, and dedication to service.

SC Works: Connecting Employers with Jobseekers

Connecting employers and jobseekers, reemployment assistance, and direct engagement with our workforce and business community are fundamental to furthering DEW’s mission to support financial stability and economic prosperity for employers, individuals, and communities.

In partnership with SC Works, jobseekers and employers throughout the state have access to a variety of workforce services. At SC Works centers located within each of the state’s twelve Local Workforce Development Areas, employment representatives are available to help employers and jobseekers find the best resources and services to meet their needs:

Jobseekers		Employers
• Career counseling	• Testing and training	• Training	• Recruiting and screening
• Job referrals	• Résumé assistance	• Job market trends	• Posting job openings
• Computer access	• Partner services	• Tax credit info	• Transitional assistance

SC Works Centers also offer dedicated employment assistance for veterans and employers seeking assistance with hiring qualified veterans that meet federal compliance standards.

South Carolinians can also access SC Works resources at more than 175 designated Connection Points. Connection Points, often located in libraries, provide free public access to computers and resources to assist with a job search or filing an unemployment insurance claim. In April 2024, Benedict College became the first four-year institution to establish a Connection Point, making the Benedict College Best Lives Center (BLC) available for jobseekers to search for jobs, identify career advancement opportunities, and file an unemployment insurance claim. In FY23-24, DEW added several additional Connection Points and plans to continue promoting Connection Points with community partners to reach even more South Carolinians in FY24-25.

Job Fairs/Community Events

DEW coordinates multiemployer job fairs as community events, offers employers dedicated events to meet that specific employer’s hiring needs, and holds job fairs as part of its rapid response efforts when notified of a facility closure or permanent layoff. During FY23-24, there were 860 job fairs and hiring events in FY23-24 with 32,345 total attendees and employers reporting 12,739 potential hires.

Rural Initiatives Team and SC@Work: Rural Connections

In FY23-24, DEW transformed its approach to reaching rural communities, launching SC@Work: Rural Connections and hiring a new rural initiatives team within the Employment Services division.

- Rural Initiatives Team: With funds from the FY23-24 General Appropriations Act, DEW was able to hire 15 FTEs to coordinate rural events and targeted outreach to connect rural jobseekers with employment opportunities. While engagement with the local community is always a key to success, it is critical in rural areas. Establishment of a dedicated rural services team fosters development of significant and meaningful connections with those community-based organizations and small businesses pivotal to increased awareness and participation in workforce programs in rural areas. The Rural Initiatives team takes a regional approach to ensure that hiring events and services are tailored to the local area with no region underserved.

AGENCY NAME:	Department of Employment and Workforce
AGENCY CODE:	R600	SECTION:	083

- SC@Work: Rural Connections: In 2023, DEW launched SC@Work: Road Trips, a series of rural events highlighting the opportunities and services available in rural communities while building direct connections with local employers, community leaders, and jobseekers. In 2024, the creation of the Rural Initiatives team allowed SC@Work: Road Trips to evolve into a more sustained effort, SC@Work: Rural Connections. SC@Work: Rural Connections targets jobseekers in rural areas with barriers to employment, such as transportation, to make DEW and SC Works services more accessible. By the end of June 2024, there had been 46 SC@Work: Rural Connections events serving 269 employers and 1,103 attendees with those employers reporting 466 intended follow-ups and 340 potential hires from these events.

Rapid Response and the Career Coach

After discovering a potential layoff or closure, DEW offers the company and their impacted workers rapid response services to include management meetings, group information sessions, and other on-site services to assist with resume building, interviewing skills, searching for jobs, computer literacy, career and wage information, and assistance with unemployment insurance benefits. In FY23-24, DEW worked with 173 employers to provide customized rapid response services.

An important part of DEW’s rapid response capabilities is the SC Works Career Coach which served 2,662 people across the state at 173 rapid response events. The Career Coach is a fully accessible mobile extension of the statewide network of SC Works centers equipped with ten workstations with Wi-Fi and printer capabilities for job seeking activities. In addition to rapid response to a layoff or closure, the Career Coach also allows for resources available at SC Works Centers to serve rural communities with limited access to internet or to be rapidly deployed in response to a disaster to provide job placement assistance and training on résumés, interviews, and computer skills. DEW contracted with a vendor this fiscal year to purchase a second Career Coach to serve the agency’s rural initiative and increase response capacity; this new career coach is in development.

Senior Business Consultants

DEW offers a variety of services to the business community through SC Works. Business consultants can assist employers with screening applications, job matching, hiring events, or development of a Personalized Employer Plan. In FY23-24, DEW introduced Senior Business Consultants, regional points-of-contact to streamline the process for employers, enhance support of new or expanding employers in conjunction with readySC, and ensure a more focused and tailored approach to serving the business community. The goals of DEW’s four Senior Business Consultants are to increase awareness of and participation in services for employers, promote collaboration across the state to identify local needs and opportunities, and leverage work with stakeholders for continuous improvement of business services offered to South Carolina employers like the Personalized Employer Plan.

Virtual Platforms

While physical, in-person events and services remain a priority, the agency has seen benefits from supplemental virtual offerings. 91 job fairs were conducted on DEW’s virtual workforce services platform which offers convenience to employers and jobseekers as well as enhanced access to hiring events for individuals with transportation or mobility challenges and populations difficult to reach with traditional job fairs. For example, in partnership and collaboration with the S.C. Department of Corrections, DEW deployed this virtual job platform to connect individuals soon to be released with employment opportunities.

This year, DEW also continued its SC Works Virtual Engagement Center launched in early 2023 to allow residents to access services available in SC Works Centers anywhere from their phone, tablet, or PC. This offering is intended to assist those who may be unable to travel to a SC Works Center or who may prefer accessing services virtually while maintaining service availability at physical SC Works Centers.

Second Chance Program

The S.C. Department of Corrections (SCDC) and DEW created the Second Chance initiative in 2014 to help returning citizens learn job skills and understand how to successfully search for a job. With this program’s support, returning citizens gain confidence, purpose, and direction, which fosters their successful employment and reduces the recidivism rate. Eligible incarcerated individuals participate in SCDC education and work programs to enhance their employability while DEW meets with participants as they near release to teach soft skills, provide opportunities to practice those skills with mock interviews, build their resumes, and develop personalized plans for employment with dedicated case management through their local SC Works center after release. In 2024, DEW partnered with Columbia SHRM, an affiliate of the Society for Human Resource Management, to provide incarcerated individuals the opportunity to complete practice interviews with local HR professional volunteers from Columbia SHRM the week prior to release. During these mock interviews, Columbia SHRM members virtually interview the participants and provide real-time feedback on their responses as well as a formal scoring report on how they did to facilitate continued practice with DEW prior to release. Since beginning the partnership in March 2024, Columbia SHRM volunteers have conducted more than 45 mock interviews with Second Chance program participants.

Weekly Job Match

This year, DEW sent 3 million messages to claimants with information about job opportunities in their area that match the claimant’s skills and experience.

GED Incentive Program

The FY21-22 General Appropriations Act included a proviso and nonrecurring appropriation of $1,500,000 to provide a $500 incentive for South Carolinians without a GED or high school diploma currently drawing unemployment benefits to complete a GED or high school diploma program. In FY23-24, an amended proviso expanded eligibility for the program to all adults nineteen or older without a high school diploma or GED and established an additional $500 incentive for GED completers that also completed a qualifying short-term occupational training. 1,568 incentives were paid to South Carolinians for completing a GED or high school diploma program in FY23-24 with 9 of those participants paid the additional incentive for short-term occupational training.

Increasing Awareness and Enhancing Coordination within South Carolina

Be Pro Be Proud

The Be Pro Be Proud program is a public-private partnership with the Associated Industries of South Carolina (AISCF) to educate high school students, parents, and nontraditional students about the high-paying and high-demand jobs available in the skilled and vocational trades as well as promoting the degree and certificate programs that lead to those jobs. To do this, Be Pro Be Proud utilizes an interactive trailer, the Workforce Workshop, to provide innovative, hands-on experiences with skilled professions through eight module simulators:

- forklift operation
- utility bucket operation
- CNC machine operation
- commercial driving
- diesel technology
- welding
- heavy equipment operation
- construction technology

Over this fiscal year, DEW worked with the AISCF to develop strategies to maximize utilization of contracts governing operation of the Workforce Workshop and streamline the scheduling process as well as prioritize schools not previously visited and counties with the least previous programmatic engagement. In FY23-24, there were a record 130 events (representing a 93% contract utilization rate) serving 12,251 visitors.

Regional Workforce Advisors

In 2023, the Statewide Education and Workforce Development Act transferred the twelve Regional Workforce

AGENCY NAME:	Department of Employment and Workforce
AGENCY CODE:	R600	SECTION:	083

Advisors, one for each of the state’s local workforce development areas, from the S.C. Department of Commerce to DEW. The goal of the Regional Workforce Advisors is to drive productive connections among educators, business, students, and parents to introduce middle and high school students to multiple careers by facilitating conversations, organizing career events, and communicating the many employment opportunities in our state. In FY23-24, DEW integrated the Regional Workforce Advisors into DEW’s Employment Services division to streamline coordination with employers so that RWAs were empowered to make a more intensive focus on the delivery of information, resources, and services to educators and students.

Support of the Youth Employment Initiative

In support of Lieutenant Governor Pamela Evette’s Youth Employment Initiative, DEW launched the Youth Employment Site (YES) at dew.sc.gov/YouthEmployment in May 2024. The Youth Employment Site includes a job board specifically advertising work opportunities for teens and resources to connect young people and their parents to local employers who can expand their options and provide the foundation for any successful career. This year DEW also joined the Lt. Governor to meet with employers who hire and train young people for their workforce and participated in other engagements highlighting the importance and benefits of youth employment for both teens and employers.

Office of Statewide Workforce Development

The Statewide Education and Workforce Development Act (Act No. 67 of 2023) created the Office of Statewide Workforce Development to support and provide oversight to efforts of the Coordinating Council for Workforce Development chaired by the DEW Executive Director. This fiscal year, the Office of Statewide Workforce Development’s primary objective was to develop the preliminary Unified State Plan for Education and Workforce Development to identify common goals and metrics, improve efficiencies, and serve as a framework to enhance coordination and streamline the state’s workforce development efforts. Meetings to develop the plan began in July 2023 and continued throughout the year to identify key issues, create an initial outline, and determine metrics, all while obtaining feedback from a multitude of stakeholders throughout the process.

These efforts resulted in the coordinating council identifying three primary focus areas to address in the Unified State Plan: awareness, skills, and obstacles. Each focus area includes clearly defined goals, strategies, and metrics that will serve as measures of progress. In addition, the plan identifies Priority Occupations and high-value credentials that reflect demand from the state’s private sector. The inaugural Unified State Plan was adopted by the Coordinating Council for Workforce Development in July 2024 and will be reviewed and revised at least annually. In FY24-25, the plan will undergo review and revision and the Metrics Baseline Committee of the Coordinating Council for Workforce Development will develop baselines for the metrics and recommendations for target values.

The Statewide Education and Workforce Development Act also directs development of an annual workforce supply gap analysis to improve the understanding of the state’s workforce needs. DEW’s Labor Market Information Division worked throughout FY23-24 on this analysis, and this product is under development entering FY24-25.

Workforce Development Month

DEW led South Carolina’s celebration of Workforce Development Month in September 2023 with DEW and its workforce system partners hosting more than 200 job fairs and events to showcase the workforce programs and resources available to jobseekers and employers. Workforce Development Month was also an important time to celebrate the state’s employers and workforce partners:

- Workforce Champion Award: Governor Henry McMaster and DEW Executive Director William Floyd presented The Boeing Company with the inaugural Workforce Champion Award. This annual award honors an employer or individual who has displayed extraordinary effort or innovation in developing and connecting students with employment opportunities in South Carolina. Boeing was selected as the honoree because of their exceptional outreach efforts in the state, including their DreamLearners program, which has reached more than 1.2 million educators, students, and community members since 2012.

AGENCY NAME:	Department of Employment and Workforce

- The SC@Work: Photo Contest: In FY22-23, DEW launched a brand-new initiative to celebrate hard work and dedication in South Carolina by showcasing pictures of “SC at work,” in which employers across the state submit their photographs featuring their employees at work. 97 employers participated in the inaugural contest. The Grand Prize was awarded to Taste Lounge of Georgetown; regional prizes were awarded to Fukoku America, Inc. (Upstate), The Therapy Place (Central), and Okatie Construction, LLC (South Coast); and the People’s Choice Winner was Pinnacle Veterinary Group. This contest returned for a second year in June 2024 with the winners to be announced at the September 2024 Workforce Development Symposium.
- Workforce Heroes: With support from DEW, the State Workforce Development Board publicly recognized twelve “Workforce Heroes” at the 2023 Workforce Symposium. These are talented individuals nominated by their Local Workforce Development Boards for their significant contributions to the workforce system. Their acts of service have greatly impacted the lives of thousands of jobseekers at SC Works centers across the state and include exceptional achievements, such as helping dislocated workers and disabled veterans find work in our most rural areas. Honorees selected by their Local Workforce Development Boards included Debra Lindsay (Catawba), Stacey McKinney (Greenville), Charles Meyers (Lowcountry), Stephanie Headrick (Lower Savannah), Mia Jones (Midlands), Wanda Joyner (Pee Dee), Ray Jackson (Santee-Lynches), Teresa Hawkins (Trident), Patricia Crawford (Upper Savannah), Kenneth Taylor (Upstate), Jared Denz (Waccamaw), Stephanie Blake (WorkLink-Anderson/Oconee/Pickens).

Unemployment Insurance Program Updates

2024 UI Tax Rates

2024 marked the eleventh year in a row without an increase in unemployment insurance tax. With a fully solvent and resilient UI Trust Fund balance, South Carolina set the 2024 tax rates to raise approximately the same level of revenue as 2023 and 2022 while lowering rates for classes 2 - 19 by an average of 6% compared to 2023 levels (classes 1 and 20 have rates set by statute). At the end of the fiscal year, the trust fund balance was $1.683 billion, a record high for the state.

Unemployment Insurance Process Improvements

- Unemployment Insurance Claimant Direct Messaging Pilot: To make it even easier for unemployment insurance claimants to track their payment status, DEW began a new direct messaging pilot in April 2024 in which claimants receive notification via text message (if opted in) or email as a confirmation that their weekly certification is being processed for payment that week. This pilot is intended to help claimants track the status of their claim and reduce call volume to maintain low wait times for other calls.
- Wage Garnishments: In FY23-24, DEW introduced improvements for employers responding to wage garnishment notices. Employers may now respond electronically, and the wage garnishment request process is also streamlined so that an employer handling garnishments for multiple employees may now make a consolidated payment covering multiple employees rather than mailing individual checks for each of those employees.
- New Relief Available for Employers with Outstanding Debts: Act No. 136 of 2024 (H. 3992) enacted a DEW legislative recommendation to provide relief for employers enrolling and adhering to the terms of an installment payment agreement with DEW to satisfy an outstanding debt. If an employer with a lien due to outstanding unemployment insurance contributions cannot afford to pay the entire debt, the employer can work with DEW on an installment agreement to pay down the debt over time and halt further collection actions on that debt so long as the employer pays as agreed. However, Section 41-31-60(B) requires assignment of the unemployment insurance tax class twenty rate, effectively 5.46%, to an employer in any quarter in which the employer has an outstanding lien for unpaid UI tax from a previous quarter. Because the employer continues to have an outstanding lien for each new quarter until the conclusion of the installment agreement the law previously required the employer to pay each of those new quarters at the tax class twenty rate. The resulting burden of paying down the debt while current tax is still being assessed at the class twenty rate made it difficult for employers to get out of debt even though they were making payments in good faith. Act 136 of 2024 amended Section 41-31-60(B) to provide an exception to allow an employer with an outstanding lien enrolled in an installment plan with DEW to satisfy the debt to pay future quarters over the course of the plan at their normally calculated rate, rather than the class twenty rate of 5.46%, as long as they adhere to the terms of the agreement (failure to pay or submit quarterly wage reports in a timely manner will result in reverting to the class twenty rate). This act is a win for the state as well as employers: it provides a strong incentive to enroll in a payment agreement, begin paying outstanding debt, and comply with the terms of the agreement while also providing needed relief to employers working in good faith to pay their debts.

AGENCY NAME:	Department of Employment and Workforce
AGENCY CODE:	R600	SECTION:	083

Employer Reporting

The Statewide Education and Workforce Development Act included new reporting requirements for employers filing quarterly wage reports: number of hours worked and Standard Occupational Classification (SOC) codes. Identifying the occupations in which South Carolinians and how much they earn in those occupations provides real-time, meaningful data about workforce supply-gaps, opportunities, and returns on investment in education and training.

To make it as easy as possible to provide SOC code information, DEW has provided self-service options as well as personal, direct assistance options for help determining and submitting SOC codes. Specifically, for help entering or submitting SOC codes, employers can reference the step-by-step guides, video tutorials, and other resources available at dew.sc.gov/employers/SOC; login to the SUITS portal at uitax.dew.sc.gov and submit an inquiry using the “Request for Information” link; or call 1-866-831-1724. For help determining the correct SOC codes for their employees, employers can use the “Occucoder,” an easy online tool at dew.sc.gov/soc-occucoder that quickly matches job titles or job descriptions with SOC Codes or use the online booking tool to schedule an appointment for help from a member of the DEW Labor Market Information team.

DEW has also assembled a team to make outbound calls to offer help to employers that have not entered SOC codes as well as those who may have entered invalid SOC codes. It is a priority that this initiative be customer-focused, with an emphasis on assistance rather than compliance. However, early compliance rates are encouraging, particularly relative to compliance rates in some other states that have opted to collect SOC codes. For the first quarter of 2024, the first quarter in which SOC codes were required, preliminary estimates were that approximately 70,000 employers (58%) entered SOC code data for all employees while another 8,000 employers reported SOC code data for at least some employees for a total of 78,000 employers (65%) that entered some SOC code data. In total, nearly 1.5 million wage records (60%) were submitted with SOC code information. However, some employers may have entered invalid or incorrect codes. To improve the data, DEW’s Labor Market Information team has partnered with the Unemployment Insurance division to complete some preliminary data validation and assist employers with corrections.

Since March 2005, electronic filing of wage reports has been required for employers reporting wages for 100 or more employees, and the vast majority of employers, even those with fewer than 100 employees, were already reporting electronically well prior to FY23-24; however, effective with the quarter ending March 31, 2024, the electronic filing requirement was extended to cover wage reports for all employers reporting wages for 10 or more employees and also include electronic filing for responses to requests for information regarding a claim for benefits. Electronic filing of responses to requests related to unemployment benefits claims is essential to timely adjudication of claims while electronic filing of wage reports is intended to help employers avoid errors, reduce duplication of previously provided information, and to make the process easier and faster overall; however, an electronic filing requirement may be waived where a hardship is shown by the employer/agent.

AGENCY NAME:	Department of Employment and Workforce
AGENCY CODE:	R600	SECTION:	083

Investment in DEW's Workforce

Employee Engagement, Recruitment, and Retention

Because engaged, experienced employees are critical to accomplishing the agency's mission, in FY23-24, DEW's Human Resources division led several efforts to ensure that DEW's HR processes are efficient and effective, employees receive appropriate training and professional development support, and leadership is attuned to the needs and concerns of its employees.

- Prioritization of ongoing site visits by DEW's Executive Director, Chief of Staff, HR Director, and senior leadership team to engage with employees outside the central office.
- Creation of new rolling 12-month dashboards for turnover and time-to-hire reporting, an overhaul of personnel forms to be more user-friendly, and improvement of the agency's time-to-hire by 26.4% from the previous year.
- Continuation of 30-day/90-day check-ins for new hires, exit surveys, and "stay surveys," interviews with a random sample of the DEW employee population monthly to track employee satisfaction and gain insight on reasons for retention and turnover. Among the 136 stay surveys completed from September 1, 2023 through August 15, 2024, employee responses to "How likely are you to recommend DEW as a great place to work?" averaged a 4.25 out of five. To this same question, 51 exit interviews conducted in the same period averaged a score of 4.23 out of five. The most common reason cited for leaving the agency remains compensation.
- Training opportunities increased with 14 new training videos created, new course offerings in Public Speaking and Effective Communication with approximately 100 completers each in FY23-24, delivery of the state Supervisory Practices course taught by the S.C. Department of Administration for all newly promoted managers, and completion of the Associate Public Manager Certification Program for 15 managers and the Certified Public Manager Certification program for 3 managers.
- Provided opportunities for participating service members to put their skills to work at DEW with continued participation in the U.S. Department of Defense SkillBridge program as an industry partner. SkillBridge is an opportunity for service members to gain valuable civilian work experience to aid the service member in finding meaningful and gainful employment after discharge through job training, employment skills training, apprenticeship, and internship opportunities during the last 180 days of military service prior to release from active duty.

RISK ASSESSMENT AND MITIGATION STRATEGIES

If DEW does not fulfill its mission to promote and support an effective, customer-driven workforce system, this could mean that jobseekers are not effectively matched with employers, that the workforce system is not responsive to industry needs, and South Carolinians may have difficulty accessing services. Because DEW is primarily federally funded, decreases in federal funding or lack of flexibility in how federal dollars are used can be a challenge. To ensure continued success in meeting the agency's goals and objectives, DEW respectfully requests that the General Assembly continue to provide adequate funding to accomplish its mission to include the funds needed to hire, recruit, and retain the staff necessary to ensure that South Carolinians receive timely, high-quality determinations, skilled assistance with job search and recruitment, and excellent customer service.
