Sole Counsel

For sitting judges seeking a judgeship different than your current position, During the five years prior to your election to the bench, what percentage of your practice was in trial court, including matters that settled prior to trial?

30% of cases five years prior to my initial election in 2019, were in trial court.

15. List five of the most significant litigated matters you have personally handled in either trial or appellate court, or before a state or federal agency. Give citations if the cases were reported and describe why these matters were significant.
- (a) State v. Joshua Allen Rosier: This case remains significant to me after guiding my client through testifying against his father in a Murder trial. Additionally, representing my client during plea negotiations and the actual plea was an opportunity to navigate through complex legal issue the for the first of many times.
 - (b) State vs. Michael Moore: This case was significant to me because it was my first time trying a DUI case alone.
 - (c) State v. Shane Rhodes: This case will remain a case that I remember forever. My client had a horrible addiction. Working this case from beginning to end was challenging. My client would pick up additional charges before we could resolve the initial charges. This made the car complex in terms of the enhancement elements of the case. Additionally, my client needed help outside of a legal realm which taught me that lawyers must be more than just legal aids to their clients.
 - (d) Branton v. Corbett: This case is significant because it was my first time trying a civil case. This case involved issues of defamation and intentional infliction of emotional distress.
 - (e) Siegler v. Siegler: This case is a family case in the beginning of my sole practitioner career that was litigated over the course of numerous years. There was extensive participation in this case. I served as Guardian ad Litem, however, it provided extensive learning opportunities. The ward in the case was suffering with undiagnosed mental illness but was fighting for the custody of her children. The case provided an opportunity to see firsthand the impact of mental illness on a marriage and the children. One of the children was diagnosed on the autism spectrum which further provided a view of challenges that the legal system must face in determining the best interests of the child.

16. List up to five civil appeals you have personally handled. Give the case name, the court, the date of decision, and the citation if the case was reported.
