

Session 109 - (1991-1992)

H 4858 Joint Resolution, By S.E. Gonzales, Bailey, R.A. Barber, D.M. Beasley, H. Brown, D.M. Bruce, C.D. Chamblee, H.H. Clyborne, Fair, J.P. Harrelson, B.H. Harwell, Haskins, D.N. Holt, Keegan, K.G. Kempe, A.C. McGinnis, D.E. McTeer, J. Rama, Rhoad, Vaughn, C.Y. Waites, C.C. Wells, Wilkes, Wilkins, J.B. Williams, D.A. Wright, R.M. Young and Young-Brickell

A Joint Resolution to ratify a proposed an amendment to the Constitution of the United States to delay the effective date of any law varying the compensation of members of the United States Senate and House of Representatives until after an intervening election of members of the House of Representatives if a court of competent jurisdiction, appropriate official, or Act of Congress determines that the prior ratification by the General Assembly of this amendment on January 19, 1790, is invalid for purposes of promulgating the amendment.

05/19/92 House Introduced and read first time HJ-38

05/19/92 House Referred to Committee on Judiciary HJ-38