(8) Experience:
Judge Coble was admitted to the South Carolina Bar in 2012.

He gave the following account of his legal experience since graduation from law school:

(a) From July 2012 to November 2012, I was a law clerk for the Fifth Judicial Circuit.

(b) From November 2012 to July 2017, I was an assistant solicitor for the Fifth Judicial Circuit. I handled a wide range of cases ranging from drug offenses and DUIs to armed robbery and kidnapping. I co-counseled three murder cases and tried several other felony and misdemeanor cases. From 2014 until 2017, I was the lead prosecutor for the Columbia Homeless Court. I also organized a committee of health care professionals to address the chronically homeless in seeking solutions for their recovery, which is called Homeless Coordination.

(c) From July 2017 until August 2021, I served as a full-time Magistrate Judge in Richland County. In this capacity, I handled both civil and criminal cases, which included bond settings, preliminary hearings, mediation, civil and criminal jury trials, transfer court, and more. In June 2018, I was appointed as the Associate Chief Judge for Richland County. As the Associate Chief Judge, I handled the majority of administrative issues at Central Court. I was appointed as the Municipal Judge for Arcadia Lakes from May 2020 to August 2021.

(d) In August 2021 I opened my own law firm. I focus on DUI defense, criminal defense generally, and civil litigation (both plaintiff and defense).

Judge Coble further reported regarding his experience with the Circuit Court practice area:

As an assistant solicitor, I spent nearly every single week in the court room handling criminal cases. In criminal court, I managed different cases from beginning to end - from bond settings, to preliminary hearings, to guilty pleas and motions, to jury trials. I tried three murder cases with co-counsel, and I also co-counseled a "castle hearing" to determine immunity from prosecution of a murder. I tried multiple other cases to verdict.

The most rewarding experience of my time as an assistant solicitor was being part of the creation of South Carolina's first Homeless Court. This partnership among prosecutors, judges, public defenders, and many more, helped folks transition out of homelessness and back into society. Because of the great work the court did, I worked with local health officials to create Homeless Coordination, which was focused on the top homeless folks in the City of Columbia. Our group coordinated together to create a list of the 20 most frequently arrested and hospitalized homeless people and to help them get off the streets and give them an opportunity to seek treatment.

As a full-time Magistrate Judge, I also handled criminal cases from beginning to end. I presided over both jury trials and bench trials for criminal court, bond settings, preliminary hearings, guilty pleas, and motions. As a Magistrate, I also handled civil matters. The ranged from civil motions, mediation, bench trials and jury trials. I have presided over dozens of full-length jury trials with attorneys on both sides. These trials require knowledge of the rules of evidence and an efficient application of those rules.

In addition to the civil experience from Magistrate Court, I have received over 30 CLE credit hours in the last year of reporting.

I have recently opened my own law firm handling both criminal and civil matters. I have experienced firsthand the stresses and responsibilities that come with owning a solo law practice and working with clients.

Whether I was presiding over a summary judgment motion, castle hearing, guilty pleas, or representing a client in court, I have come to understand that a judge might not have all the answers, but they need to be able to know where to find the answers, and do so quickly. Every day in court, I had to say no, yes, guilty, not guilty, and much more. Being decisive and making decisions that upset people is not easy, but I did that for over four years as a Magistrate.

I think it is extremely important for all judges to very knowledgeable about the court rules and also empathetic to attorneys appearing before them. One area I constantly focus on is understanding what an attorney is going through as they represent a client. I am always aware of the issues that arise with attorneys and running a law practice. This includes uncooperative clients, the family of clients, running a small business, and many other issues. By understanding and seeing the attorney's position I will be a better judge and make the system as a whole more effective and judicious.

I am extremely fortunate to have some of the most respected lawyers in our state as both close friends and mentors. They have taught me since my first day as an assistant solicitor to treat other attorneys with respect and understand where they are coming from. As a solo practice attorney, this advice and mentorship has been invaluable and will continue for the rest of my career.

(b) State v. Frankie Brown, 2012GS4001088; 10/24/13. This was my first trial as first chair. I was able to strategize about the trial and make the final decisions. The jury deliberated for several hours, but we worked out a plea deal with the defense attorney before the jury returned a verdict.
(c) State v. Adrian Lawrence, 2012GS4006014; 7/6/15. I second seated this castle hearing with the Deputy Solicitor, where the defendant was charged with murder. We were successful with the castle hearing and the defendant ultimately ended up pleading to a reduced charge.
(d) State v. Nickolas Richardson, 2013GS4006592; 10/31/16. I second seated this murder trial and gave opening statement and handled many witnesses.
(e) State v. Frank Singleton, 2013GS2800251; 3/12/14. I second seated this murder trial and gave opening statement and handled many witnesses.

I served as a full-time Magistrate Judge for Richland County from July 2017 to August 2021 and as a Municipal Judge for Arcadia Lakes from May 2020 to August 2021. Magistrates generally have jurisdiction in criminal cases that do not carry more than a $500 fine or 30 days in jail. In civil case, Magistrates are generally limited to cases not exceeding $7,500 in the amount in controversy. Municipal judges generally have jurisdiction over criminal cases that do not carry more than a $500 fine or 30 days in jail.

(a) State v. Haggins, Order 5469-2017-3 (Not Reported). The public defender filed a motion to dismiss for failure to comply with a speedy trial motion, Langford violation, and Rule 5 violation. I held a hearing and ultimately denied the motion to dismiss.

(b) State v. Andrzejewski, Order 5469-2018-3 (Not Reported). In this case, I held a castle hearing on an assault charge. I wrote an order denying immunity under the Protection of Persons and Property Act.

(c) Rodriguez v. McDaniel, Order 5469-2017-5 (Not Reported). After a civil trial, one party moved for sanctions against the other claiming that they violated ADR Rules. I denied the motion.

(d) Rowe v. Osbourne, Order 5469-2018-14 (Not Reported). After a restraining order hearing, I granted the restraining order against the defendant. The defendant moved for a new trial based on new evidence. I denied the motion for a new trial after analyzing the required factors. This order was overturned on appeal by the Circuit Court Judge.

(e) Neil v. Edelmayer, 2018CV4010600603 (Order from the bench). In this claim and delivery action, I awarded a judgment of $200 to the plaintiff.

Judge Coble further reported:

Having served nearly a decade in public service, I decided that to be the most well rounded and experienced attorney that I needed to open my own law practice. While it is intimidating and tough to give up such a great job as being a magistrate, I want to understand all aspects and views when I enter the courtroom and learn as much as I can about being a practicing attorney. I believe it is important for judges to see all sides and have experience representing all sides of the courtroom.

But what I believe is most important, more important than knowing the rules or the law, is the character and temperament of a judge. This means having empathy for attorneys who appear before you. I am fortunate to have some of the best and most experienced mentors surrounding me, and they taught me from the first day not to forget what it's like to be on the other side of the bench and how quickly a judge can develop "robitis." Many attorneys are in a solo firm, which means not only do they have to deal with the law and its application, but also with running a small business. I believe a judge should always be mindful of that, and I have. One year after my appointment, I was promoted to the Associate Chief Judge for Richland County in the summer of 2018. This means that I handle a majority of the administrative duties for our Central Court. And I am personally in charge of every single continuance request that comes through Central Court. Whether it is law enforcement, attorneys, solicitors, or anyone else, I have to decide whether to continue the case or deny the continuance request. Before COVID-19, I received continuance requests on a daily basis and I saw firsthand many of the issues that arise for private attorneys that can prevent them from making a court appearance. Handling continuances, legal issues, and other administrative issues that arise can often times be more difficult and time consuming than presiding over actual court cases. But a judge needs to be able to do both in order to run an efficient and competent court system.

After serving nearly a decade in public service, I wanted to broaden my experience as an attorney. I have decided to open my own law firm and focus on DUI defense, criminal defense, and civil litigation. I believe seeing all perspectives of the courtroom will give me an invaluable experience and make me a better attorney and hopefully a better judge if I am honored to serve again.

It is an honor and privilege to serve as a Magistrate Judge, and I am humbled to be considered for a Circuit Court Judgeship.

Judge McCulloch further reported regarding her experience with the Circuit Court practice area:

The experiences I will be describing are from 1992 to 1998, the five (5) year time frame before I began serving as Probate Judge in January of 1999.

During my time serving as an Assistant Solicitor, in addition to handling my own caseload of approximately 200 to 300 cases, I managed a team of lawyers that were responsible for a rotational trial docket. Each solicitor was responsible for his or her cases from the beginning of the investigation through the ultimate plea, trial, or dismissal. I was on rotational call for local law enforcement for warrant approval and bond hearings in an innovative twenty-four (24) hour a day program called Early Legal Assistance to law enforcement. I monitored and was responsible for discovery, communication with the arresting agency and officers, and communication with victims and other agencies. As a team leader, I was responsible for weekly discussions of cases, preparation of plea negotiations and ultimately trial preparation which included witness preparation, issuing subpoenas, preparing appropriate motions, and review of evidence. I prosecuted a range of cases including driving under the influence, burglary, criminal sexual conduct, drug distribution, kidnapping, and murder.

During my time in private practice, I handled the daily administrative duties of the office, which included personnel and payroll, client billing, monthly reconciliation of all accounts, payments and deposits, retainer agreements, and client meetings. In civil cases, I responded to and reviewed discovery, prepared pleadings and motions, participated in depositions and mediations, settled and distributed proceeds, attended pretrial hearings, and sat as co-counsel at hearings. In criminal cases, I met with clients, reviewed discovery, negotiated pleas, attended preliminary hearings, and sat as co-counsel at hearings.

Judge McCulloch reported the frequency of her court appearances prior to her service on the bench as follows:

(a)	Federal:	In in the period of 1997-1998, I was involved in one federal civil case that was resolved in preliminary motions. I was co-counsel with Hugh Roberts at the time.
(b)	State:	General Sessions from 1993 to 1996 (Solicitor's Office) daily/weekly

Family Court from 1993 to 1996 (Solicitor's Office) at least monthly or quarterly
Magistrates Court from 1993 -1996 (Solicitor's Office) at least weekly or monthly
Circuit Court from 1997-1998 (private practice) monthly
General Sessions from 1997-1998 (private practice) monthly
Magistrates Court from 1997-1998 (private practice) monthly
Family Court from 1997-1998 (private practice) approximately six (6) times total

In the five years prior to her election as Probate Judge, Judge McCulloch reported the percentage of her practice involving civil, criminal, domestic and other matters prior to her service on the bench as follows:

(a) civil: none from 1993 to 1996, fifty (50%) percent during 1997-1998
(b) criminal: one-hundred (100%) percent from 1993 to 1996, approximately 20% of those criminal cases were prosecuting juvenile cases in Family Court; twenty (20%) percent during 1997-1998
(c) domestic: none from 1993-1996, ten (10%) percent during 1997-1998
(d) other: office management of law firm from 1997-1998, twenty (20%) percent

Judge McCulloch reported the percentage of her practice in trial court prior to her service on the bench as follows:

(a) Jury: During my time in the Solicitor's office approximately forty (40%) percent of my cases went to trial before a jury. During my time in private practice, I was second chair in several civil cases with the majority reaching disposition through settlement.
(b) Non-jury: I was involved in a few matters that were non-jury in Magistrates Court, five to ten (5-10%) percent of juvenile criminal matters in Family Court while in the Solicitor's office, and approximately six domestic matters in Family Court while in private practice.

Judge McCulloch provided that during the past five years prior to her service on the bench she most often served as co-counsel or chief counsel.

The following is Judge McCulloch's account of her five most significant litigated matters:

(a) While serving as an Assistant Solicitor, a Defendant was charged with kidnapping and criminal sexual conduct, 1st degree. I was the assigned prosecutor on the case and took it from the investigation stage through its dismissal. It was significant because the facts of the case were traumatic and the outcome taught me many things. A 14-year-old girl at an all-night church "lock-in" event snuck out with another to find cigarettes. She was abducted and sexually assaulted by three individuals. I had a significant level of involvement with the Investigator, the victim and the witnesses. The defendant was identified through a drawing and BOLO. The similarity of appearance was striking. The victim and witness picked him out of a photo line-up. The Defendant remained in jail and Defendant's grandfather and main paternal figure came to every court hearing and dropped by the Solicitor's office frequently to ask about the progress of the case. At every meeting, he told me that the charges against his grandson would be dismissed. It was a DNA case and ultimately the DNA testing returned that the Defendant was not a match. I remember the powerful impact of explaining the outcome to the victim and her family. I dismissed the charges against the Defendant and remember the grandfather's relief. The process and outcome of the case was a significant experience for me and reinforced my commitment to follow the evidence and the responsibility and importance of prosecutorial objectivity.

(b) While serving as an Assistant Solicitor, I prosecuted a man for kidnapping and criminal sexual conduct, 1st degree. The case was significant for several reasons. The victim was a young female and while working extra hours over the weekend at a law firm where she was an assistant, she was held against her will and sexually assaulted by the man that the law firm had hired to maintain the yard. She was extremely frightened and did not want to testify. The accused asserted the defense of consent. While the facts and evidence fully supported her assault, convincing her to testify and supporting her through her testimony and the trail was challenging on many levels. The accused was found guilty. From this case, I learned many things, including that it takes great strength and commitment to go thought such an emotionally demanding trial. I also learned that I had the strength and compassion to support the victim thought the process and the to find justice for the victim and society.

(c) While serving as an Assistant Solicitor, I was responsible for prosecuting a grandfather for criminal sexual conduct with a minor granddaughter. The evidence was strong to convict with medical evidence and eyewitness testimony of events. The family dynamic was such that the grandparents, including the defendant grandfather, were the custodial guardians for the minor. The case was significant because the defendant was found to lack capacity and therefore, could not be tried for the matter. I participated in the defendant's judicial commitment, as is required. His commitment resulted in his temporary placement in an inpatient facility and then his release back to his home, where again the child was living. I felt compelled and responsible to follow up with this matter with the Department of Social Services and Family Court in an effort to provide protections for minor. In the end, I felt the systems were not in place to provide adequate support.

(d) While in private practice, I represented a husband in a simple and uncontested divorce proceeding. The wife did not appear for the hearing and there were no assets to divide. At the hearing to have the final order issued, I appeared with my client. The Family Court judge called me to the bench and privately explained that I had failed to plead a significant part of my ask and I would need to amend my pleadings and re-appear at a later date. I was mortified not only to have made such an error, but also to have made such an error before a judge I greatly respected. Of course, my primary concern was for my client and that I had potentially disappointed him. The judge graciously allowed me to explain the situation to my client and did not embarrass me in front of him. I left the bench and told my client that I had made a mistake and would have to correct it before he would be granted his divorce. I returned his fee and finished the matter for free. From this experience, I saw through new eyes the power and influence of a judge and I will be forever impacted by her compassion and willingness to use the situation as a teaching experience.

(e) While in private practice, I was co-counsel on a very contentious and lengthy Family Court divorce matter that involved allegations of adultery, a dispute over custody of several children, and asset value and distribution. I am sure for attorneys that practice primarily in this area, the case would not have been so controversial but for me, it was my first experience with the regular and intense communications from my client and opposing counsel arguing almost daily on the regular decisions couples must make about their status and their children. At what I thought was the final divorce hearing where my client would predictably receive an award of support and custody, opposing counsel presented evidence for the first time, which was only that day provided by his client that changed everything. On top of the emotionality of the case, it was the requirement to change and pivot and renegotiate the case at the last moment that stayed with me.

Judge McCulloch reported she has not personally handled any civil or criminal appeals.

Judge McCulloch reported that she has held the following judicial office(s):
Richland County Probate Judge – 1999 through the present - elected
The Probate Court has jurisdiction for all estate matters, the appointment and oversight of guardianships for incapacitated adults, the appointment and oversight of conservatorships for incapacitated adults and minors, approval of minor settlements under $25,000.00, approval of wrongful death and survivor settlements prior to filing, trust and estate litigation, litigation involving powers of attorney, commitments for emergency mental health treatment and chemical dependency treatment, non-emergency judicial commitments, and the issuance of marriage licenses.

Judge McCulloch provided the following list of her most significant orders or opinions:

(a) In re Est. of Kay, 423 S.C. 476, 816 S.E.2d 542 (2018). This case was an appeal from the Laurens County Probate Court under estate file number 2007-ES-30-208, an appeal of the decision by The Honorable Frank R. Addy, 2012-CP-30-258, an appeal of South Carolina Court of Appeals decision 2016-5414, and before the Supreme Court of South Carolina, 2016-002337. I was invited by the South Carolina Supreme Court to sit as a substitute justice for this Supreme Court argument. It involved many different aspects of probate administration of an estate complicated by real estate issues; heirs in disagreement; and a question of appropriate attorney fees and personal representative commission. It was a significant experience and a humbling opportunity.

(b) In the Matter of Carter, 2002. I presided over the first and, so far, only jury trial in the Richland County Probate Court. Under South Carolina law, parties typically litigate without a jury but may request a jury trial in the Probate Court or the Court of Common Pleas upon removal. Although it was technically a Will challenge case, it was very complex and complicated by a multitude of variables. The case involved issues of race, class, capacity, abuse and neglect, and criminal charges. The litigants conducted their respective arguments, aggressively presenting issues for me as presiding judge. At every turn, there was a challenging legal issue about evidence admission, testimony, and courtroom conduct. After a week of trial and testimony, the jury returned their emotional verdict at midnight on Friday. The case reverberated for years.

(c) In the matter of the Estate of Julius Clarence Dreher, Jr. estate number 1997-ES-40-880, appellate review citation

Dreher v. Dreher, 370 S.C. 75, 634 S.E. 2d 646 (2006). This case required the interpretation and application of the elective share statute and a revocable inter vivos trust. My order, attached as one of my writing submissions, held that while the spouse is entitled to her elective share claim, the assets of the trust, left primarily to the decedent's children who were not the children of the surviving spouse, should not be included in the calculation of the elective share amount. I also found the statute regarding elective share to be unconstitutional. The Supreme Court of South Carolina later reversed my interpretation of the elective share statute at that time. The statute has since been amended.

(d) In the Matter of Dhillon, 2014. This was a very legally complex case that also involved a myriad of family and geographic complications. It required determinations of intestate heirs, common law spouse and elective share claims. Factually, two women claimed to be the decedent's wife. One woman claimed to be his wife from an alleged marriage in India who had a child with the decedent. Another woman claimed to be his common law spouse in South Carolina who had two children with the decedent. The case involved contradictory legal, religious, cultural, and family issues. The conflicting testimony from the decedent's parents and the women who believed they were married to the decedent were emotionally and legally demanding. The order in this case is included as my second writing submission.

(e) In the Matter of Sumter, 2002. The main question of disputed rights of inheritance was "Is he the Decedent's brother or is he the Decedent's son?" This matter was extremely interesting because it required extensive review of family records, court documents, the United States census, a very broken family tree, and a mildewed family Bible, and genealogical tracking back to the 1930's. This case was a sociological powerful study of how families changed names and relationships to save reputations to survive, about how children were raised in rural areas in the 1950's, and how secrets were kept and documented. The file should become a book.

Judge McCulloch reported the following regarding her employment while serving as a judge:

(a) I taught group fitness classes at Columbia Athletic Club, Gold's Gym and MUV fitness from 1999 through 2019. I was considered hourly and my supervisor was Lisa Dye.

(b) In the summer of 2011, I taught a class on probate, trusts, and estates as an adjunct Professor for Midlands Technical College, Paralegal Program. I was considered part time. My supervisor was Bill McSorley.

Judge McCulloch provided that she was a member of the following civic, charitable, educational, social, or fraternal organizations:
(a) Midlands Technical College, Paralegal Advisory Board
(b) Girls Scouts – Women of Distinction 2017

Judge McCulloch further reported:
Growing up and attending public schools in Richland County has enabled me to be sensitive to the issues and concerns faced by many in the community. While I have been fortunate in my life, I have also experienced the impact of my parents' divorce, abuse by a stepparent, financial struggles, family members struggling with addiction and mental health issues, and complicated family relationships. I know how those events can affect the choices we make and I know the impact the judicial system can have upon an individual's life. As a result, I will obey the Judge's Oath by listening courteously and impartially and will decide the matters before me with fairness and civility and rule only after careful and considerate deliberation.

He gave the following account of his legal experience since graduation from law school:

(a) 1999-2000 I was hired as a law clerk to A. Victor Rawl, Circuit Court Judge in Charleston, SC. My duties included assisting Judge Rawl with both criminal and civil matters throughout South Carolina.

(b) 2000-2005 I was hired at the Charleston County Public Defender's Office. I was an assistant public defender for five years and promoted to senior trial attorney. I handled all levels of criminal cases.

(c) 2005-2008 I joined the newly formed Georgia Capital Defender Office in Atlanta where I handled trial level capital cases throughout the state of Georgia.

(d) 2008-2017 I returned to South Carolina to help form the Capital Trial Division for the South Carolina Commission on Indigent Defense. I was initially hired as the Deputy Attorney of the office.

(e) 2017-Present I have served as the Chief Attorney of the Capital Trial Division. I supervise two other attorneys, a paralegal, and numerous interns and externs. (a) Federal: None
(b) State: Monthly

Mr. Young reported the percentage of his practice involving civil, criminal, domestic and other matters during the past five years as follows:

(a) Civil: 1%;
(b) Criminal: 97%
(c) Domestic: 1%
(d) Other: 1%

Mr. Young reported the percentage of his practice in trial court during the past five years as follows:

(a) Jury: 50%
(b) Non-jury: 50%

Mr. Young provided that during the past five years he most often served as chief counsel.

The following is Mr. Young's account of his five most significant litigated matters:

(a) State v. Timothy R. Jones, Jr. This was a death penalty trial in Lexington, SC in 2019. The case is currently pending in the South Carolina Supreme Court for direct review. This was the longest, most complicated death penalty case in recent history. This case was significant for a multitude of reasons, but I think it was an important example of how our mental health facilities and social institutions fail to protect our most vulnerable citizens. While there were several open Department of Social Services investigations, Mr. Jones continued to spiral out of control and it eventually resulted in the killing of five innocent children. I was lead counsel for Mr. Jones. The trial was tremendously impactful on me, both as a person and a lawyer.

(b) Kenneth Simmons v. State, 416 S.C. 584, 788 s.E.2d 220 (2016). A Post Conviction Relief case in which I became involved based on my knowledge and experience with DNA evidence. My representation at Mr. Simmons' PCR resulted in a reversal of his conviction, and ultimately Mr. Simmons pleaded guilty for a reduced sentence. The Solicitor in the case had presented false DNA results implicating Mr. Simmons. The case demonstrates the necessity of attorneys and judges being well educated on the forensic issues that impact jury trials.

(c) State v. Todd Kohlhepp. A 2017 case involving a serial killer from Spartanburg. Mr. Kohlhepp was charged with seven murders and the kidnapping and sexual assault of a woman found chained in a storage container on his property. This case demonstrated that early and adequate representation for the accused leads to better outcomes for all involved. Because of my early involvement I was able to ensure that all of Mr. Kohlhepp's personal property went into receivership, resulting in the victims' ability to recover, monetarily, some small part of their losses. Through the early cooperation of Mr. Kohlhepp, and with the consent of the victims, we were able to negotiate life without parole sentences for Mr. Kohlhepp - saving the State significant expense and the victims the emotional impact of a long, drawn out process. I was lead counsel for Mr. Kohlhepp.

(d) State v. Crystal Johnson. A murder case out of Spartanburg in 2016. Ms. Johnson was already in prison serving a sentence for child neglect when the Sheriff identified her as a suspect in a double murder that occurred several years prior. The State's intention to seek the death penalty was announced at a press conference. Once warrants were drafted I was able to get involved and conduct a thorough investigation. I was able to prove that Ms. Johnson was not involved in the murders. Additionally, I was able to uncover the identity of the actual murderer which I forwarded to the Solicitor's Office. This case is important to show why a thorough investigation is necessary, how devastating a rush to judgement can be, and why attention to detail is crucial in the administration of justice.

(e) State v. John Edward Weik. This was a 2016 death penalty retrial in Dorchester County. Mr. Weik was tried, convicted, and given the death penalty. His sentence was affirmed in 2004. The PCR Judge found that his counsel was deficient for failing to investigate and present Mr. Weik's extensive mental health history to the jury. Weik v. State, 409 S.C. 214, S.E.2d 757 (2014). I was able to provide the Solicitor with proof that Mr. Weik was schizophrenic. He then received an offer to plead to life without parole which he accepted. The case is significant because it demonstrates the value of the appointment of qualified counsel in complicated cases to avoid costly retrials.

Mr. Young reported he has not personally handled any civil or criminal appeals.

Mr. Young further reported the following regarding unsuccessful candidacies:
In 2020 I was screened as a candidate for Circuit Court, At Large, Seat 12. I was found to be well qualified but was not selected as a final candidate by the Committee.

(9) Judicial Temperament:

The Committee noted: "Excellent criminal experience! Very little civil experience- is willing to come up to speed on civil."

Mr. Young is married to Laura W. Young. He has two children.

Mr. Young reported that he was a member of the following Bar and professional associations:

(a) South Carolina Association of Criminal Defense Lawyers - Member
(b) National Association of Criminal Defense Lawyers – Capital Trial Committee – Co-chair
(c) South Carolina Public Defender Association – Board Member
(d) Richland County Bar Association - Member

Mr. Young provided that he was a member of the following civic, charitable, educational, social, or fraternal organizations:

(a) Recognized by the Red Cross as a Platelet Donor
(b) I run an annual charity yard sale at my house to support children with an incarcerated parent at Christmas.
(c) My wife worked with Achieve Columbia – a group dedicated to providing support services to at risk youth in local schools – which resulted in us getting an educational guardianship for a minor and having her live with us for her last two years of High School, there was a recognition by Achieve Columbia.

Mr. Young further reported:

I had the great fortune of clerking for a Judge that was respected by all parties that came before him. He taught me how to maintain poise even when others could not, the value of always being prepared, and treating others with dignity and respect no matter the circumstances. I have spent my career as a trial lawyer in courtrooms across South Carolina applying these lessons. I have appeared in front of great jurists, and some not so great, but we have always managed to get along and get the work done. I have managed some of the most complex cases in South Carolina and maintained a case budget that saves the citizens of South Carolina money. At the same time, I have maintained good relationships with not only opposing counsel, but also with many of the victims in cases that I was defending. If selected, I will make a good addition to the South Carolina Judiciary.

(c) Chief Public Defender for Greenwood and Abbeville Counties
February, 1998 – June, 1999

- Responsible for defending clients charged in general sessions as well as juvenile court. Oversaw operation of office and defended all manner of criminal cases.

- Upon the retirement of Greenwood's Clerk and per state law, I assumed the role of acting clerk of court until the Governor made an appointment. - Court of general, state-wide jurisdiction except as to domestic or probate matters. The Court addresses all manner of civil and criminal cases.

Judge Addy provided the following list of his most significant orders or opinions:

(a) State v. Karlita Phillips, 2014-GS-01-212, 213, affirmed 2017-UP-469 This homicide case was strange in that the State alleged Phillips seduced a young adult and convinced him to murder her husband, yet he ultimately shot the twin 7 brother of the intended victim, mistaking him for Phillips' husband. Preliminarily, much of the State's case relied upon statements by the non-testifying shooter given to third persons which provided motive and implicated Phillips, but ultimately the shooter did testify at trial. Ms. Phillips was convicted and the conviction was affirmed. Interestingly, the events of this homicide were recounted in an episode of the TV series "Deadly Divorce."

(b) Rose v. SCDPPP, 429 S.C. 136, 838 S.E.2d 505 (2020). Although not earth-shaking from a legal point of view, I am very proud of my work in this case and the role I played in Mr. Rose ultimately getting his case heard. By way of background, Mr. Rose went up for parole in 2001. Due to the Parole Board's erroneous understanding of the law, PPP concluded that he did not receive sufficient votes to be granted parole. See State v. Barton, 404 S.C. 395, 745 S.E.2d 110 (2013). Throughout the subsequent years, Mr. Rose sought relief from the circuit courts and the ALJ, and every time he was denied a substantive hearing or any relief. In short, no court would listen to him. Ultimately, one of his petitions was docketed for a CPNJ term over which I was presiding. Although I realized that he was required to pursue his action through the ALJ, I ordered that PPP conduct an investigation in to the results of the 2001 parole hearing and recommended that the ALJ hold a formal hearing on his petition. Ultimately, the ALJ concluded that Mr. Rose was correct, that he had received the requisite number of votes in 2001, and that he should have been paroled that year. The South Carolina Supreme Court ultimately affirmed the ALJ, and Justice Kittredge had some very kind things to say about my appreciating the catch-22 in which Mr. Rose found himself. In my mind, this case is an example of how important it is for a judge to actively listen to all litigants, especially the pro se, and the obligation of judges to make sure that a party is not continually and dismissively shuffled from forum to forum in search of relief. After the Supreme Court's ruling, Mr. Rose was ultimately released from SCDC 19 years after he had been granted parole.

(c) State v. Andrew Lee Harrison, 402 S.C. 288, 741 S.E.2d 727 (2013). Mr. Harrison was found guilty of leaving the scene of an accident involving death, and a substantial sentence was imposed. Counsel for Harrison argued that the penalty provisions of Section 56-5-1210 were unconstitutional under the Eighth Amendment, and I disagreed. On appeal and citing recent statistical evidence, the Supreme Court affirmed finding no Eighth Amendment violation and that the penalty provisions of the statute granted broad discretion under the Eighth Amendment. In commenting on my statements at sentencing, the Supreme Court stated that the court's "statements at sentencing are the very embodiment of proportionality…." The case also served to outline the appropriate procedure for a trial court when faced with statistical, intrajurisdictional comparisons between sentencing statutes.

(d) State v. Damien L. Ritter, 2019-GS-32-2887 to 2893. This was a case I recently tried in June, 2021. Mr. Ritter was charged with the execution slayings of two persons and the attempted murder of a third. In the preceding two years, I addressed numerous motions, including multiple hearings under Franks v. Delaware, 438 U.S. 154 (1978). Although the pandemic delayed trial, at the request of the parties, I retained jurisdiction so that a judge familiar with the case could also preside at trial. Because the State intended to call 50 witnesses, we started early and broke late each day, finishing the substantive part of the case in 5 days. Mr. Ritter was ultimately convicted on all counts. Everyone's efforts on this case shows how a case can move expeditiously and efficiently yet still afford every protection of a defendant's rights, and it also demonstrates the importance of judges willingly assuming individual responsibility for resolving the most difficult cases.

(e) Young v. Keel, 431 S.C. 554, 848 S.E.2d 67 (Ct. App. 2020) This case presented the novel question of whether a person who has had his conviction expunged under the YOA Act for an offense requiring sex offender registry must still register as a sex offender. In construing the applicable statutes strictly and literally, I ruled that sex offender registry was still required, finding that none of the explicit statutory provisions for removal from the registry were met. Although the result is counterintuitive, the issue in this case demonstrates the importance of our courts giving due deference and effect to the decisions of the General Assembly and the importance of judges applying the law as written. The Court of Appeals affirmed my ruling.

Judge Addy provided that he was a member of the following civic, charitable, educational, social, or fraternal organizations:

(a) Greenwood Masonic Lodge AFM #91 (since 1998)

(b) Links at Stoney Point (social and pool membership)
(c) (c)Greenwood Country Club (social, pool, and tennis membership)
(d) Greenwood Cotillion Club
(e) Rotary Club of Greenwood (since 2018)
(f) 2003 Executive of the Year, Emerald Chapter, IAAP

Judge Addy further reported:

I remain honored to have been entrusted with this responsibility for the last 11 years. Although many judges command obedience, respect has to be earned, and having earned the respect of the bench and bar is truly my greatest accomplishment.

In my time on the bench, I have tried every case imaginable, from minor car wrecks to medical malpractice, from larceny to murder, and every case I have tried or handled contains one constant: I have endeavored to treat those appearing before me with the utmost respect. The average citizen may appear in court only once in their life, and they are in court because something bad has happened to them. Accordingly, a judge must treat each case as the most important case they are handling because, to any individual member of the public, their case is exactly that. I take genuine pride in my reputation for patience, deliberation, and courtesy, and I shall endeavor to continue to exhibit those qualities while serving the people of our state. When I last sought reelection, I wrote: "At its core, the justice system is nothing more than a means of resolving disputes – judges are merely problem solvers." At the time I wrote this, no one anticipated the pandemic which dramatically affected all of us and especially our court system. In the last 16 months, through innovation, creativity, and hard work, we learned how to solve problems, adjust operations, and continue to provide a forum for resolution of disputes in our state.

For the last 2 years, I served as Chief Administrative Judge (Criminal) in the 11th Circuit, and because of the hard work of all stakeholders, the 11th Circuit was one of the first circuits to transition to videoconferencing. By doing so, we prevented the backlog of cases in the 11th from growing as dramatically as compared against other circuits. Significantly, many of the changes forced upon us during the pandemic should become permanent, such as remote video court for non-dispositive criminal matters, settlement hearings, and practically any hearing which does not require a jury. Simply stated, the pandemic forced us to become more efficient and to abandon many of our arguably anachronistic court rituals; in doing so, doing justice became more accessible, affordable, and efficient. These changes have been beneficial to all concerned and should continue.

This job is not for the faint of heart, and the obligations of our judiciary should not be entrusted in those who fail to appreciate the requisite level of dedication, demeanor, and diligence required of a judge. Having served as a judge in one capacity or another for the last 22 years, I remain honored and humbled to serve our citizens and to do so with a full appreciation of the rigors of this job, and I sincerely appreciate the trust shown to me by the members of the General Assembly.

Judge Gravely further reported:

As an attorney, I practiced law in many different areas, including criminal, civil and probate and handled matters in Magistrate's Court, Municipal Court, Federal Court, Probate Court, General Sessions, Common Pleas and various regulatory agencies. I represented individuals, businesses, Plaintiffs, Defendants, Government agencies and served as a part-time prosecutor in Municipal Court. I also served as a Municipal Judge (obviously not at the same time as serving as prosecutor.) My vast experience in many different areas of the law has helped prepare me for being a Circuit Judge. Because of these experiences, I am aware of the challenges presented by the Court system and the obstacles that parties and their attorneys must overcome to get their cases heard.

During the COVID Pandemic over the past 17 months, a portion of which I served as the Chief Administrative Judge for Civil for the Thirteenth Circuit, I have worked closely with the clerks' offices in Greenville and Pickens Counties to conduct hearings and address scheduling issues. Through our team effort and hard work, these counties are well positioned to move forward after the pandemic and have remained current on most civil matters involving Motions and Non-Jury hearings. Because of the numerous WebEx hearings held, Court Administration selected me to conduct a pilot program for the Virtual Courtroom which allowed the public to view Court proceedings and make it easier to schedule hearings. This procedure was ultimately adopted by the South Carolina Court Administration for the entire state. The Virtual Courtroom has been a great benefit for handling most matters before the Court.

As a Judge, I was appointed to handle the "Polar Express" State Grand Jury case involving a meth conspiracy throughout the upstate and at the time was the largest ever State Grand Jury case with 65 defendants. The Chief Justice has also appointed me to handle all South Carolina Opioid Litigation consisting of 46 different cases throughout the state and will be pending for many years to come. Both of these matters have provided me with invaluable experience in handling complex matters and quite frankly has made me a better judge.

My involvement in the community, as a Judge and lawyer, has allowed me to stay grounded even as I sit on the "lofty" bench and the experiences have helped me empathize with parties and the struggles they have to deal with on a daily basis.

One of my primary principles as a judge is to treat every party, lawyer, witness and Courtroom staff with respect and allow all parties the opportunity to be heard. It is important to give every party the opportunity to have a fair and impartial hearing on their cases regardless of his or her position or status in life. I believe that throughout my judicial career, I have followed these principles.

Judge McKinnon further reported:

I previously served as a Deacon and as a Ruling Elder at Westminster Presbyterian Church in Rock Hill, and expect to rotate back on to the Session (elder board) this year. My job as a deacon was "emergency care" of congregational members. I spent a lot of time assisting, counseling, and praying with people struggling with some very difficult circumstances. I do think this experience changed me. I think that as a result of this work, I am more able to put myself in the shoes of litigants, victims, and defendants. Additionally, I have significant experience with students, having been a teacher and volunteer with the youth group at my church, experience which has given me significant insight into how youth are impacted by difficult family situations.

Finally, I think my wide range of prior experience helps me be more effective as a judge. I have worked at a firm with over 300 lawyers in one office, and also been a solo practitioner. I've appeared in Magistrate's Court a few times, and filed cert petitions with the US Supreme Court. I've been a law clerk in a trial court and an appellate court. I've argued about every type of motion that exists. I both defended criminal clients and served as an assistant solicitor. I think this breadth of experience helps me better relate to, and work with, all of the various lawyers we have in the Sixteenth Circuit and our state, as well as the members of the public who come before me as litigants or defendants.

Divorce. I have extensive experience in divorce cases. Since I left the Ninth Judicial Circuit Solicitor's Office and joined Steinberg Law Firm, I developed and have grown an extensive family law practice. I have argued and defended hundreds of motions in front of judges to include emergency motions, expedited motions, motions to compel, motions to quash, and other motions that arose prior to the hearing on the merits. I have resolved numerous divorces through agreement or contested trials. On several occasions, I have effectuated service on hard to locate defendants and if required, service through orders of publication. Finally, I have represented several clients either in separate support and maintenance actions and property settlement agreements.

Equitable Division of Property. As part of the divorces described above, numerous clients possessed substantial real and personal property and investment accounts. I have actively engaged in the discovery process, to include subpoenas, depositions, and written discovery, to get a clear picture of the adverse party's' financial position to properly advise my client. I have also responded to the same request from the opposing party. I have drafted quit claim deeds, qualified domestic relations orders, and other transfer of ownership documents upon agreement or decision by judges to effectuate the equitable division of property. Further, I have drafted numerous orders dividing military spousal benefits.

Child custody. A substantial number of child custody issues arise during the divorce process above. On several occasions' pleadings addressed such allegations of habitual drunkenness, physical cruelty, and other areas of unfitness as a parent. On most occasions, my clients received either sole custody or primary custody of their child(ren). On occasions, although my clients were not awarded custody by the court initially, this changed either prior to or at the merits hearing.

Further, I have represented single mothers, as well as, non-custodial fathers. Representation of single mothers arose in situations where the non-custodial father would not return the child or a prior agreement between the parties was no longer applicable, such as the other party engaging in excessive alcohol or drug use. For non-custodial fathers, I have sought either custody of their minor child or visitation rights. This usually has occurred when the custodial mother, although allowing visitation before, suddenly stopped visitation.

Adoption. I have handled several termination of parental rights (TPR) cases followed by the adoption of the minor child(ren). My representation included contested and non-contested cases. On occasions I have defended TPR cases with, if successful, had a follow-on request for adoption. These cases were either privately brought or brought by the Department of Social Services. At the time of this submission, I have three (3) TPR/adoption cases pending.

Abuse and Neglect. For abuse and neglect, I previously was a contract attorney with the Department of Social Services. I handled abuse and neglect cases through Berkeley County at the Probable Cause Hearing, First Call Merits Hearing, Merits Hearing, Intervention Hearings, and Permeancy Planning Hearing, either by agreement or contested. I worked extensively with the case workers in the preparation of the case and advised the caseworkers during the investigation.

While in private practice, I have defended numerous clients in actions brought by the Department of Social Services. As above, all stages of a DSS cases were handled (Probable Cause Hearing, First Call Merits Hearing, Merits Hearing, Intervention Hearings, and Permeancy Planning Hearing). Further, I have attended numerous settlement conferences, and foster care review board meetings at local DSS offices and represented numerous clients subject to a DSS safety plan.

Juvenile Justice. When I was with the Solicitors Office Ninth Judicial Circuit, I prosecuted juvenile cases to include all status offenses and non-status offenses. When I entered private practice, I continued to practice juvenile justice but on the defense side.

I have represented juveniles on status offenses and non-status offense, to include armed robbery, burglary, criminal sexual conduct, truancy, incorrigible and runaway, to name a few.

Representation included appearances at detention hearings, adjudications hearings and disposition hearings. On several occasions, I have represented juveniles at probation revocation hearings.
Other: I also represent clients in cases against the South Carolina Department of Social Services (child support enforcement division), child support modifications, child support arrears cases, and request for child support cases. I also have represented clients on rule to show cause cases. I have pursued and defended rule to show cause matters.

The frequency of my appearance before a family court judge is significant with my case load being eighty-five percent (85%) family law. I routinely appear in Charleston County, Berkeley County, and Dorchester County, with occasional appearances outside of the tri-county area. Prior to COVID-19 on average, I appeared in Family Court ten (10) to fifteen (15) times per month, if not more.

Judge Murphy reported the frequency of his court appearances prior to his service on the bench as follows:
(a) federal: 5% (Administrative Hearings)
(b) state: 95%

Judge Murphy reported the percentage of his practice involving civil, criminal, domestic and other matters prior to his service on the bench as follows:
(a) civil: 5%
(b) criminal: 5% (Juvenile Proceedings in Family Court)
(c) domestic: 85%
(d) other: 5%

Judge Murphy reported the percentage of his practice in trial court prior to his service on the bench as follows:
(a) jury: 0%
(b) non-jury: 100%

Judge Murphy provided that during the past five years prior to his service on the bench he most often served as sole counsel.

The following is Judge Murphy's account of his five most significant litigated matters:

(a) Buchwalter case. The Buchwalter case is a fault-ground divorce and child custody case. The case started on an emergency basis as the wife was in the process of relocating the minor children to Georgia. Once notified that she would be leaving as evidenced by her packing the car with her and the children's belongings, faced with extreme time constraints, an ex-parte order was requested and granted preventing the wife from removing the children from South Carolina. Further, the ex-parte order granted my client temporary custody of the minor children to include a non-biological child. At the time of service of the pleadings and ex-parte order, the wife had the children in the car packed up and was in the process of leaving for Georgia. We successfully stopped her relocation of the children to the State of Georgia, and received ex-parte custody of the children. This began as a highly contested case with numerous parties involved, to include opposing counsel, guardian ad litem and biological father of my client's stepdaughter. The matter ended by agreement with my client retaining custody of all children, to include his stepdaughter under the de facto custodian principle. This matter arose after my redeployment from Kosovo and was my first contested action upon reentering private practice after a year-long overseas deployment.

(b) Gage case. The Gage case involved child custody. The parties were not married so initial custody resided with the natural mother. I have represented Mr. Gage on several occasions during the years 2014 to 2020. In 2014, I represented Mr. Gage in the pursuit of visitation rights. I was successful but the case ended in a dismissal as both parties did not appear at the Final Hearing. Fast forward several years with Mr. Gage making substantial positive changes in his life. We filed an action requesting sole custody of the minor child of the case due to the mother engaging in frequent illegal drug use and having the minor child in an unsafe environment due to the exposure to criminals and criminal activity. This case involved a total of four (4) temporary hearings to include an emergency hearing. The parties in this case operated under four (4) temporary orders. Mr. Gage in this action first shared joint-custody (week on/week off) of the minor child, but after several change of circumstances motions, Mr. Gage was awarded sole custody of the minor child with the biological mother receiving visitation at Mr. Gage's discretion on a final basis. Mr. Gage, as mentioned previously, made substantial positive changes in his life, and through perseverance this fact became known to the court ending in full custody for Mr. Gage.

(c) Estes case. The Estes case did not begin well for my client. Prior to my representation, an order was issued against my client for criminal contempt that had her in custody at the local detention center. Ms. Estes was married but her husband was not the biological father of her child. She left the marriage and took her biological child with her out of state to Louisiana. There existed a court order in place preventing this which gave rise to the criminal contempt noted above. Her now ex-husband received custody of her child under this court order. I filed a motion requesting that the order be vacated, and custody returned to my client. We were successful. Thus began a highly contested child custody case. The action included several motions; a rule to show cause petition, appointment of a guardian ad litem, mediation, and settlement negotiations throughout. At the conclusion of the case, my client was allowed to return to the State of Louisiana with her minor child with her ex-husband receiving visitation rights.

(d) Karabees case. I have represented Mr. Karabees on numerous occasions. The first representation included a protection from domestic abuse action with a corresponding Department of Social Service Abuse and Neglect matter. The matters were resolved through reconciliation of the parties and the return of the minor child to the parties. Unfortunately, there was a breakdown of the marriage with the wife filing against Mr. Karabees seeking sole custody of their child. This matter was resolved by agreement where the parties shared custody of the minor child. While operating under this order, Ms. Karabees relocated out of state with the minor child. An action was filed seeking the return of the minor child. During the pendency of the action, Mr. Karabees was arrested for a serious criminal charge. Due to his pending criminal charge, the mother was no longer allowing his visitation with the minor child. We filed an action seeking divorce and return of the child. Numerous orders were issued to include an ex-parte order granting Mr. Karabees custody as the child was not returned to South Carolina initially. The matter was eventually resolved with the parties agreeing to share custody of the minor child. Recently, another action was filed wherein the ex-wife sought emergency sole custody of the minor child. At the emergency hearing the relief requested by Ms. Karabees was denied with attorney fees awarded to my client. The matter is still pending.

(e) Al-Dujail trial: During my deployment to Iraq, I was an attorney advisor for Iraq High-Tribunal (IHT). The IHT was responsible for trying the former regime of Iraq to include the former President Saddam Hussein. As part of this process, the Regime Crime Liaison Office (RCLO) advised the IHT to the point where they were able to conduct the first trial on October 19, 2005. Besides Saddam Hussein, the case involved several co-defendants, Barzan Ibrahim al-Tikriti, Taha Yassin Ramadan, Awad Hamed al-Bandar Al-Sa'dun, Abdullah Kadhem Roweed Al-Musheikhi, Mizher Abdullah Roweed Al-Musheikhi, Ali Daeem Ali, Mohammed Azawi Ali. During that time, I was present and actively engaged in conducting detainee operations, setting up defense counsel visits, administrative hearings, interrogations, and witness interview. I worked hand in hand with all branches of the military, federal agencies to include US Attorneys, FBI, DEA, ATF, US Marshals Services, and the US State Department to include Embassy Staff. Further, I advised the Commanding General (CTF-134) and subordinate Commanders for Detainee Operations in Iraq on legal issues surrounding the detention of Saddam Hussein and high-ranking member of the former Iraq Ba’ath Party Regime in U.S. Custody. I oversaw High Value Detainee (HVD) operations for the RCLO. My responsibilities included scheduling all High Value Criminal (HVC) and High Value Detainee (HVD) defense counsel visits for 64 individuals, actively participating in weekly high-risk defense attorney pick-ups at Entry Control Point (ECP) 1 at Route Irish. I further planned, coordinated, and participated in innumerable air and convoy missions required to move the defendants, their international attorneys, RCLO staff, IHT Judges and Investigators between various detention centers and court facilities located near Camp Victory, Baghdad International Airport and the International Zone. I acted as the primary interface between CTF 134, U.S. Marshalls, other U.S. Police/Intelligence Agencies, Iraq Security Forces, and civilian attorneys representing defendants being held for various war crimes, genocides, and crimes against humanity.

(d) Christopher A. Clampitt vs. Stacy T. Clampitt and Third Party Defendants CKMN, Inc., Sarah K. Black and Christopher Jon Clampitt (Docket Number 2017-DR-32-1901), Family Court, Eleventh Judicial Circuit, Lexington County. This Lexington County Family Court case was one of the oldest on the docket. It took nine days to try and every issue was contested, except that Plaintiff and Defendant wanted the children's guardian ad litem to be fully compensated for his services. The guardian ad litem's fee was $92,000.00. The virtual "Reconsideration" Motion Hearing was conducted on Friday, June 25, 2021. I expect Plaintiff, Christopher A. Clampitt, to file an appeal with the South Carolina Court of Appeals.
(e) Ronnie Gainey vs. Tamara Gaylord (Docket Number 2020-DR-14-130), Family Court, Third Judicial Circuit, Clarendon County. The issue involved was whether there was a common law marriage. This is the first common law marriage case at which I presided after the South Carolina Supreme Court issued it decision in the case of Stone v. Thompson, 428 S.C. 79, 833 S.E.2d 266 (2019), which abolished common law marriage prospectively and which changed the burden of proving common law marriage for those cases not affected by the prospective ruling.

(6) Physical Health:

(7) Mental Stability:
Mr. Warr appears to be mentally capable of performing the duties of the office he seeks.

(8) Experience:
Mr. Warr was admitted to the South Carolina Bar in 1985.

He gave the following account of his legal experience since graduation from law school:
From March 1982 through November 1985 (when I was sworn into the bar) I worked at the Saleeby, Cox and Bledsoe law firm located in Hartsville, SC as a law clerk. The majority of my work for Saleeby, Cox and Bledsoe was during the summer and between the fall and spring semesters. I worked as a clerk for the SC Senate Judiciary Committee during my second year of law school which was the fall of 1983 and spring of 1984.

November 1985 through July 1989 – I was an associate attorney at the Saleeby, Cox and Bledsoe law firm. During my years at the Saleeby firm I handled many different areas of practice including personal injury, criminal, workers compensation, civil litigation, probate matters, real estate and domestic.

In July 1989 I left the Saleeby firm and joined with then solo practitioner David M. Beasley (both of us grew up in Lamar, SC) to form the firm of Beasley and Warr in Hartsville, SC. Later, attorney John M. Ervin III joined our firm. In 1993 James H. Lucas and Fred W. Auman, III left the Saleeby firm and joined our practice. In 1994 Beasley was elected Governor and left the practice of law. During the years from 1989 to 1994 I practiced primarily in the areas of personal injury, real estate, probate, domestic law and I was regular counsel to Carolina Bank & Trust Company. I also handled general civil litigation matters. In 2005 H. Thad White Jr. joined our firm. In 2009 Fred W. Auman III left our office and began a solo practice. Our firm has been known as Lucas, Warr & White since 2009.

For approximately the past fifteen (15) years I have steadily increased my practice in Circuit Court mediation and serving as special referee in non-jury matters. I have heard many civil matters as special referee and in recent years I have mediated many cases in primarily Darlington County and Florence County. Otherwise, I still do some personal injury practice, real estate, probate, general civil litigation and business formation and transactions. I remain as regular counsel to Carolina Bank & Trust Company which I have done since 1989. I have not been a practitioner in the Family Court for the past several years, but I have approximately thirty years of experience in Family Court matters.

From 1989 to 1994 I jointly managed our firm's regular and trust accounts with David Beasley. After Beasley left the practice I became the office manager as to financial management and management of trusts accounts. I continue that role currently at Lucas, Warr & White.

Mr. Warr further reported the following in regards to his experience with the Family Court practice area:

My experience in the Family Court began as soon as I was admitted to the South Carolina Bar in 1985. I began at that time to handle divorce and child custody matters. Additionally, I was frequently appointed to represent parties in DSS cases and to serve as a guardian in those matters. I have handled a few adoptions but I have not been involved in an adoption for many years. As to equitable distribution, I believe I am capable not just from my legal experience, but also I was an accounting major in college and I have business experience outside of the practice of law. In the DSS appointments I received for many years I handled a variety of matters dealing with abuse and neglect of minor children and juveniles who had experienced trouble. I have represented parents accused of neglecting or abusing children and I have often served as guardian for children in DSS cases and in child custody disputes. Through the years I handled many divorce cases which at times were contested as to divorce, child custody and equitable distribution.

I have not been a practitioner in Family Court for the past several years. However, I do have about thirty years of experience in the Family Court.

I have in recent years heard a wide variety of cases as special referee. I believe I have learned a good deal about dealing with emotional parties and anger between litigants. Serving as special referee has also given me experience in ruling on matters during a hearing, handling objections and dealing with other unpredictable matters which arise.

I have combined my service as special referee with an increasing case load as Mediator. I mediate many different types of matters pending in the Circuit Court and I believe I do so efficiently.

Mr. Warr reported the frequency of his court appearances during the past five years as follows:

(a) Federal: I have not appeared in Federal Court in the past five years. In the earlier years of my legal career when I practiced more heavily in general civil litigation I appeared a fair number of times in Federal Court.

(b) State: In the past five years I have been to trial in only one jury trial (automobile accident) as we now settle many matters at mediation. I have appeared in many non-jury matters such as on motions and I have appeared on a regular basis before a special referee or Master-in-Equity. I have handled many foreclosure matters for a banking client before a special referee or Master-in-Equity in the past five years.

Mr. Warr reported the percentage of his practice involving civil, criminal, domestic and other matters during the past five years as follows:

(a) Civil: 20%;
(b) Criminal: 0%
(c) Domestic: 0%;
(d) Other: 80%
-Real Estate
-Special Referee
-Medation
-Probate
-Business formation/transactions

Mr. Warr reported the percentage of his practice in trial court during the past five years as follows:

(a) Jury: 5%;
(b) Non-jury: 95%

Mr. Warr provided that during the past five years he most often served as sole counsel.

The following is Mr. Warr's account of his five most significant litigated matters:

(a) Henry Wesley Beasley v. Al Dawson
(This case involved a boating accident at Lake Marion. The Defendant was operating a boat and struck the Plaintiff who was swimming near a dock and seriously injured him. The case involved issues about boating, water safety and negligence and was tried to a jury in Florence County and then settled before the jury returned to the courtroom with a verdict.)

(b) Beulah Robinson and Susan Jordan v. Gena Poole Davis and Pepsi-Cola Bottling Company
(In this case, which I tried with my mentor James C. Cox, Jr. of the Saleeby, Cox and Bledsoe firm in Hartsville, the Plaintiffs were seriously injured when a drunk driver hit a large truck which then hit the Plaintiffs. The jury returned an award for the Plaintiffs against the Defendants which I was told at the time in 1990 was the largest civil jury verdict ever in Darlington County, but I am not certain that is true.)

(c) Wright and Gadsden v. Colleton County
(In this case a young man twenty-one years of age was killed while traveling as a passenger with his father when they were struck at night by a Colleton County Deputy Sheriff who was traveling at a very high rate of speed with no blue light or siren. The jury in Colleton County returned a favorable verdict in favor of Plaintiff. I tried this case with attorney Paul N. Siegel of Walterboro. Colleton County filed an appeal, but the Court of Appeals affirmed the decision. Wright v. Colleton County (S.C. App. 2014) Appellate Case No. 2012-212865, (Unpublished Opinion No. 2014-UP-011).

(d) Progressive Home Builders, Inc. v. Grace Hucks and Window Works, Inc.
(This construction dispute went to a non-jury trial in Florence County. My client Window Works, Inc. won its cross-claim against Hucks for payment of a substantial amount for windows and doors it provided for a large, upscale house. Hucks filed an appeal, but the Court of Appeals affirmed the decision. Progressive Home Builders, Inc. v. Hucks (S.C. App. 2013) Appellate Case No. 2010-181289, (Unpublished Opinion No. 2013-UP-057).

(e) In the Matter of the Estate of Nathaniel Welch Morrisette, Jr.; 2014-CP-40-02769
(Many parties were involved in this probate matter which was a dispute over the validity of Morrisette's Will. I represented two of the named beneficiaries in the disputed Will. The estate was large in value and highly contested. It began in Probate Court in Richland County and was moved to Common Pleas.)

Mr. Warr reported that he has personally handled three civil appeals:

(a) Wright v. Colleton County, Appeal from Colleton County, Court of Appeals Affirmed January 8, 2014, Appellate Case No. 2012-212865, (Unpublished Opinion No. 2014-UP-011).
(b) Progressive Home Builders, Inc. v. Hucks, Appeal from Florence County, Court of Appeals Affirmed January 30, 2013, Appellate Case No. 2010-181289, (Unpublished Opinion No. 2013-UP-057).
(c) Gertrude Wrenn v. Chester County Hospital, Case was dismissed on Defendant's Motion. On an appeal to the Court of Appeals that decision was Reversed and the case then settled prior to trial, (1987-CP-12-00161A).

Mr. Warr reported that he has not personally handled any criminal appeals.

Mr. Warr reported that he has not held judicial office; "however, I have served as special referee on hundreds of cases over the last twenty years approximately."

(9) Judicial Temperament:
The Commission believes that Mr. Warr's temperament would be excellent.

(10) Miscellaneous:
The Pee Dee Citizens Committee on Judicial Qualifications found Mr. Warr "Qualified" in the evaluative criteria of constitutional qualifications, physical health, and mental stability; and "Well Qualified" in the evaluative criteria of ethical fitness, professional and academic ability, character, reputation, experience, and judicial temperament. There was no summary or related statement from the Committee.

Mr. Warr is married to Cassandra Anderson Warr. He has two children.

Mr. Warr reported that he was a member of the following Bar and professional associations:
(a) South Carolina Bar;
(b) Darlington County Bar (President 1999-2000);
(c) Pee Dee Chapter of the American Inns of Court.

Mr. Warr provided that he was a member of the following civic, charitable, educational, social, or fraternal organizations:
(a) Pee Dee Chapter - American Inns of Court
(b) Lamar Civitan Club

Mr. Warr further reported:

I was raised in a rural community in Darlington County. We lived on the farm where my father and grandfather also were raised. My mother also grew up in a farm family not far away in Florence County. As a child I had all of my grandparents near me and I was regularly with them. My parents both grew up working hard on the farm and that was expected of me also.

When I was eight years old I was told my time to work in the tobacco field had arrived. I was excited about it until I actually got started. The difficulty of the work and the heat all day was extremely tough, but it made me realize life is not easy and every day would have its challenges. My father often gave me serious tasks to handle at a young age. Out of necessity, I learned how to be self disciplined.

My father Preston Warr farmed, operated an agricultural retail business, operated a tobacco sales warehouse, served in the state House of Representatives and for twenty-five years served as a part-time Magistrate in Darlington County. I was with him on many occasions as he handled a wide variety of issues and conflicts. Obviously, I am favorably biased toward my father, but he was an outstanding Magistrate who could read people and he was always courteous and kind to them. Although he retired from that position over twenty-five years ago, I still hear stories from people who were in law enforcement and others with civil matters who tell a story about appearing in Magistrate Court with my father. He settled many disputes and seemed to have an almost magical way of helping fighting neighbors or family members in a dispute to forgive, reconcile and move on.

I believe my father was a good listener and always treated even the most difficult people with respect and courtesy. On occasion I saw him change a hostile litigant into a cooperative and contrite person by simply treating that person with patience and listening or maybe telling that person a story that somehow related to them.

My mother also had great impact on me as to how to treat others. She was a very outgoing person who loved other people and she held my two sisters and me to a high standard in our behavior and conduct toward others. I learned many great lessons from wonderful parents and they no doubt largely shaped who I am today.

If I am elected to a judicial position, I would do my best to do my duty to our state and its citizens, and also to honor the way I was taught by my parents as I saw how they conducted their lives.

As a lawyer practicing since 1985, I have experienced representing many types of people. I have had clients who were clearly good, honest people trying to live in the right way and I have had clients who were not honorable or honest. I have represented them all to the best of my ability and I have learned much about human behavior from these experiences. I also noticed many years ago that when people are going through a divorce it is usually the worst time of their lives. Often as a lawyer you see people in Family Court who are not in their normal state of mind due to their anxiety, fear and worry about what is about to happen with their lives, children, and with their finances. I believe a Family Court judge should consider these factors and understand that people in this difficult stage in life need patience from the bench and they need to know they will be fairly heard. Many other matters that come before the Family Court are similar in that the participants are appearing about a matter that is of critical significance in their lives. Participants in any type of matter, witnesses, lawyers and court personnel all deserve a patient, caring and hopefully wise judge. I would strive every day to live up to that standard.

I have seen good and bad in many people. I have been through many types of storms in life with these people and I believe I have the balanced perspective which is needed to serve as a judge.

I believe my life's experiences and the blessing of being raised by hard working parents who demanded a lot from me have prepared me for effective service as a judge.

I graduated from Dreher High School, went to Winthrop College on a full scholarship and returned to Columbia for law school. I feel fortunate to call Columbia, South Carolina home and I would like to give back to my community. I could have continued in private practice, but feel the call of public service. I have handled almost every type of case possible in Family Court. Juvenile cases, DSS cases, divorce, custody, visitation, child support, alimony, contempt and dealt with all the ancillary matters that come from these cases. I have tried all of the above and worked hard to resolve the cases when possible to help clients avoid or at least limit the emotional and financial expense that comes with litigation.

My wife and I will celebrate our 27th wedding anniversary this year. We have twins in college and a rising freshman in college so we have first-hand experience with raising children. We have prepared our finances to allow me to be a judge. I know my character and demeanor are appropriate for the Court. My knowledge and experience are part of my strengths to offer to the bench. cases. I am honored to serve in this role for the State of South Carolina.

Judge Zimmerman reported that she was a member of the following Bar and professional associations:
(a) South Carolina Bar
(b) Newberry County Bar

Judge Zimmerman provided that she was a member of the following civic, charitable, educational, social, or fraternal organizations:

Prior to taking the bench, I was more involved in civic organizations, including the Newberry Business Alliance (Board Member from 2014-2017), Newberry Chamber of Commerce, South Carolina Jaycees. Since being elected, I have stepped back from this involvement in an effort to avoid potential conflicts. Newberry is a small town, and active involvement with these organizations puts me in contact with a great number of people who are likely to come to my courtroom.

Despite backing up from involvement, my husband and I both contribute to Mobile Meals, Goodwill, the Newberry County Animal Shelter, and various other charitable organizations.

Judge Zimmerman further reported:
My parents divorced when I was young, so I understand the prospective of the children who are impacted by my decisions. I understand how easy it is for the child to get lost in litigation. By this, I mean that parents can so easily get distracted by their own emotional needs and financial struggles. This can sometime keep them from seeing the impact that the litigation has upon their children. As a Family Court Judge, I am charged with protecting the best interest of the children involved in the litigation. Of course, each family's story is different, but I believe my personal experience gives me a unique understanding of why the Court must always keep a watchful eye towards the best interest of the child, even when others in the Courtroom loose that focus.
Both of my parents had only a high school education, and they worked entry level positions in manufacturing industries when I was a child. As I have grown, I have observed the impact of manual labor upon their minds and bodies.

Throughout the years, my parents encouraged me to push myself and never shy away from opportunity. As a result, I worked multiple jobs and studied hard to achieve my educational goals. I obtained my bachelor's degree from Wofford in only three years. I completed the courses necessary for my master degree and law degree at two different universities, which were approximately three and half hours' drive apart, almost simultaneously. I face every day now, on the bench, with that same drive that pushed me throughout my education. I work hard, and I never shy away from a challenging case or an opportunity to improve the profession.

I watched my parents work hard every day, which taught be the value of earning what you have. I believe that my background helps me relate to the litigants before me, since many of them come from the same working-class environment. I understand the struggles that come with that. I remember watching my parents make hard decisions with money, and I know that courts must always maintain reasonable expectations. My roots will always keep me grounded.

I am driven, dedicated, and determined, because in my life, anything less is simply unacceptable. I face every element of my life with self-motivation; however, I have never been afraid to watch and learn from those around me. This has served me well since taking this position. We have some tremendously talented people on the Family Court Bench, and each brings a diverse perspective. I love the fellowship shared amongst my brothers and sisters on the bench. More than anything, I love to learn from them. I am excited to see the creative ways that they tackle unique problems. I enjoy the open exchange of ideas that we have. I feel my mind expand. I am a much better person for the last few years of sharing with them, and I know that another term will only help me grow in so many positive ways. I believe that my continued experience and evolution not only benefits me, but it also helps me better serve my community.

From 1989 – 1993, I served as a Magistrate (part-time) for the County of Charleston. I was appointed to this position by the Governor after being recommended by my local state Senator and approved by the local delegation. This was a Court of limited jurisdiction that handled small claims, landlord tenant disputes, claim and deliveries and bond court. The jurisdiction of the Court was peninsula Charleston.

Since 2011, I have served as a judge of the Family Court in the Ninth Judicial Circuit. I am a resident judge in Charleston County and occupy seat no. 1. I was elected by the South Carolina General Assembly in February, 2011. The jurisdiction of the Family Court is established by state statute.

Judge Martin provided the following list of his most significant orders or opinions:

(a) Adoptive Couple vs. Baby Girl, Birth Fathers and the Cherokee Indian Nation,
S.C. Appellate Case No.: 2011-205166

This action involved custody of a minor child of Cherokee Indian decent. The mother, a white female, and father, a native of the Cherokee tribe, had a child out-of-wedlock. (The child has since come to be widely known as Baby Veronica) The child was placed for adoption without the knowledge of the father. Unbeknownst to the biological father, the adoptive parent obtained physical custody shortly after the child's birth. After later becoming aware of the pending adoption action, the biological father and the Cherokee Indian Nation objected to the adoption. At the adoption hearing, the trial judge granted the biological father's counter petition for adoption. The child was placed with the father and both left South Carolina and moved to Oklahoma.

The adoptive parents appealed the case. A media storm brewed in South Carolina and Oklahoma. The South Carolina Supreme Court ultimately reversed the lower Court decision and remanded the case to Charleston County. I was assigned the case. At the first hearing, the Court approved the petition for adoption filed by the adoptive parents and issued a Decree of Adoption. The Court ruled that the child was to be returned to South Carolina immediately. Because the father failed to comply with my ruling, it was also necessary to issue orders to enforce the ruling. The unfolding situation drew national attention with governors of both South Carolina and Oklahoma getting involved. The father, after exhausting efforts in the Oklahoma state court system, the Indian tribal court system and the federal court system, ultimately allowed the child to be returned with her legal parents to South Carolina.

(b) Keith Alan May vs. Denise Marie May
S.C. Appellate Case No.: 2017-000030

The order issued by me in this matter involved a motion to relieve a party from an order which approved the parties' agreement. The agreement contained inconsistent language which impacted whether one party would be obligated to pay the other $60,000 as their share in the marital home. I decided that the parties' agreement should be reformed and made the necessary adjustment to the agreement and final order. The former wife appealed the decision. The decision was affirmed.

(c) Harrison Shelby Nelson vs. Melissa Starr Nelson,
S.C. Appellate Case No.: 2017-000291

In this divorce case, the parties had resolved the child custody, visitation and support issues. The unresolved issues involved equitable distribution of significant marital assets and liabilities. After hearing all the testimony, the Court reached certain findings that the husband did not agree with. In his appeal, he challenged the Court's determination of his interest in property valued at more than a million dollars. He also asserted that my valuation of the marital home was incorrect. The wife also appealed my decision to grant a Rule 60(b) motion after the trial. The appellate court made a de novo review of the trial and all the evidence presented.

In the court decision, it agreed with my decision to grant the Rule 60(b) motion. In doing so, it directly quoted language that I put in my final order. The Court also agreed that my valuation of the husband's investment property and that the Court's valuation of marital home was within the range of the evidence presented at the final hearing. The final order was affirmed.

(d) SCDSS vs. Nina Ward and Benjamin R. Clayton, Sr.
S.C. Appellate Case No. 2016-002327

This case involved the termination of the parental rights of Nina Ward and Benjamin Clayton to their minor children. Actions involving the termination of parental rights are some of the hardest for family court judges to make. In most cases, the parents truly love their children. However, their love is sometimes not enough to keep the families together. The judge is always governed by the best interest of the children. In this matter, the parents failed to complete their drug treatment and other provisions required in their treatment plan. I determined that the best interest of the children demanded that the Defendant's parental rights be terminated. The parents appealed the case but the South Carolina Court of Appeals confirmed my decision.

(e) SCDSS vs. Teoshi Etoya Manigault White and Jawaan Frederick
S.C. Appellate Case No.: 2018-000888

In this case, the Father, Jawaan F. White, appealed my final order terminating his parental rights to his minor daughter. Again, determinations in such cases are always difficult. Based upon the evidence, I determined that the Father had failed to make any material contribution toward the support of his child and that it would be in the child's best interest that his parental rights to her be terminated. The father appealed. The appellate court affirmed my decision.

Judge Martin reported no other employment while serving as a judge.

(9) Judicial Temperament:
The Commission believes that Judge Martin's temperament has been, and would continue to be, excellent.

(10) Miscellaneous:

(f) South Carolina Aquarium – current Board member
(g) Coastal Carolina Boy Scouts – current Board member
(h) Avery Institute – current Board member
(i) James L. Petigru Inns of Court – current member

Judge Martin further reported:
Over the years, I've been an active participant in the Judicial Observation and Experience (JOE) program. Each summer, this program allows a number of law students to sit in our courtrooms and observe what actually takes place. I'm often surprised by the many questions asked by the students after each hearing. They always keep me on my toes. I've also presided over high school mock trial competitions here in the low country. While some young students appear before the Court facing miscellaneous criminal offenses, there are others pursuing their dreams of one day becoming a lawyer or a judge. The impact that a judge can have in both situations is not lost to me. I appreciate the honor of continuing to serve the people of South Carolina each day.

(11) Commission Members' Comments:
The Commission commended Judge Martin for his excellent BallotBox survey results and judicial temperament, and appreciates his outstanding service as a Family Court judge.

(b) I was a presenter at a conference held at the Sheraton in Columbia, South Carolina. The subject matter of the conference was legal issues relating to child abuse and neglect. The audience was lay guardians, Department of Social Service workers, and attorneys. To the best of my knowledge, the seminar was sponsored by the South Carolina Children's Law Center. I have not been able to locate any information as to the date of the course.
(c) Since becoming a judge, I speak on family court issues at the annual Oconee County Bar meeting every year.

(8) Experience:
Judge Ballenger was admitted to the South Carolina Bar in 1987.

She gave the following account of her legal experience since graduation from law school:

(a) Kennedy, Price & Dial, Columbia, South Carolina, Associate, 1987 until June, 1988. My duties included research and drafting of pleadings and other legal documents; assisting in trial preparation, maintaining client contact; and a limited amount of real estate work. As an associate, I was not involved with administrative and financial management of the firm.

(b) Judicial Law Clerk, June 1988 to January 1990

The Honorable Carol Connor, Resident Circuit Judge for the Fifth Judicial Circuit. Judge Connor had recently been elected as circuit court judge, and she needed a law clerk of the summer. As Judge Connor's law clerk, my duties included overseeing the docket, performing legal research, reviewing orders, and order preparation.

The Honorable Marion H. Kinon. After clerking for Judge Connor, Judge Marion Kinon asked me to serve as his law clerk for approximately 6 weeks while his law clerk was in training with the South Carolina National Guard.

The Honorable William Howard Ballenger. In October of 1988, the Honorable William Howard Ballenger, Resident Circuit Court Judge for the Tenth Judicial Circuit, offered me a position as his law clerk. During my time as Judge Ballenger's law clerk, he presiding over two death penalty cases. I was employed as Judge Ballenger's law clerk until January 1990.

(c) Ross, Stoudemire & Awde, P.A., Seneca, South Carolina, Associate, 1990. In July of 1992, I became a named partner in the firm – Ross, Stoudemire, Ballenger & Sprouse, P.A. I was with this firm until December 31, 1994. During this time, I had a general practice which included domestic; civil litigation; criminal (very limited); workers compensation and social security. I would estimate that approximately 60% of my practice during this time was domestic. I had very limited involvement with the administrative management of the firm. I had no involvement with the financial management of the firm.

(d) After leaving the above firm, I began a solo practice in Walhalla, South Carolina. Very shortly thereafter, I became a principal/partner in the firm of Ballenger, Fedder, Cain & Norton, L.L.P. I was with this firm until June of 1998. My practice during this time included domestic; personal injury; workers' compensation; probate; social security; civil and a very limited amount of real estate. I handled all of the administrative and financial responsibilities for my portion of the practice.

(e) From June of 1998 to 2001 (to the best of my recollection), I had an office in Walhalla, South Carolina. During this time, I had a general practice. However, the main focus of my practice was family court matters. As a solo practitioner, I had to handle all of the financial responsibilities of my practice.

(f) In 2001, I began practicing with the firm of Fedder, Norton, Ballenger and Enderlin, P.A. The area of my practice did not change. The majority of my practice was appearing in family court and handling domestic issues. Subsequently, Derek Enderlin left the firm and accepted a job with the Public Defender's office, and Julie Mahon became a member of the firm. The firm's name changed to Norton, Ballenger and Mahon, P.A. on April 23, 2004 based on the records of the Secretary of State. Subsequently, Julie Mahon married and moved from Oconee County, South Carolina. Bradley Norton and I continued to practice in Walhalla, South Carolina. Then on or about July 11, 2011, Keith Denny became a named partner in the firm. The name of the firm was changed to Norton, Ballenger and Denny, P.A. During all of this time, the attorneys kept our finances separate (other than the joint financial responsibilities). Therefore, I was responsible for all of the financial responsibilities of my practice.

(g) On May 23, 2012, I had the honor of being elected as Family Court Judge for the Tenth Judicial Circuit. I have served in this position since that date.

Judge Ballenger reported that she has held the following judicial office(s):

(a) South Carolina vs. Michelle G and Robert Dale L, Anderson County. Issues: Termination of Parental Rights. This case is significant for me because it was the first case that I heard that was decided on appeal, and I was affirmed. South Carolina Department of Social Service v. Michelle G and Robert L, 407 S.C. 499, 757 S.E.2d 388 (2014).

(b) Melissa Caldwell Cromer vs. Aubrey Gene Cromer, Brian Cromer and Kevin Cromer, Anderson case, Issues: Divorce, Alimony, Equitable Division of Property and Attorney Fees. It was a seven day trial. The Wife appealed my decision. Based on the Remittitur dated July 31, 2019, the appeal was dismissed (Appellate Case No. 2019-000899).

(c) South Carolina Department of Social Services vs. Rosalinda Obregon-Mejia and Miguel Diaz-Duran vs. Dulce Navarrete and Jane Doe and John Doe, Anderson, Issues: Termination of Parental Right. It was a five day hearing. This case was heard in the summer of 2017 before the use of WebEx and remote technology. The Defendants were incarcerated in a federal detention facility (in two different facilities in two different states). The Court had appointed the Defendant parents attorneys and Guardians. The parents could not speak the English language. The Defendant parents participated and attended the hearing telephonically with the assistance of the interpreter. There were two parties who intervened. There were eight attorneys involved in the case. The logistics of having a hearing with two non-English parties participating telephonically was very challenging. Defendant Rosalinda Obregon-Mejia appealed my decision. I was affirmed in an unpublished opinion. South Carolina Department of Social Services vs. Rosalinda Obregon-Mejia, Miguel Diza-Duran, et.al., Opinion No. 2018-UP-460 (S.C. Ct. App. Filed December 6, 2018). Defendant Miguel Diaz Duran also appealed my decision. I was affirmed in an unpublished opinion – South Carolina Department of Social Services vs. Rosalinda Obregon-Mejia, Miguel Diza-Duran, et.al., Opinion No. 2018-UP-459 (S.C. Ct. App. Filed December 6, 2018).

Four cases were consolidated for the sole purpose of trial. Nine attorneys were involved. It was a six day trial.

(e) Gregory Scott Merritt vs. Melissa Pearce Merritt, Anderson County, Issues: Custody and child related issues, Nine day trial.

Judge Ballenger reported no other employment while serving as a judge:

I was fortunate to grow up in an environment in which I learned important values by following the examples set by my parents. These values have served me well as a family court judge.

Becoming a family court judge has allowed me to continue to grow and serve my community in a field about which I am very passionate. Prior to my election as a judge, I had over 20 years of experience in family court issues. In looking back at my legal career, I firmly believe that there have been many opportunities and experiences that have unknowingly brought me to where I am today.

The past nine years of my life have without a doubt been the most rewarding years of my life. As a family court judge, I firmly believe that we are the face of the judiciary. Most citizens at one point in their life find themselves in front of a family court judge. For the litigants in my courtroom, it is probably one of the most painful and scary times of their lives. I constantly remind myself of that fact, and I always try to take that into consideration when I am on the bench.

A successful family court judge that can best serve their community is one who is passionate for family law; understands the intricacies of domestic law and can handle the unique challenges that exist in family court. These are the goals that I set for myself every day since having the honor of serving my state as a family court judge.

(c) domestic: 85%
(d) other: I have been conducting Magistrate Court trials as Magistrate since April of 2019.

Judge Wall reported the percentage of her practice in trial court prior to her service on the bench as follows:

(a) jury: 0%
(b) non-jury: 100%, including sitting as a Magistrate for Magistrate Court bench trials.

Judge Wall provided that during the past five years prior to her service on the bench she most often served as sole counsel.

The following is Judge Wall's account of her five most significant litigated matters:

(a) Whelan v. Whelan, Horry County Family Court; This was a custody matter where both parties alleged the other had a severe mental illness that would impact their ability to parent. This was significant case in that the opposing party had significantly more financial resources and I had to fight for primary custody of an infant and my client had very little money for psychological experts. In March of 2019, the opposing party filed five motions seeking a change in primary custody, overbroad discovery rulings, and a motion to compel. I won all five motions and protected my client from abusive and overbroad electronic discovery, maintained primary custody, and defended my client from thousands of dollars in fees. This is also significant because the law is still catching up with technology and there was very little precedent as to how the judge would handle opposing counsel's discovery requests involving my client's cell phone and social media.

(b) Chavez v. Chavez, Florence County Family Court; This was a divorce, equitable distribution and custody matter. My client was a medical doctor with significant marital assets. His wife had always been a stay-at- home mom to their two little boys. While preserving my client's assets was important to my client, his major concern was having joint custody of his children. This was a difficult request as he was a doctor who worked long hours and she stayed at home. The generally accepted thinking is that she would have custody and he would have every other weekend for visitation. With the help of a private investigator, I was able to demonstrate that she allowed a babysitter to keep the children a large portion of the time that the children were with her and further demonstrate that my client actually spent more time with the children during his allotted periods of physical custody. We ended up settling the case in mediation and the wife was required to get a job that lowered my client's alimony award and my client got 50%-50% custody of his two boys on a week-to- week basis.

(c) Darcangelo v. Darcangelo a/k/a McCall, Georgetown County Family Court; This was a custody modification case. My client had been awarded custody of the minor child in a previous case. Very soon after she remarried, her new husband died tragically and she had a rough year and made some really bad choices. Her ex-husband filed for a change of custody. This is a significant case because I had to rehabilitate her, stave off her ex-husband's motions for temporary change of custody, and convince the judge that while a substantial change in circumstances had occurred that might normally warrant a change in custody, she had remedies all of those issues before trial and therefore there was no longer a substantial change to warrant a custody modification. The judge agreed with me after a three-day trial and my client retained custody.

(d) Smith v. Smith, Horry County Family Court; This was a custody modification action. In their divorce case, these parties agreed for the wife to have custody of the three children. After several years had passed, the husband filed to modify custody based on six faults and character flaws he alleged the wife recently displayed and that these faults and flaws warranted a change in custody. He could prove each allegation. This case is significant because I had to go through the previous divorce case's depositions, orders, and discovery to demonstrate that while these traits and actions were indeed bad, they all existed at the time he agreed for my client to have custody in the first action. After a three-day trial, I was able to prove each and every allegation existed in the previous action where the husband agreed to give my client custody and therefore there was no substantial change of circumstances to warrant a custody transfer. The judge ruled in my favor and my client retained custody of her three children.

(e) Porter v. Porter, Williamsburg and Florence County Family Court; This was an action where I had to defend my client against allegations of molesting his two daughters. There are several reasons why she did this, none of which was because he was ever inappropriate with his children. I was involved in this case for four years and defended my client many times in court against DSS and his ex-wife. After four years, countless hearings, and a two-day trial my client's visitation was restored, the DSS case against him was unfounded and I defeated DSS's attempt to have him registered on the DSS registry for abuse and neglect

Judge Wall reported that she handled the following civil appeals:

(a) Doe v. Roe, 379 S.C. 291, 665 S.E.2d 182 (Ct. App. 2008).

(b) Doe v. Roe, Opinion No. 26779 (S.C. 3/1/2010) (S.C. 2010).

Judge Wall reported that she has not personally handled any criminal appeals.

Judge Wall reported that she has held the following judicial office(s):
I was appointed by Senator Leatherman as a part-time Florence County Magistrate in April of 2019. My main office is in Johnsonville, SC and I hold court in Johnsonville on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. I travel to the Florence office to hold court each Tuesday and Thursday morning. I have jurisdiction in Florence County to sign arrest and search warrants. The Magistrate's Court has jurisdiction over crimes classified as misdemeanors, civil disputes up to $7,500.00 and all landlord-tenant disputes.

Judge Wall provided the following list of her most significant orders or opinions:
(a) As Magistrate, I have presided over many evictions during the past two years.
Evictions became very complicated during the Covid pandemic and some restrictions are still in place at this moment. While some believe there has been a moratorium on all evictions during the pandemic, that is not the case. There have been many eviction petitions and hearings for causes other than nonpayment of rent which is still permissible under the state, federal and CDC mandates.
(b) As Magistrate, I have presided over many restraining order petitions which are similar to Orders of Protection that fall within the Family Court's jurisdiction.
(c) As Magistrate, I have presided over civil contract disputes.
(d) As Magistrate, I have presided over many criminal bench trials.
(e) As Magistrate, I have presided over restraining order petitions and complaints between family members which are very similar to what appears before a Family Court Judge.

Judge Wall reported the following regarding her employment while serving as a judge:
As I am a part-time Magistrate, I also own PeeDeeMediation, LLC. I began this company during the summer of 2019 and I

Judge Wall further reported:
(a) I was named the 2008 LRE Lawyer of the Year.
(b) I have been preparing for this Family Court Judicial Seat for my entire adult life. My twenty-one years practicing Family law has given me the knowledge and experience to be a Family Court Judge. My thirteen years as a Family Court mediator has enabled me to work with and learn from Family Court practitioners from all over our state. I have spent thirteen years teaching, guiding, and demonstrating why it is better to resolve your case in mediation than resort to a contested Family Court trial. I have spent the last two years as a Magistrate training to be a judge for the occasions when a trial is necessary. I have practiced mainly in a small town named Johnsonville, SC. While some may see this as a negative, I do not regret one second of my practice. Johnsonville is nine miles from five different counties. I was never relegated to one county for my practice. I routinely practiced in Florence, Williamsburg, Horry, Georgetown and Marion counties. My practice also took me to Charleston, Columbia, Lexington, York and Bamberg. I gained incredible insight and knowledge while traveling the state practicing Family law. I have represented people, real people. I have represented doctors with millions of dollars in assets and I have represented people with nothing but a child who meant everything to them. Every person that appears in Family Court is there for their most important reason. Family Court is not a corporate issue between two giants of industries. Family Court is everyday people fighting for their children, their marriage, their reputation, their retirement, and their life savings. Family Court matters. And I am ready.

(a) From 1994 until 1995, I was a law clerk to the Honorable Don S. Rushing, a Circuit Court Judge. During six months of the year term, he was Chief Judge for Administrative Purposes (Criminal) Charleston County.

(b) From 1995 until 1996, I was Assistant Solicitor for the Fourth Judicial Circuit, prosecuting cases in the General Sessions Court of Chesterfield, Darlington, Dillon and Marlboro Counties.

(c) From 1996 until 2004, I worked at the Law Firm of Jennings and Harris, located in Bennettsville, South Carolina. I began as an associate and became a partner around 2001. The firm had a general trial practice. My personal practice included a focus on the Family Court, although I practiced in all trial courts. I was also a contract attorney for the South Carolina Department of Social Services, handling abuse and neglect cases for Chesterfield County beginning in 1996. On or about 1998, I was also an adjunct professor with Coker College, where I taught Business Law through their adult program. Additionally, I became a certified mediator for the Family Court in 2002. I assisted with supervising personnel and utilized the trust account.

(d) From 2004 until 2006, I worked at the Law Office of Nancy Bailey, located in Florence, South Carolina. This practice focused almost exclusively on Family Court matters. As Florence was an initial mandatory-mediation county, I conducted mediations, including pro bono mediations for the Family Court during this time. I also continued to work as a contract attorney for the South Carolina Department of Social Services handling abuse and neglect cases for Chesterfield County. I assisted in supervising personnel and utilized the trust account.

(e) From 2006 until 2016, I worked for the South Carolina Department of Social Services on a full-time basis, handling abuse and neglect cases for Darlington and Chesterfield Counties, and assisting in other counties. I was the supervising attorney for the Fourth Judicial Circuit which consists of Darlington, Chesterfield, Dillon, and Marlboro counties.

Also in July of 2016, I became a part-time Municipal Judge for the City of Hartsville which I also continue at present. In July of 2019, I entered into a contract with the South Carolina Commission on Indigent Defense to handle defense of abuse and neglect cases in Florence and Dillon counties. I supervise personnel and have access to all accounts for the Law Office of Elizabeth B. York.

Judge York further reporter her experience with the Family Court practice area:

My professional experience has included a focus in the Family Court since 1996, and I have experience in each of the above-mentioned areas. I represented the South Carolina Department of Social Services in abuse and neglect cases from 1996 until 2019. From 1996 until 2006, I had a contract with the South Carolina Department of Social Services to handle abuse and neglect cases in Chesterfield County with assistance in other counties. In 2006, I became a full-time attorney for the South Carolina Department of Social Services as a managing attorney for the Fourth Judicial Circuit and continued in this position until July of 2016. In July of 2016, I began a statewide contract for the South Carolina Department of Social Services, often traveling to handle complex matters on their behalf. I continued with this contract until July of 2019. In July of 2019, I signed a contract with South Carolina Commission on Indigent Defense to defend abuse and neglect cases in Florence and Dillon counties and this contract continues at this time. Abuse and neglect cases often overlap with matters with the South Carolina Department Juvenile Justice and adoption custody issues.

In 2016, I again entered private practice and continue to handle all types of Family Court matters in each of these categories and mediate these issues when appointed by the Court. At a minimum, I have appeared in the Family Court once per week in the past five years.

Judge York reported the percentage of her practice in trial court prior to her service on the bench as follows:

(a)	Jury:	0%;
(b)	Non-jury:	100%.

Judge York provided that during the past five years prior to her service on the bench she most often served as sole counsel.

The following is Judge York's account of her five most significant litigated matters:

(a) SCDSS v. J.E., Case Number 96-DR-13-778
This was an abuse and neglect case in which the defendant was a foster mother who severely beat a foster child in her care, killing the child. The defendant mother had other foster children and an adopted child in her care. The deceased child was one of ten siblings in foster care. I not only handled the Family Court abuse and neglect side of the case, I also actively participated in the criminal trial of Ms. E. (97-GS-13-77, 98-GS-13-10) and a civil trial against SCDSS and a school principal (97-CP-13-145, 98-CP-13-03). This case occurred as the child abuse code was changing nationwide. It involved the new code as well as the issues of severe abuse, mandatory reporting of abuse and neglect, and foster care licensing.

(b) SCDSS, In the Interests of Baby Doe, Case Numbers 14-DR-13-645 and 15-DR-13-0628
Chesterfield County was thrust into the national news when a newborn was abandoned at the Health Department. The child was determined to be approximately three days old at the time she was left in a restroom at the health department. SCDSS had to obtain a birth certificate for the child whose parents were never located. Additionally, I had to weigh the interests of the privacy of the infant as DSS received nationwide requests to adopt the child. This balancing required considering the rights of the unknown parents, while expediting permanency for the child, who has since been adopted.

(c) Richard S. Bird, Plaintiff, vs. Rebecca Moningka Bird, Defendant, vs. Richard S. Bird, Sr. and Martha Bird, Third-Party Defendants. Case Number 19-DR-21-0959.
This case was pled for divorce, custody, equitable distribution, alimony, and attorney's fees and costs. I was appointed by the Court to serve as the guardian ad litem for the two minor children of the parties. With regards to the custody issues, this case involved international kidnapping, parental alienation, and a recent diagnosis of a chronic illness of one of the children. Numerous experts were involved in this matter. Several petitions for contempt were also filed and heard. This matter reached a final resolution on the children's issues with an Order filed June 16, 2021 and an Order is pending with regards to the other issues from a hearing held June 15, 2021 through June 18, 2021.

(d) State v. Grandison, Case Number 01-GS-241.242
A week-long armed robbery trial. My client was convicted of armed robbery. The jury determined that my client was the driver of the get-away-car. This case involved video surveillance and its admission, which was fairly new at the time, as well as the cases involving the "hand of one is the hand of all." Mr. Grandison was a college student who grew up in Delaware and was attending college in Virginia. He was in South Carolina with "friends" from college, one who was from this State. The first two friends apprehended gave statements and the admissibility of those statements and weight given was an issue. Additionally, I filed several Motions to try to have the State try my client separately from the gunman.

(e) SCDSS, In the Interest of J.C., Case Number 09-DR-13-378
This case involved severe abuse and neglect of three siblings. This abuse included locking the children out of the family home during the day in severe heat. One sibling was placed into a dark storage building for days with no electricity or water and forced to wear a shock collar. A sibling of this child was asked to shock the other child and to empty the bucket that the child used as a restroom. All siblings had to empty the bucket that the children used as a restroom while working in the yard. The case involved media attention, a corollary criminal case, and it required expediting the case to assist these children. Personally, I will never forget preparing these children for trial. The perpetrators no longer have parental rights to the children. Two of the siblings were adopted. The sibling who was asked to perform the shocking of the other siblings was opposed to adoption and requested to remain in a placement in an area where he had been placed initially.

The following is Judge York's account of five civil appeals she has personally handled:

(a) SCDSS, Respondent, v. F.V., J.V. and T.D., of whom F.V. and J.V. are Appellants. In the Interest of three minors, Case Number 2011-UP-47
This appeal from the Family Court of Darlington County involved Appellants F.V. and J.V.'s challenging the Court's finding of abuse and/or neglect, the Treatment Plan ordered, and the placement of their name onto the Central Registry of Child Abuse and Neglect. The Court of Appeals upheld the findings of abuse and/or neglect, found the issue presented on the Treatment Plan was moot, and reversed placement of the names of F.V. and J.V. onto the Central Registry of Abuse and Neglect.

(b) SCDSS, Respondent, v. G.M.P., A.K.A. Z.P., M.P. and John Doe, In the Interest of a minor child under eighteen years, Case Number 2012-UP-470
M.P. appealed the termination of his parental rights. The Court of Appeals reviewed his case pursuant to Ex Parte Cauthen, 291 S.C. 465, 354 S.E. 3d 381 (1987), and upheld the termination of his parental rights.

(c) SCDSS, Respondent, v. Z.P., M.P., of whom E.P. is the Appellant, In the Interests of one minor child under the age of eighteen, Case Number 2010-UP-240
Z.P. appealed the Family Court's Order from a Permanency Planning hearing alleging that the evidence did not support the finding that reunification was no longer a viable plan for the child contending that the child's guardian ad litem did not perform her duties as mandated. The Court of Appeals upheld the decision of the Family Court.

(d) SCDSS, Respondent, v. S.G. L.G. G.B. and John Doe, of whom S.G. is the Appellant, In the Interest of five children under the age of eighteen, Case Number 2009-UP-164
S.G. appealed the termination of his parental rights. The Court of Appeals reviewed this case pursuant to Ex Parte Cauthen, 291 S.C. 465, 354 S.E. 2d 381 (1987), and upheld the termination of his parental rights.

(e) SCDSS v. T.I., M.R., D.O., and B.M., Case Number 2021-000653
This is a pending appeal pursuant to Ex Parte Cauthen, 291 S.C. 465, 354 S.E. 2d 381 (1987), of an Order from a judicial review hearing in the Family Court.

the overall division of the marital estate. I issued a Final Decree of Divorce on May 31, 2018. Defendant Martin Eslick filed a Notice of Appeal on July 2, 2018. The parties reached an agreement, and the appeal was dismissed by Order of the South Carolina Court of Appeals on January 4, 2021. I presided in a two day hearing on a petition seeking termination of the defendants' parental rights, alleging that defendants had severely abused and neglected their minor child, and due to the severity of abuse or neglect, it was not reasonably likely that the defendants' home(s) could be made safe within twelve months. Numerous witnesses (including three medical experts) testified about the horrific injuries suffered by the infant child, as well as her poor prognosis, limited life expectancy, and the extensive care she required. I issued an Order granting termination of parental rights on May 28, 2019. Defendant Robert Beach filed a Notice of Appeal on June 20, 2019. The appeal was dismissed by South Carolina Court of Appeals by Order dated March 6, 2020.

I presided in a hearing on the State's Motion to transfer jurisdiction to the Court of General Sessions, to determine whether the juvenile charged with Murder, Armed Robbery and Carjacking should be tried on the charges in Family Court (and if found guilty, face incarceration in a juvenile facility up to his 22nd birth day) or be tried in General Sessions (and if found guilty, face lifetime incarceration with the Department of Corrections). The hearing involved testimony by law enforcement witness; expert witnesses for the state and the defense, including a psychologist, a neuropsychologist, and a forensic psychologist, as well as numerous exhibits which were entered into evidence.

Family Court, Thirteenth Judicial Circuit, Seat 4, elected by South Carolina General Assembly May 2016 for the term July 1, 2016 – June 30, 2022.

Judge Karen Sanchez Roper provided the following list of her most significant orders or opinions:

(a) Jane and John Doe v. Nikki Gardner, Jeremy Gardner, and SCDSS, Order Terminating Parental Rights, 2018-DR-39-1151, 2018-DR-39-971; Appellate Case No. 2020-00168 and 2020-000254, Unpublished Opinion No. 2021-UP-192 & -193, Filed June 2, 2021. This action for termination of parental rights was filed by the foster parents of one minor child. This child was the fifth child exposed to drugs by biological parents, each instance necessitating a DSS action that resulted in either loss of permanent custody or termination of parental rights and adoption. Foster parents previously adopted two of biological parents' other children. Although biological parents had a decade-long history of severe drug addiction and child abuse, DSS opposed termination and advocated that parents be awarded custody due to their completion of the DSS treatment plan. Biological parents began unsupervised visits with the child, but shortly thereafter, the child tested positive for methamphetamines. Biological parents denied any drug abuse and subsequently produced negative drug tests. After hearing a multi-day trial, I terminated parental rights, finding that these parents' long history of abuse and neglect and their long history of severe drug addiction, coupled with the child's recent positive drug test, made them highly unlikely to provide a safe home for the child. The Court of Appeals reversed my decision, finding that because parents completed treatment services, the child's positive drug test did not constitute clear and convincing evidence to support termination of parental rights. The Court of Appeals remanded the case for another permanency planning hearing, scheduled later this month, to consider additional evidence that has occurred since trial. In the intervening time since trial, DSS changed its position and filed a new action for termination of parental rights based upon allegations that the biological parents have resumed drug use.

(b) Kaitlin Whitesell v. Jeremy Whitesell, Final Order, 2016-DR-46-746, Appellate Case No. 2017-002601, Opinion No. 5771, Filed August 26, 2020; 431 S.C. 575, 848 S.E.2d 588 (Ct. App. 2020). This was an action for modification of custody and child support, which was vigorously contested in a multi-day trial. Father appealed my decision, and the Court of Appeals affirmed my decision in a published opinion.

(c) SCDSS v. Carla Bennefield, Joe McWhite, Sr., and Jamie Crider, Order Terminating Parental Rights, 2016-DR-23-3328, Appellate Case No. 2017-000289, Unpublished Opinion No. 2017-UP-431, Filed November 9, 2017. This was an order terminating parental rights to a minor child, which mother appealed. The Court of Appeals affirmed my decision in an unpublished opinion.

(d) Shaundra B. Daily v. Julian D. Daily, Final Order, 2015-DR-39-184; Appellate Case No. 2017-00119, Opinion No. 5801, Filed February 10, 2021; 432 S.C. 608, 854 S.E.2d 856 (Ct. App. 2021). This was an action for modification of custody and visitation action based upon mother's relocation, and including several actions for contempt and attorney's fees. The Court of Appeals affirmed my decision as modified to provide more specific visitation terms and increasing my award of attorney's fees to mother.

(e) In the Interest of Dylan L.M., a Juvenile Under the Age of Seventeen, Appellate Case No. 2019-000619, Unpublished Opinion No. 2021-UP-052, Filed February 24, 2021. This was my first instance of presiding over a contested trial in a juvenile matter, where the juvenile was accused of criminal sexual conduct with a minor, involving the testimony of a minor child, expert witness testimony, and a Jackson v. Denno hearing. The appeal was dismissed.

Judge Roper further reported:

It has been a tremendous honor and privilege to serve this State as a Family Court judge. When I sought this position almost six years ago, I expressed my belief that a Family Court judge plays a significant role in helping families achieve long term peace despite going through the painful process of a divorce, DSS intervention, or custody litigation. Since that time, my experience on the bench has only strengthened my conviction. My judicial experience over the past five years has enriched my knowledge and understanding of the challenges faced by our citizens, many of which were exacerbated by the COVID-19 pandemic. Each day in court I see families struggling with divorce, abuse, addiction, mental health, or unemployment.

My legal and volunteer experiences inform many of my judicial decisions. I previously served on boards for Prevent Child Abuse Pickens County and Pickens County First Steps, which opened my eyes to the needs of children in my county. Pickens Presbyterian Church has provided me wonderful opportunities to interact with children as Sunday school teacher, Vacation Bible School leader, and Youth Group leader. Through my representation of the School District of Pickens County for 10 years, I handled student expulsion hearings and became familiar with the challenges facing our teenage youth. Representing DSS and indigent parents through the SC Commission of Indigent Defense raised my awareness about the dire circumstances of many parents who find themselves involved with child protective services. My service on the boards of Anderson-Oconee-Pickens Mental Health Center and Cannon Memorial Hospital Foundation helped me understand that access to vital health services are necessary for so many of our families to raise healthy, well-adjusted children.

For most people, Family Court is also their first introduction to our judicial system. Most of our citizens will have only limited experience with the courts of General Session or Common Pleas; but even if an individual has not personally gone through a divorce, most likely each of us has a parent, child, or sibling involved in a Family Court case at some point in their lives. As such, we deal with extremely personal issues and the emotions in the courtroom can run very high. I have witnessed attorneys, and occasionally judges, fall into the trap of reflecting these emotions and unintentionally intensifying the anger and resentment that sometimes accompanies the dissolution of a marriage or the custodial arrangements for a child. I have seen litigants leave the courtroom feeling their position was ignored or disrespected. When litigants leave our courtrooms feeling overlooked or dissatisfied with the process, we lose an opportunity for the court's ruling to bring long term peace and resolution for that family.

In this highly charged atmosphere of Family Court, I believe it is vitally important to provide clear rules, clear boundaries, and clear expectations. Adherence to the Rules of Evidence and the statutes set by the General Assembly can eliminate much of the "unknown" for parties entering the courtroom. Uniformly enforcing these rules and requiring persons to conduct themselves with decorum helps establish clear boundaries for all parties. I attempt to set clear expectations for each hearing by assuring litigants that each will have the opportunity to be heard, that all parties and witnesses will be treated with dignity and respect, and that all parties will have equal access to their rights and rules under our court system. I firmly believe that abiding by clear rules, boundaries, and expectations results in better outcomes for our litigants, higher job satisfaction among lawyers and courthouse staff, and most importantly, better public perception of our judicial system as a whole.

Despite the many challenges faced by our communities, I firmly believe that stability can be preserved and children can be protected when families in our court system are heard, are treated fairly, and decisions are thoughtfully rendered. I would like to continue using my position as judge to have a positive impact on the lives of children and families, and hopefully be part of the solution to these problems.

The Commission commended Judge Roper for the implementation of consistent child-support enforcement policies and commented that they greatly appreciated her desire to continue serving as a Family Court judge.

On February 6, 2019, I was elected to serve as a full-time Family Court Judge for the Thirteenth Judicial Circuit, Seat 6, and I currently hold this position and serve in this capacity. My term will expire June 30, 2022. The Family Court, in general, has jurisdiction to hear the following cases: those within the provisions of the Uniform Interstate Family Support Act; actions for divorce, separate support and maintenance, legal separation, any and all marital litigation between parties; actions related to the termination of parental rights and adoptions of both children and adults; annulments of marriages; the changing of names of adults and children; actions to correct birth certificates; actions to enable minors to engage in military service; actions related to the support of spouses and or children and or to enforce the same; actions to enforce support or compel support to be paid for spouses and or children; actions related to the protection, guardianship and disposition of neglected children; actions related to custody determinations; actions brought by the South Carolina Department of Social Services related to abused and or neglected children and or infirmed/vulnerable adults; and actions related to juveniles charged with various crimes.

Judge Salvini provided the following list of her most significant orders or opinions:

(a) State vs. Minors Under the Age of 18. Not reported. No appellate review. This matter involved the State prosecuting several juveniles for allegedly committing the crimes of Murder, Armed Robbery and Conspiracy to Commit Armed Robbery. The State filed a motion seeking to transfer jurisdiction of the juvenile cases to General Sessions, thereby resulting in the juveniles being tried as adults as opposed to minors. I was the judge assigned to hear the State's motion(s), requiring contested evidentiary hearings for each juvenile charged. The juveniles ranged in age from fourteen (14) years old to sixteen (16) years old at the time the offenses were allegedly committed.

(b) SCDSS vs. Sweatt. Not Reported. Appellate review: S.C. Dep't of Soc. Servs. v. Sweatt, No. 2020-000908, 2021 WL 2104867 (S.C. Ct. App. May 24, 2021). This matter involved the termination of parents' rights to their minor child. The foster parents for the minor child were permitted to intervene in the action. A contested trial was held which resulted in the parents' rights being terminated. The order I issued terminating the parents' rights was affirmed on appeal.

(c) SCDSS vs. Mestler. Not reported. No Appellate review: This matter also involved the termination of parents' rights to their minor child. A contested trial was held, which resulted in the parents' rights being terminated. To my knowledge the parents did not appeal.

(d) SCDSS vs. Reed. Not reported. No Appellate review. This matter also involved the termination of parents' rights to their minor child. The foster parents for the minor child were permitted to intervene in the action. A contested trial was held, and I declined to terminate the parents' rights. To my knowledge no parties appealed my decision.

(e) SCDSS vs. Rogers. Not Reported. Appellate review: S.C. Dep't of Soc. Servs. v. Rogers, No. 2019-001487, 2021 WL 832040 (S.C. Ct. App. March 3, 2021). This matter also involved the termination of parents' rights to their minor child. The foster parents for the minor child were permitted to intervene in the action. A contested trial was held which resulted in the parents' rights being terminated. The order I issued terminating the parents' rights was affirmed on appeal.

Judge Salvini reported the following regarding her employment while serving as a judge:

2007-March 2019. Self-employed as the Senior Partner at Salvini & Bennett, Attorneys at Law, LLC. I, along with my former law partner, owned and managed the aforementioned law firm. During that time, I served as a part-time judge for the City of Mauldin as stated herein above. As the senior partner at Salvini & Bennett, Attorneys at Law, LLC, I handled a wide variety of legal issues for individuals and businesses. I represented individuals and businesses in civil, criminal and family law matters at all stages of the litigation process. My practice areas included: all pretrial and trial matters for contract and real property disputes, all pre-trial and trial matters in domestic law cases; all pre-trial and trial matters in probate court matters; all pre-trial and trial matters in state and federal criminal court cases; appeals to the Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals and appeals to the South Carolina Court of Appeals. I, along with my law partner, handled the administrative duties associated with operating a law firm, to include the management of our law firm's trust account.

When I was elected to serve as a Family Court Judge for the Thirteenth Judicial Circuit, Seat 6, in February 2019, I closed my law firm in March of 2019. Since that time, I have not had any other employment other than elected judicial office.

Judge Salvini further reported the following regarding unsuccessful candidacies:

(a) On or around 2009, I applied for a U.S. Magistrate position in the United States District Court for the District of South Carolina. The selection process for Federal Magistrate Judges requires screening of candidates by a panel. The panel selects five finalists from the applicants. From there, the U.S. District Court Judges decide who will fill the vacancy.

(b) In 2017, I applied for the Circuit Court Bench, Thirteenth Judicial Circuit, Seat 4. I was found to be qualified and nominated. However, I withdrew from the race prior to the vote on the candidates for this position.

Judge Novak further reported:
I am a firm believer that every individual is a creature of his or her own experiences. In that respect, I think both the breadth and depth of my personal and professional experience have provided me with the necessary tools to effectively serve our state on the Family Court Bench. My career has included a great deal of direct experience in the Family Courts of this state from the defense and prosecution of juvenile adjudications, to the more traditional representation of adult clients in divorce, division of property and custody actions. In addition, I have also had the opportunity to serve as a guardian ad litem for many years, and to mediate hundreds of cases within the Family Court system. I have certainly depended on these experiences and believe they have provided an excellent foundation for the rigors and technical experience I have found is required of a Family Court Judge.

At the same time, I have had the opportunity to serve at the highest levels of state government, practiced law in both the firm and solo settings, and presided over criminal and civil cases in the Beaufort County Magistrate Court for nearly eight (8) years. On the personal side, I have been married for twenty-five (25) years and have a twenty-three (23) year old daughter who has earned an undergraduate and Master's Degree, and is now starting her own professional career in Washington, DC. I believe all of this 'experience', both professional and personal, ground me as a person, guide me as an Attorney, and will continue to inspire me as a Judge.

Commencing my service on the Family Court bench, albeit in the midst of the pandemic, has been both educational and challenging; there have been good days, bad days and very disappointing and sad days. All tallied, and without a doubt; the opportunity to serve in this capacity has been the honor of a lifetime.

Family Court Judge, Fifteenth Judicial Circuit, Seat 2 – Elected by the General Assembly in February 2014. I have served as a Family Court judge from February 2014 until present.

Judge Buckhannon provided the following list of her most significant orders or opinions:

(a) Mark S. Jakubowski v. Pamela Jakubowski (2018-DR-26-1160)

This case dealt with the issue of modification of custody, wherein the parents had joint custody of the minor children pursuant to a settlement agreement that was approved and made part of the Final Order in their divorce case, with Plaintiff Father having primary status and Defendant Mother having secondary status. Plaintiff was seeking to modify custody and visitation based upon his desire to move from the area with the minor children. His reason for moving was two-fold. First, he had married, and his new wife lived in another state, and she earned a significantly higher income than he did and would not give up her job to move to SC. Second, he alleged his job situation had changed in SC causing him to make less money, and he believed he could make more money if he moved to the area in which his new wife lived. Father further testified that if he could not take the children with him, he would not move and allow Mother to have primary custody. Mother objected to the modification because she would lose the significant amount of time she spent with her children. Mother exercised her shared time with the children each week and often got more time than ordered. She was active in their schools, social and extracurricular activities. In fact, after the Final Order was entered, the Father moved to another area of the county, she moved as well to be close to the children even though it put her further away from her job.

Father failed to show a material and substantial change of circumstances in the best interest of the children to warrant a modification to allow him to take the children with him if he moved. At the time he entered into the agreement with Mother, he was already dating the woman and he knew she lived in another state, and they had already discussed marriage. Therefore, the fact of his marrying a woman who lived in another state should have been taken into consideration when entering into the agreement. Father also failed to present any evidence that his job status had changed through no fault of his own. In fact, he took so much time off to travel to see his wife, his boss reduced his hours which affected his income. Father also failed to show that he could have a better job in the other state because he had not yet applied for any jobs. Mother showed that she had a close relationship with the children, and that relationship would be hugely impacted if the children were moved to another state. She did not have the financial resources to travel to see the children or be involved in their activities on a regular basis.

I ruled that while the Court could not prevent Father from relocating, he could not relocate the children. If he chose to remain in South Carolina the Final Order would not be modified and would remain in place. However, if he chose to relocate, Mother would then have primary custody of the children, and Father would have a standard visitation schedule for out of state parents.

The Final Order was not appealed.

(b) Craig Doehner and Sharon Doehner v. Eric J. Perry (2019-DR-22-0316)
Ex Parte Linda Charles (Unpublished Opinion No. 2021-UP-004)

This case was a TPR/Adoption case wherein the maternal grandparents sought to terminate the parental rights of the Defendant Father and adopt his two minor children. Defendant Father is incarcerated for killing the mother of the children, and the Plaintiffs received an order of custody of the two children after the death of their daughter. The Defendant's mother, Linda Charles filed a Motion to Intervene into the action. Ms. Charles had filed an action against Craig and Sharon Doehner seeking visitation rights to the minor children prior to the filing of the TPR/Adoption action. However, after the TPR/Adoption action was filed, the visitation case between the grandparents went to trial. Ms. Carter was awarded visitation with the minor children. She filed her Motion to Intervene stating concern that the TPR/Adoption action, if granted, would stop her visitation with the minor children.

I denied her Motion to Intervene and found that she did not have standing to intervene into the TPR/Adoption action as her consent and relinquishment to the TPR and adoption was not required. I found that she had a separate order of visitation with the minor children in which the Doehners were bound, and they would have to modify that order if they wished to take away her rights to see the children. Ms. Charles appealed the Order regarding the Motion to Intervene, and the Order was affirmed.

(c) In the Interest of James Conway – A juvenile (2017-JU- 26-148; 2018-JU-26-425, 426, 457, 458, 482, 483)

This case dealt with a juvenile who was charged with four counts of Pointing and Presenting a Firearm and four counts of Assault & Battery 2nd degree. A truancy contempt charge was Nolle Prosequi by the State.

The juvenile, along with two friends, went to the pool area of an apartment complex that primarily houses students from Coastal Carolina University. They did not live in the complex and were not there visiting anyone in the complex. While there, they encountered four young adult men in the pool area. Pursuant to the testimony of all witnesses, one of these men and a friend of the Defendant exchanged words, but it did not become heated. They were all exiting the pool area at around the same time. When the Defendant got into his car, he was upset that one of the men had said something to his friend. He retrieved a gun from the console of the vehicle and pointing it at the four young men while yelling threats and obscenities. He then sped off in his vehicle while continuing to point the gun. Shots were not fired.

The juvenile was adjudicated delinquent and prior to sentencing was sent to the Reception and Evaluation center for a complete and thorough evaluation not to exceed forty-five days prior to disposition. Often sending a child to R&E makes a huge difference in their lives because they get a glimpse of what life behind the fence at DJJ can be like. Those forty-five days can serve as a turning point in their lives, and that is exactly what happened with this juvenile. When he came back after evaluation, he was a different person. He took responsibility for his actions and had remorse, which he had not shown during his testimony at trial. The report of his behavior from the R&E center was positive as he had no behavioral problems and did all that was asked of him. Based upon his evaluation and good behavior, I sentenced him to DJJ suspended to probation, with an opportunity to stay home unless his good behavior did not last. In that event he could be placed automatically in alternative placement. I have heard of no further misconduct by this juvenile.

The Order was not appealed.

(d) Michelle Kosier v. Carroll Curtis Coats, Jr. (2018-DR-22-0376)

This case dealt with the issue of transmutation of non-marital assets during the marriage. These parties were both in their fifties when they married after a short courtship. Both owned assets prior to the marriage. Husband owned real estate in a trust with his family and Wife had substantial investment accounts and owned a home. Both parties took steps within the first couple of years of marriage to add the other's name in some way to their non-marital property. Wife liquidated most of her investment accounts which was used as down payments to a home and business in Pawley's Island. Those properties were deeded in both names. Husband added the Wife's name to his family trust which held three homes in West Virginia, making her an equal beneficiary to the trust as him. During the marriage, both parties assured the other of being willing to walk away from the other's property if the marriage did not last; however, after the end of the short-term marriage, both parties claimed an equal interest in the other's property.

The tough issues of the case were the contribution levels of the parties to the marital property and the losses that were received because of forced sales of properties when the marriage collapse so soon after property was purchased. While it was clear Wife's non-marital funds were used to purchase the Pawley's Island properties, Husband did contribute some from his income to his income but not very much. When this property was sold, the parties took a huge loss and did not recover the amount of the down payments on the properties. Wife wanted the entire proceeds from the sale of the properties and wanted additional funds from Husband to make her "whole" considering what she had liquidated and used in non-marital funds. While Husband did add Wife's name to his non-marital property, they both testified that she had contributed nothing financially to this property. She had never even seen this property. However, she demanded to be awarded half of the property, and Husband wanted her to receive nothing. This case was a classic example of "What's mine is mine and what's yours is mine!" There were other assets that had been acquired during the marriage that was clearly marital, but not a substantial amount.

I found that both parties had transmuted the non-marital property into marital property. However, I took into consideration the contribution levels of the parties to the marital property and divided the property so that they had an even division of assets. In my ruling I focused heavily on being responsible for one's own actions.

The Final Order was not appealed.

(e) South Carolina Department of Social Services v. Victoria Lynn Rose and Medardo Cortes Carbajal (2017-DR 26-1144)

This was a termination of parental rights action brought by SCDSS. The Defendants are the biological parents of four children. Mother is a US citizen and Father is from Mexico and was a legal resident. The two youngest children are twins and upon their birth, they along with Mother tested positive for drugs. At that time SCDSS opened an abuse and neglect case against Mother. They placed all four children, which included the infants, a four-year-old and six-year-old, with Father as an in-home protector. Mother was given a treatment plan, but she consistently failed to actively participate in the treatment plan.

Father was stopped one day during a routine traffic stop and was found to have an outstanding warrant for CDV that Mother had taken out a few years earlier. The warrant had never been served upon him. Father was deported and went home to Tijuana, Mexico. The children were removed from the home and placed in separate foster care homes. Father attempted to maintain a relationship with the children through DSS, but his efforts were ignored. Even though he provided an address to SCDSS he received nothing. He pressured Mother to maintain her visitation with the children as he was able to FaceTime with them during her visits. After many months, Mother failed to successfully complete her treatment plan and the abuse and neglect case was closed. Because Father had never been served or given any possibility of participation in the case, all action taken in the underlying case was without prejudice to him.

SCDSS then filed the TPR case against both parents seeking to terminate their parental rights to the minor children. The alleged grounds against Father were failure to visit for over six months, failure to pay support for over six months, and children had been in foster care for 15 of the last 22 months. Father was served with the Summons and Complaint and an attorney was appointed for him. Father objected to having his parental rights terminated. While SCDSS did not like the fact Father lived in Mexico, upon a home study being done on Father's home in Tijuana, it was found that he was gainfully employed, had a home that could accommodate the children and had family support. All references spoke highly of Father and his work ethic. SCDSS rejected the first home study as "unsatisfactory" even though the agency who did the study found his home to be "satisfactory". However, once Father became aware of the problem, he obtained new housing and made every effort to address any issues that SCDSS may have had. Once again, they found the home study "unsatisfactory" after the agency doing the study found his home "satisfactory". SCDSS continued with the TPR action against Father and Mother.

I found that SCDSS failed to meet their burden in proving their grounds for TPR against Father. The statute requires proof that a parent who fails to visit has not been prevented from doing so. By his deportation and SCDSS's refusal to arrange any contact between him and the children, he was prevented from having any meaningful contact with his children. Regarding the allegations of failure to support, SCDSS would provide no information of where support could be sent. Once he was provided the information, he began sending support each month. Regarding the time the children spent in foster care, the case worker acknowledged that Father had been suitable when in the US, but she never considered placing the children with him in his home in Mexico, and she made the decision to put them in foster care and leave them there. Basically, SCDSS made the decision they were not going to go though any steps to reunite the children with Father because of the fact he lived in Mexico.

I granted the TPR as to Mother, as she had done absolutely nothing to get her children back, including not showing up for the trial. However, I denied it as to Father and required SCDSS to reunite him with the children. This case was a learning experience as the children had to have passports issued, and the Mexican consulate became involved as a resource. However, the children were reunited with their Father.

The Final Order was not appealed.

(h) the BOD May 2019 - present

Judge Buckhannon further reported:

Except for my first year in practice, I have dedicated my entire professional life to practicing in Family Court and have practiced in no other area. I am passionate about this area of the law. We deal with people's children, livelihood, and assets during the most difficult time of their lives. Having gone through the process of a divorce myself, I have been on the "litigant" side of Family Court as well. Therefore, I am well acquainted with the fact that someone going into the Family Court arena must put their trust in the system and the fact that the judge presiding over the matter has the requisite knowledge of law and concern for the litigants.

Since becoming a Family Court judge, I have come to realize what importance the position brings with it. I believe we not only have a duty to serve in the courtroom, but we have a duty to help educate where we can to make the Family Court system work better and benefit the people we serve. While judges are important to the justice system, we are just one cog in a big wheel, and I feel an obligation to make sure the entire wheel is working.

As a judge, I have endeavored to do as much as I possibly can to educate attorneys who practice in Family Law. However, recently my endeavors to educate has extended to newly elected Family Court judges as well. As one of the two Family Court judges who serve on the Chief Justice's Commission on the Profession, I took on the task of addressing the issue of training for newly elected Family Court judges. To accomplish this, I created and chair a Training Committee that developed a new training plan for Family Court judges. This plan includes a training team of judges who are committed to providing extensive training on the bench and in chambers. The plan also includes expanded training time and exposure to different circuits around the state. It is our goal to make sure each judge who presides in Family Court has the training to make the decisions that we are called upon to make.

As part of my desire to see better prepared people in Family Court, I have helped train lay guardians ad litem who represent children in abuse and neglect cases in Horry County. Every child in cases such as these must have an advocate who is trained in the role, they must play in the court process. Therefore, I participate in the training of these guardian ad litems, and I also participate in their required continuing education courses. It is my goal that each child has representation as prepared and capable as any other participant in a DSS case.

I have also partnered with the Horry County School District to combat the problem of truancy. It is an established fact that truancy is a bigger indicator of future delinquent behavior than any other indicator including race, gender, or social economic status. Horry County is one of the few counties that aggressively deals with truancy, which has a correlating effect upon lessening the amount of violent and more serious crimes in juvenile court. Therefore, I participate in the programs the district holds with parents and students to educate them about the importance of school attendance. It is my goal for every child to get an education so that they can have every chance available to them to succeed.

I have participated with the South Carolina Human Trafficking Task Force for the Coastal Region to educate members of the community regarding the indicators and dangers of sex trafficking that impacts our children and young adults. I have participated in seminars held in schools, churches, civic organizations, etc. to help stop this tremendous problem that has so many victims. I have traveled to Charleston, Columbia, Anderson, and other places around the state to take part in the vital effort to educate parents, children, and community leaders about how victimization happens and how it can be avoided. I believe that education is key.

(a) Law Office of Walter J. Wylie, September 1996 –1999. Worked as an associate in the primary area of family law.

(c) Frazier Law Firm, P.C., March 2010 – Present. Opened my own law firm where I continue my family law practice. I oversee the administration and financial management of this practice, including all bank accounts and trust accounts.

Ms. Frazier further reported regarding her experience with the Family Court practice area:

Divorce and Equitable Division: Throughout my legal career, I have represented both husbands and wives in fault based and no-fault divorces. Typically, there are issues regarding the equitable division of marital property. I have negotiated settlements in these cases, as well as litigated those that could not be settled. I have represented litigants with complex financial circumstances, where significant assets are at stake and forensic accountants and other experts were necessary. I have also represented litigants with very limited resources, with significant debt, where parties were faced with foreclosure and bankruptcy. Some of these cases involve the issue of whether non-marital property has been transmuted into marital property.

Child Custody and Adoption: I have also represented mothers, fathers, grandparents, great-grandparents, relatives and third parties in custody cases, termination of parental rights and adoptions. The custody cases are sometimes the most difficult and heart wrenching. Some parties lose sight of what is best for the children and become focused on winning or losing. It is my obligation to keep my clients aware of this pitfall, while still advocating for their position. On the other hand, uncontested adoptions are the most rewarding part of my practice. I have had the pleasure of representing one couple in the adoption and/or domestication of foreign adoptions of multiple children from various countries.

I have served as a court appointed guardian ad litem in hundreds of contested custody, visitation, and adoption cases throughout my career. This role allows me to focus on the children and less on the litigants. This experience will serve me well in a judicial capacity as the Family Court's role is to determine what is in the best interest of the child while applying the law.

Abuse/Neglect and Juvenile Cases: I have also been involved in numerous abuse and neglect cases. I have represented defendants or relatives in these cases, I have served as a guardian ad litem and I also act as a mediator in these matters. In these cases, the Family Court must protect the children, while being mindful that most of these parties suffer from very limited finances. I represented juveniles in Family Court earlier in my career. This representation was sometime quite difficult, as I saw my role as two-fold. I had to balance the advocacy for my client, while encouraging them to avoid a future in the juvenile justice and criminal system.

I have also served as a certified family court mediator in hundreds of cases involving the above-referenced issues. Mediation has become a very successful alternative to litigation and allows the parties to play a role in reaching a resolution. I believe this experience will also serve me well as a Family Court judge. It requires you to analyze and approach the cases from a different perspective.

Ms. Frazier reported the frequency of her court appearances during the past five years as follows:
(a) Federal: 0

(b) State: average one to two times per week

Ms. Frazier reported the percentage of her practice involving civil, criminal, domestic and other matters during the past five years as follows:
(a) Civil: 0%;
(b) Criminal: 0%;
(c) Domestic: 99%;
(d) Other: 1% probate/wills

Ms. Frazier reported the percentage of her practice in trial court during the past five years as follows:
(a) Jury: 0%;
(b) Non-jury: 100%

Ms. Frazier provided that during the past five years she most often served as sole counsel.

The following is Ms. Frazier's account of her five most significant litigated matters:
(a) Suzanne Gooch Castles vs. Robert Lee Castles, 2009-DR-26-3111. I represented the wife in a hotly contested case involving a common law marriage claim and equitable division of marital assets. The parties worked together in building an engineering firm and there was significant evidence substantiating the wife's common law marriage claim. We originally settled the matter in mediation, agreeing that a common law marriage existed and including continued employment for the wife for a period of years. However, prior to the approval of the agreement, the opposing party claimed that the wife repudiated the agreement and sought to set the agreement aside. Additionally, there was an issue of interpretation of some of the terms. We litigated these issues before the Family Court and I prevailed on enforcing the mediation agreement. Additionally, the Court addressed the interpretation of the language used in the agreement. This case was significant to me as the establishment of common law marriage can be very difficult to sustain and I was able to enforce the mediated agreement.

(b) Patricia A. Hocker vs. Michael B. Hocker, 2003-DR-26-2504. This case involved the issue of alimony and attorney's fees. The husband had an affair with a woman who babysat for their minor children. Husband admitted to the affair, but claimed that his wife had condoned his misconduct when they attempted reconciliation. This was a long term marriage, with a large disparity in income. My client had been a stay at home mother throughout most of the marriage and she had not had the opportunity to pursue a career of her own. This case was significant to me as I was successful in proving that there was no condonation of the adultery and my client received a favorable award of alimony and attorney's fees. The amount of alimony and attorney's fees were appealed by husband and the decision was upheld.

(c) Stephanie Allyson Militano-Catanzaro vs. Leonard Vincent Catanzaro, 2009-DR-26-1158. In this case, I represented the husband and successfully defended an alimony award. The parties had been married fifteen years and had three children together. After factoring in child support, the Family Court found that the wife's disposable income was greater than husband's disposable income. If alimony had been awarded, it would only serve to increase this disparity and would have caused significant financial distress for my client.

(d) Kenneth and Sara Gore vs. Lynsie DePoalo, 2013-DR-26-2954. This was a contested termination of parental rights and step-parent adoption. The mother and father had previously settled their custody/visitation case after extensive negotiation. After the Final Order was entered, mother moved to the west coast to pursue a bartending career. She made no effort to visit with her child nor did she maintain significant contact with the child for approximately one year. I filed an action to terminate her parental rights and requested a step-parent adoption. After hearing testimony and input from the guardian ad litem, the Court granted both the termination of parental rights and the step-parent adoption. This case was significant as it was a close fact situation and clearly rested on the credibility of the parties and witnesses. The guardian ad litem and the minor child's wishes were also crucial in this case.

(e) Linda J. Hardwick and William T. Hardwick vs. Mike Hardwick and Tonya Marie Hardwick, 2019-DR-26-1827. This was a grandparent custody case in which the parents had issues with drugs. It was a common case that had originated as a Department of Social Services action and moved into the private realm. Unfortunately, this case came up for trial during COVID-19 and the courts were not having in-person hearings. However, this matter needed to be resolved for the child's sake. Therefore, this matter was heard via Web-Ex. This case was significant as it was very challenging to try this case in this manner and required flexibility and patience to litigate this matter properly in order to provide some finality to this family.

The following is Ms. Frazier's account of the civil appeal she has personally handled:
Patricia A. Hocker vs. Michael B. Hocker, Unpublished Opinion No. 2006-UP-136, March 9, 2006, Court of Appeals of South Carolina.

Ms. Frazier reported that she has not personally handled any criminal appeals.

Ms. Frazier further reported the following regarding unsuccessful candidacies:
I previously ran for Judge of the Family Court, At-Large, Seat 7 in 2016.

(9) Judicial Temperament:
The Commission believes that Ms. Frazier's temperament would be excellent.

(10) Miscellaneous:

The

Committee noted: "The Committee is aware of and is concerned about the civility of the race for this particular seat. This candidate has strong supporters and detractors, as does her opponent. While there is a definite divide regarding the candidate's personalities there appears to be an overall agreement that both candidates are qualified for the position.

Ms. Frazier is not married. She has two children.

Ms. Frazier reported that she was a member of the following Bar and professional associations:
(a) SC Bar Association, 1996 – present;
(b) SC Bar, Family Law Section Council from 2014- present. Served as Secretary, Chair-Elect, Chair and Past Chair from 2015- 2019;

Ms. Frazier provided that she was a member of the following civic, charitable, educational, social, or fraternal organizations:
(a) Coastal Inn of Court Pupilage and Mentoring Organization, Master 2014 - present.
Served as Secretary, 2019 -2020 and currently serving as Treasurer, 2020- present.
(b) Coastal Women's Law Society/Coastal Women's Lawyer Association.

Ms. Frazier further reported:
I was married for over twenty years and have two children, who will both be attending college this fall. I have been impacted by divorce myself, as well as through members of my family over the years. These experiences have provided me with a unique prospective and I have gained a great deal of empathy for litigants going through the process of divorce. I have great respect for the position I am seeking and I will carefully weigh all evidence that would come before me and treat litigants with the respect they deserve. I will strive to do what is best for minor children at all times. I can bring the knowledge, experience, common sense, and compassion to this position and I am excited about the prospect of serving in this capacity.

I was in the private practice of law in Union, SC from the time of my admission to the South Carolina Bar in 1983 until February 24, 2014 when I began my duties as a Family Court Judge. Initially, I was hired in 1983 as an associate with the law office of William E. Whitney, Jr. I was an associate with this office from 1983 to 1985. In 1985, I became a partner and the firm name was changed to Whitney & White. This association remained intact from 1985 through 1988. In January, 1989, Pete G. Diamaduros joined the firm and the firm name was changed to Whitney, White & Diamaduros. This partnership remained intact from 1989 through August, 1992. In August, 1992, Sammy G. Diamaduros joined the firm and the firm name was changed to Whitney, White, Diamaduros & Diamaduros. In May 2000, Pete G. Diamaduros, Sammy Diamaduros and I established the firm of White, Diamaduros & Diamaduros. This partnership remained intact from May 2000 until February 21, 2014. Throughout my legal career, I maintained a general practice. My areas of practice have included domestic litigation, criminal defense, civil trial law, real estate transactions, and a modicum of trust and estates. I assumed primary administrative and financial management of Whitney & White in 1985 and remained primary until the formation of White, Diamaduros & Diamaduros in 2000. Pete G. Diamaduros was the managing partner of that firm, but he and I consulted with each other on administrative and financial matters on a regular basis until I took the bench in February, 2014.

My beloved parents taught me to live my life on the foundational principle that all human beings are created equal and are entitled to be treated with fairness, dignity, courtesy and respect. I have lived my life by that foundational principle. My life circumstances have put me in positions where I have had opportunities to relate with people ranging from high social standing and significant wealth to folks from third world countries who would be considered by many to live in circumstances that placed them as the "lowest of the low". I have mined value from all of these experiences and relationships, and that value has served me well as I strive to be, and continue to be, a fair, just and equitable jurist.

(7) Mental Stability:
Ms. Usry appears to be mentally capable of performing the duties of the office she seeks.

(8) Experience:
Ms. Usry was admitted to the South Carolina Bar in 2007.

(a) Law Clerk, The Honorable R. Knox McMahon
August 2007 – August 2008
As a law clerk, I was responsible for writing legal briefs and performing legal research, scheduling hearings, communicating with counsel regarding matters before the Circuit Court, and assisting Judge McMahon with his analysis of civil and criminal legal issues. I enjoyed an intimate study of the operations of the Circuit Court and gained valuable experience observing a wide range of civil and criminal hearings and trials during my clerkship. I continue to reflect upon the experiences I had working for a Circuit Court judge in my practice today.

(b) Assistant Solicitor, Eleventh Judicial Circuit Solicitor's Office
September 2007 – June 2019
Over the course of my eleven-year journey as an Assistant Solicitor, I handled a large, rapidly evolving case list and routinely prepared cases for trial and tried cases to verdict.
During the first half of my tenure, I was assigned to the domestic violence case docket. I acted as the sole domestic violence prosecutor, handling a docket of around 200 cases. Needless to say, each case had a victim or victims whose interests had to be considered. I was able to increase the number of cases moved each year by bringing more domestic violence cases to trial than our office had in the past. I spoke to various groups at presentations, including CLE events hosted by the South Carolina Commission on Prosecution Coordination. I also provided legal education to law enforcement personnel on the law of domestic violence. I was instrumental in creating laminated legal information sheets for law enforcement officers to assist them in making charging decisions. I also created pamphlets with information about protective orders and domestic abuse assistance programs that were distributed to law enforcement and local magistrate offices.

During the final five to six years of my tenure at the Eleventh Judicial Circuit Solicitor's Office, I took on the role of a supervisor. I took on additional duties, such as coordinating the setting of the Eleventh Judicial Circuit Court General Sessions calendar for the upcoming year, overseeing the selection of the yearly Grand Jury, and managing the trial roster. My duties as trial roster manager included gathering cases for trial for upcoming terms of court, and drafting and distributing the Eleventh Judicial Circuit Court General Sessions roster. During terms of court, my duties included coordinating with trial judges and ensuring all attorneys, both prosecutors and defense counsel, were informed of developments. I participated in our office's hiring process by reviewing resumes and interviewing new lawyers, paralegals, and staff members. I was also responsible for interviewing and hiring interns and law clerks, and acted as the point of contact for all of the law clerks during their clerkships.

In addition to the supervisory and managerial responsibilities I assumed, I continued to maintain a docket of 150 to 200 warrants. My cases primarily involved violent crimes such as armed robbery, criminal sexual conduct, and aggravated assault. I appeared in court frequently for motions and pleas. I tried numerous cases as first chair and second chair, including cases involving murder, attempted murder, criminal sexual conduct, and domestic violence. I mentored new attorneys in our office and assisted them in their trial preparation and at trial.

(c) Attorney, Whetstone, Perkins & Fulda, LLC
July 2019 – Present
In July of 2019, I entered private practice and joined the firm Whetstone, Perkins, and Fulda, LLC. During my time in private practice, I have had the opportunity to work on civil cases involving a wide range of complex issues. I have worked on cases involving 42 U.S.C § 1983 claims, medical malpractice claims, class actions, the South Carolina Tort Claims Act, negligent infliction of emotional distress, false arrest, negligent hiring, and personal injury. I have drafted demands, complaints, answers, and counterclaims, responded to complex discovery requests, taken depositions, and represented my clients at mediation. I have also taken on a number of criminal defense cases, and I have been appointed to represent two defendants indicted by the statewide Grand Jury.

Ms. Usry further reported regarding her experience with the Circuit Court practice area:

My litigation experience is extensive. With respect to criminal matters, I have participated in all aspects of prosecution, from advising law enforcement about the existence of probable cause during the initial phase of the process all the way through closing argument. I am intimately familiar with evaluating legal issues and evidentiary matters in order to assess the strength of a criminal case at trial. The legal issues I have reviewed, researched, and argued before the Circuit Court include Confrontation Clause issues, warrantless searches and search warrants, prior bad acts, expert qualifications, impeachment scenarios, and multiple hearsay arguments and exceptions. During the past five years, I have tried cases and prepared cases for trial that pled prior to calling the case involving charges of murder, attempted murder, criminal sexual conduct, armed robbery, domestic violence, drug offenses, and other crimes. I would estimate that I tried or prepared for trial more than fifteen cases over the past five years, and more during the six-year time period prior to that.

My experience as a judicial law clerk exposed me to a wide range of civil cases, motions, and arguments. During my time with Whetstone, Perkins, and Fulda, LLC, I have worked on a wide range of civil cases involving complex legal issues and discovery, including cases involving 42 U.S.C § 1983 claims, medical malpractice claims, class actions, the South Carolina Tort Claims Act, negligent infliction of emotional distress, false arrest, negligent hiring, and personal injury arising in the context of an array of different factual circumstances. Procedurally, I have drafted and filed complaints, answers, counterclaims, and confronted complex discovery issues. I have taken and participated in depositions and presented at mediation for my clients. I have prepared civil cases for trial that ultimately settled out of court, and I have participated in the trial of a civil case involving personal injuries suffered by our client.

While my experience with civil matters is not equal to my extensive criminal experience, I have spent a significant percentage of my time as a lawyer in court. The South Carolina Rules of Evidence that I researched and argued in criminal cases are the very same set of rules I would apply as a Circuit Court judge in a civil case. My knowledge and understanding of Circuit Court operations and procedures are enhanced by my experience as a law clerk, during which time the Circuit Court Judge I clerked for was the Chief Administrative Judge for the Court of Common Pleas for the Eleventh Judicial Circuit. I have observed a wide ranges of civil court motions, arguments, and trials. In addition, my responsibilities as the trial roster manager for the Eleventh Judicial Circuit Solicitor's Office gave me the benefit of working closely with many Circuit Court Judges from all over the state and provided me with a unique perspective on the various issues that can arise at the Circuit Court level. I have witnessed and participated in countless jury qualifications and pre-trial motions hearings. I understand how a docket is run by various judges and the issues that can arise on both sides of a case, both plaintiff and defense.

Ms. Usry reported the frequency of her court appearances during the past five years as follows:

(a) Federal: I have not yet personally argued in Federal Court, but I have made an appearance via filing.

(b) State: While employed with the Eleventh Judicial Circuit Solicitor's Office between July of 2016 and July of 2019, I appeared in court every other week, and during those weeks, I appeared often. Since entering private practice, I have not appeared in court as often, but I have appeared a number of times for hearings and other matters.

Ms. Usry reported the percentage of her practice involving civil, criminal, domestic and other matters during the past five years as follows:

(a) Civil: 35%;
(b) Criminal: 65%;
(c) Domestic: 0%;
(d) Other: 0%.

Ms. Usry reported the percentage of her practice in trial court during the past five years as follows:

(a) Jury: 20%;
(b) Non-jury: 80%.

Ms. Usry provided that during the past five years she most often served as sole counsel.

During my time with the Eleventh Judicial Circuit Solicitor's Office, I most often served as sole counsel on any matter in nonjury court. When matters went to trial court, I served as chief counsel approximately half the time and co-council half the time. Since entering private practice, I have served primarily as co-counsel on various matters.

The following is Ms. Usry's account of her five most significant litigated matters:

(a) State v. Bennie Golston, 732 S.E.2d 175, 399 S.C. 393 (Ct. App. 2012)
I served as co-counsel in this domestic violence prosecution. Among the numerous legal and evidentiary arguments made throughout the trial, the two most significant were whether the defendant was a cohabitant of the victim's and whether the facts presented at trial allowed for a jury charge on a lesser included offense. The South Carolina Court of Appeals reviewed the case and determined that based on the specific trial record, facts did not exist which would allow a reasonable juror to convict the defendant of the lesser offense and find him not guilty of the charged offense of criminal domestic violence of a high and aggravated nature. This matter is important to me personally, because the testimony I elicited from a witness helped form the factual foundation for the opinion issued on appeal. In addition, the case provided me with insight into the important concerns that arise in the selection and application of jury charges to the facts of a case, which I have continued to expand upon in other matters that I have brought to trial.

(b) Latara Brooks v. Gwendolyn Evette Green and Tracy Green, 2018-CP-38-00776
This civil case settled the Thursday prior to trial. This case is significant, because I was intimately involved in preparing the case for trial. I took the deposition of the defendant, Tracy Green. Information elicited during that deposition gave us important impeachment evidence which would have been used at trial. In addition, I was involved in preparing witnesses. This case gave me insight into how certain aspects of preparing a civil trial are different, but it also confirmed for me the many similarities between presenting civil and criminal cases in Circuit Court, such as the importance of the damages suffered by personal injury clients and the harm done to victims.

(c) State v. Kevan D. Parker, 2018-GS-32-00399 & 400
This case involved a chronic sexual offender who abused his children over the course of many years. The case pled the Friday morning prior to trial. This case is significant because of the complexity of the legal and evidentiary issues I prepared for in the weeks leading up to the resolution. The case involved complex delayed disclosure issues and jurisdictional issues, as the abuse occurred years prior to trial at various residences in different counties. In addition to the intricacies of preparing multiple young victims for trial, I researched and prepared arguments for the introduction of prior bad act evidence, hearsay evidence, search warrant suppression, and expert testimony. The week prior to the trial, we engaged in telephonic pre-trial conference regarding the confidentiality of extensive counseling records of the victims.

(d) State v. Michael Fulwiley, 2016-GS-32-000670
The defendant in this matter was charged with shoplifting, third degree, enhanced. This case is significant because of the search issues. In this case, the law enforcement officer pulled the defendant over for a seatbelt violation and decided to arrest the defendant for shoplifting during the course of that traffic stop. Many cases that are brought before the Circuit Court in General Sessions matters involve search issues, and the law in cases involving both warrantless searches and search warrants is vast and complex. Understanding these issues and how they must be procedurally presented and argued before the court made me a better advocate.

(e) Pro Se Defendant Trial
This trial occurred in General Sessions court. I was involved in the prosecution of a pro se defendant who was successful in their defense. Since the case has been expunged, I am not listing the case name. This was a week-long trial that involved a number of complex legal issues and a pro se defendant who was very intelligent. The case is very significant to me as it taught me the extreme complexities of handling litigation against a pro se defendant. It is also my belief that some of our greatest lessons come from our losses.

Ms. Usry reported she has not personally handled any civil or criminal appeals.

Ms. Usry reported that he has never held judicial office.

Ms. Usry further reported the following regarding unsuccessful candidacies:

RECORD FOR VOTING

H. 3055 implements a recommendation arising from the House Legislative Oversight Committee's study of the Department of Natural Resources.

Rep. Wm. Weston Newton

Rep. HOWARD moved that the House recede until 6:40 p.m., which was agreed to.

JOINT ASSEMBLY

At 6:57 p.m. the Senate appeared in the Hall of the House. The President of the Senate called the Joint Assembly to order and announced that it had convened under the terms of a Concurrent Resolution adopted by both Houses.

H. 4747 -- Rep. Lucas: A CONCURRENT RESOLUTION INVITING HIS EXCELLENCY, HENRY DARGAN MCMASTER, GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF SOUTH CAROLINA, TO ADDRESS THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY IN JOINT SESSION AT 7:00 P.M. ON WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 19, 2022, IN THE CHAMBER OF THE SOUTH CAROLINA HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

The Honorable Henry McMaster and distinguished party were escorted to the rostrum by Senators Peeler, Massey, Hutto, Scott and Shealy and REPRESENTATIVES HEWITT, DAVIS, T. MOORE, MCGARRY, HOWARD and MURRAY. The President of the Senate recognized our special guests and then introduced Governor McMaster, who then addressed the Joint Assembly as follows:

2022 State of the State Address
Governor Henry McMaster
Wednesday, January 19, 2022

Mr. Speaker, Mr. President, ladies and gentlemen of the General Assembly, my fellow South Carolinians:

We are here tonight to address challenges and opportunities. But first, as in prior years, I'd like to recognize those in uniform whom we lost in the line of duty.

Lance Corporal Melton "Fox" Gore of the Horry County Police Department;

Chief William Edward "Eddie" McNeill, Jr., of the Campobello Fire Department; and Lieutenant John Stewart of the Lake City Police Department.

To the families and loved ones of these men, with all our hearts, we offer our condolences. We are eternally grateful for their service.

Thirty-three South Carolinians have received the Medal of Honor since it was created more than 150 years ago. The medal, which requires nominees to receive presidential approval before it is granted, is given to those who distinguish themselves "conspicuously by gallantry and intrepidity at the risk of his life above and beyond the call of duty."

Two South Carolinians were recently awarded the Medal of Honor.

Sergeant Major Thomas Patrick Payne, who now serves in the Army Special Operations Command as an instructor, was awarded the Medal of Honor for his actions during a hostage rescue mission in an area of northern Iraq controlled by the Islamic State. A graduate of Lugoff-Elgin High School, and a veteran of 17 combat deployments, Sergeant Major Payne has also received multiple other combat decorations, including Bronze Star medals for both valor and service, and the Purple Heart. He and his wife Allison have three children and live in South Carolina.

Christopher Andrew Celiz was a Sergeant First Class in the Army and attended The Citadel before enlisting in the Army in 2007. Sergeant First Class Celiz was killed on his fifth deployment when he willingly exposed himself to heavy enemy fire to direct and lead a medical helicopter evacuation of wounded troops. A native of Summerville, Sergeant First Class Celiz was also awarded the Bronze Star medal and Meritorious Service medal.

The sacrifices these two men made in service of their country and fellow soldiers are difficult to comprehend. Their bravery in the face of imminent danger should inspire us all.

We are honored to have Sergeant Major Payne and his wife Allison, along with Sergeant First Class Celiz's wife, Mrs. KT Celiz, and their daughter Shannon here with us tonight. Though we will never be able to adequately show our appreciation for what they have done, I would humbly ask them to stand and give us the opportunity to do our best now.

I am delighted to have with us once again tonight our First Lady, my bride Peggy, our son Henry, Jr., and his wife Virginia, and also our daughter Mary Rogers and her husband Sam. Please stand and be recognized.

Also, our Lieutenant Governor, Pamela Evette, and her husband David. Please stand and be recognized.

Ladies and gentlemen, South Carolina is booming. People from all over the world are visiting and falling in love with our State. Employers are creating new jobs, entrepreneurs are opening new businesses, and companies are deciding to relocate here. Our business and family-friendly environment has produced historic gains in new jobs, capital investment, and population growth.

Since January of 2017, we have announced 58,803 new jobs with over $17 billion in new capital investment in the Palmetto State. In the last twelve months, we've announced 15,000 new jobs and $4.3 billion in new capital investment.

As of November 2021, there were 18,000 more South Carolinians employed than there were in February 2020. Our gross domestic product increased 10% during the COVID-19 pandemic and has increased 26% over the last five years.

The state's unemployment rate remains well below the national average and has improved every month of 2021 - dropping from 5.6% in November 2020 to 3.7% in November 2021. The 2020 U.S. Census data shows that South Carolina is the tenth fastest-growing state in the nation. I extend hearty thanks to all here tonight and to those who have gone before, for the excellent stewardship which has brought us to this day. For now, we have opportunity like we have never seen before.

Our new Secretary of Commerce, Harry Lightsey, is here tonight. He is a man of vision and accomplishment. Every indication is that this year, 2022, will be even better than last year for Team South Carolina's economic recruitment successes. Welcome Secretary Lightsey. Please stand and be recognized.

In the last year, we announced numerous transformative economic development victories. Some are represented here tonight.

In Spartanburg, Oshkosh Defense will invest $155 million and will employ more than 1,000 Upstate residents to manufacture the Postal Service's new fleet of electric mail trucks that will replace the nation's current fleet of combustion engine mail trucks. Welcome Mr. Don Bent, Chief Operating Officer of Oshkosh Defense.

In Chester County, the Ernest and Julio Gallo Winery will locate their only bottling and cannery facility outside of California, with a $423 million investment and almost 500 new jobs. Welcome Mr. Stein Edwards, Senior Director of Operations for Gallo Winery.

In Edgefield County, Generac Power Systems will construct a new facility to manufacture commercial and residential power generators, and has already announced an expansion. These projects will create a combined 750 new jobs. Welcome Mr. Tom Pettit, Chief Operations Officer, and Mr. Steve Andrejack, Senior Director of Operations.

Walmart continues to invest in South Carolina with the construction of a new distribution center in Spartanburg with a $450 million investment creating more than 400 new jobs. Welcome Mr. Jeff Holzbauer, General Manager, Walmart Import and Logistics.

In Kershaw County, Prestage Farms will open an agribusiness processing and canning facility, investing $150 million and creating almost 300 new jobs. Welcome Mr. Zach Prestage of Prestage Farms.

I would ask all these gentlemen to please stand and be recognized.

During the COVID-19 pandemic, many states shuttered their economies, closed businesses, and enacted draconian restrictions, many of which continue to this very day. We took a better approach. We never closed. Through our reasonable steps of limited, measured, and temporary actions, we have been able to combat the virus without crippling our economy.

Also, by being careful and conservative and freezing new spending in 2020, not only did we avoid cutting services, raising taxes, or borrowing money, we saw our state's booming economy create a large amount of new surplus revenues in 2021.

Compare this to New York, where there are 476,000 fewer people employed now than in February 2020. The New York state unemployment rate is the 3rd highest in the country, and 2.7% higher than it was in February 2020.

Or Michigan, where the unemployment rate in November 2021 was 5.9%--the 9th highest in the country. More Americans moved out of Michigan during the pandemic than nearly every other state in our nation.

Today, South Carolina's state government is in the strongest fiscal condition ever. We have the largest budget surplus, the largest rainy day reserve account balance, and the lowest debt in our history.

However, South Carolina is facing a new challenge – the dangerous, irresponsible, and sometimes unconstitutional behavior of the federal government. While we and other states have differed with federal authorities before, this last year has been alarming and unprecedented.

On his first day in office, President Biden canceled the immigration policies established by President Trump, and halted construction of the border wall, thus surrendering our own nation's sovereignty and security to millions of illegal and undocumented immigrants, including human traffickers, drug dealers, and foreign agents, who have freely crossed our southern border.

The resulting lawlessness and chaos required us to deploy troops from the South Carolina National Guard to defend the border, and to protect our State, and others, from the danger posed by the cartels and traffickers.

I traveled to the border to visit our troops and border patrol agents. The challenges they face are steep. The Biden administration--and the media--have turned their backs on these brave men and women, but South Carolina will not. We always answer the call for help, and we always step into the breach. We will carry the banner of freedom even if the federal government walks away.

The Biden administration also took aim at South Carolina's pro-life and pro-family policies. They challenged my policy of preventing taxpayer dollars from going to abortion providers like Planned Parenthood, which sued to overturn our Heartbeat Law, and to stop the State from protecting the most precious of rights--the right to life.

They attacked South Carolina's faith-based foster care providers like Miracle Hill, despite a recent U.S. Supreme Court ruling that upheld the right of faith-based foster-care providers who choose to work with parents holding similar religious beliefs.

They even canceled South Carolina's requirement that Medicaid recipients must work, volunteer, or attend school to receive benefits. While at the same time, the Biden administration was paying people on unemployment to stay at home rather than return to work or get a job.

President Biden and his liberal allies sued to force South Carolina to adopt universal mask mandates in public schools, despite clear constitutional authority to the contrary.

And finally, the Biden administration has illegally attempted to impose vaccine mandates on private citizens all across the country, in clear violation of constitutional authority and of common sense.

Thankfully, President Biden has been about as successful in defending his mandates in court as he has been selling them to the American people.

Despite this barrage of unwarranted challenges, we will continue to grow and prosper. We will not let the federal government violate the Constitution and dictate decisions that rightly belong to South Carolina and her people. We will fight to defend the Rule of Law, preserve our state's sovereignty, and reject efforts to destroy individual liberty, wherever they occur.

A determined warrior in our effort is with us tonight, our Attorney General, Alan Wilson. Please stand and be recognized.

As you are aware, the AccelerateSC task force has played a vital role in the state's response to the COVID-19 pandemic. This task force is comprised of volunteers from every sector of our state's economy, along with officials from state and local agencies, and organizations.

Almost two years ago, the AccelerateSC task force produced recommendations which guided us in taking very targeted and limited measures to combat the spread of the COVID-19 virus without shutting down our state's economy.

In addition, AccelerateSC conducted a thorough and complete review of the CARES Act and the American Rescue Plan Act (ARPA) for the purpose of providing expenditure recommendations to my office.

I believe that AccelerateSC is the model for collaboration, cooperation and communication between the government and the private sector, and on behalf of our entire state, I thank them for their extraordinary accomplishments.

Tonight, we have the leaders of this remarkable effort with us: former Senator Greg Ryberg served as chairman, and Mr. James Burns served as the executive director. Thank you for your service. Please stand and be recognized.

South Carolina's booming economy, with almost $3 billion in surplus revenue, along with the $2.4 billion in ARPA funds--presents us with a once in a lifetime opportunity.

We know that the competition for jobs and investment is fierce, both nationally and globally. We cannot be complacent. We must act. We must make big, bold, and transformative investments in the areas of education, infrastructure, workforce, and economic development to strengthen the foundations of our prosperity for generations to come.

For the second year in a row, my Executive Budget places $500 million into our state's "rainy day" reserve fund. By saving this money instead of spending it--something that served our State well last year--we will double the size of our reserves and will be prepared for any future economic uncertainties, should they arise.

I ask the General Assembly to consider maintaining a minimum balance in the rainy-day reserve account equal to 10% of the total amount of funds available to be appropriated in any year.

Despite our great successes, South Carolina's marginal income tax rate of 7% is the highest in the southeast and the 12th highest in the nation.

For example, Tennessee and Florida have no income tax at all. Louisiana is at 6%. Arkansas is at 5.9%, Missouri at 5.4%. Georgia and Virginia are at 5.75%. North Carolina is at 5.25% and just passed legislation to cut it again. Alabama, Mississippi, and Kentucky are at 5%.

This makes South Carolina less competitive for new jobs and capital investment.

This year marks the fourth year that I have proposed a 1% rate reduction over five years for all personal income tax brackets, starting with an immediate $177 million cut.

A tax cut has the impact of a pay raise; and more money in the pockets of our people to spend is a catalyst for even more economic growth and prosperity.

Ladies and gentlemen, we have almost one billion dollars in surplus recurring revenue available for this state budget. Our state's booming economy will likely create more. Our work will not be done this session unless I am able to sign an income tax cut into law.

We must also re-examine those issues, practices, and laws that make our State less competitive and make it difficult for our businesses and entrepreneurs to invest, grow and thrive.

One issue in need of re-examination is in the area of civil litigation known as joint and several liability. Business owners should not be penalized for the actions of others, simply because they have money. Nor should they be absolved of their actions. We can find a balance that provides the opportunity for justice without damaging our economy.

There is no infrastructure more in need of big, bold, and transformative one-time investments than our state's roads, bridges, highways, and interstates. Our booming economy and rapid population growth have outpaced the state's ability to keep up with improvements to our transportation infrastructure.

Utilizing a combination of $660 million in federal ARPA funds and $600 million from surplus revenue, I am recommending that the General Assembly provide no less than $1.26 billion to the Department of Transportation to accelerate construction, expansion, or improvements to our state-owned roads, bridges, highways, and interstates.

This one-time investment of over one billion dollars will allow the DOT to accelerate the start and completion of some of their highest priority projects. Projects such as the widening of Interstate 26 to six lanes between Columbia and Charleston, the widening of Interstate 95 to six lanes in the Lowcountry, lane widening on Interstate 85 in the Upstate, and the long-awaited start of construction on I-73 from the Pee Dee to the Grand Strand.

In addition, DOT will have sufficient state matching funds to apply for an additional $250 million in federal funds each year for the next five years. These federal matching funds will allow the DOT to expedite completion of local and regional projects designed to relieve traffic congestion, to repair or replace over 400 bridges, and to enhance repaving and resurfacing on our local and secondary roads.

Three years ago, on the south steps of this State House, I pledged that we would work together as a team. I proposed that we make bold reforms to K-12 education in South Carolina, so that every student is ready to learn when he or she enters the classroom. And that the words "Corridor of Shame" would soon become a fading memory.

I proposed that we unleash the free market and expand access to full-day kindergarten for every lower income, four-year-old child. Parents should be able to choose the public, private, or for-profit childcare provider that best suits their child's educational needs.

Today, we have fully funded full-day, four-year-old kindergarten programs for every Medicaid-eligible child in South Carolina.

As a result, the Education Oversight Committee reports that 4K enrollment has increased 47% or by 4,600 children. There are 50 new private, nonprofit, and faith-based providers who have opened 66 new 4K classrooms. In our public schools, there are 120 new 4K classrooms.

In a recent survey by First Steps, two out of three parents reported that enrolling their child in First Steps 4K also allowed them to go to work or continue their own education.

We know that parents in South Carolina must be confident that their children are safe and secure when they are at school. The presence of a certified law enforcement school resource officer in every school is more important now than ever.

We must also recognize that a mental health crisis exists in South Carolina, especially among our young people who have weathered two years of disruptions, virtual instruction, isolation, and constant changes to normal routines. This crisis is here, right now. Students must have access to professional mental health counseling and services.

Because sixty percent of South Carolina children are served by Medicaid, I have directed Health and Human Services Director Robbie Kerr to initiate an immediate review of our state's behavioral health funding and delivery system. Time is of the essence. We must do better. The cost of doing nothing is unimaginable. And the damage, well, the damage will likely be immeasurable.

South Carolina's system of state-run treatment programs and facilities need a modern-day refreshment, re-evaluation, and reinvention. I also suggest to members of the General Assembly that the time has come to evaluate whether the State should privatize behavioral health services currently provided by the Department of Mental Health.

When the Education Finance Act of 1977 was signed into law, there were only three line-item appropriations for K-12 education. Today, there are approximately 29. This 44-year-old funding system is archaic, confusing, and inadequate.

The way we fund K-12 education must be simplified and it must be transparent and accountable. State funds must follow students directly to the classroom. School districts must be held accountable for how they spend the taxpayer's money--and graded on their results.

I have proposed that funds for K-12 education be appropriated in a manner that is simple and easy to understand. School districts will receive the funds necessary to support an average ratio of 11.7 students per teacher, with an average salary of $66,524 including benefits.

In exchange, every school district must disclose how they spend every dollar, be it local, state, or federal. This information must be published online by the state Department of Education, so parents and taxpayers will know where their money is being spent. In the classroom? Or is it being spent on administration? Or overhead? Or somewhere else?

My Executive Budget also raises the minimum salary for a starting teacher from $36,000 to $38,000. We have made progress in raising teacher pay. Just five years ago, the minimum salary for a brand-new teacher was $30,113.

Tonight, we have the 2022 South Carolina Teacher of the Year with us. Ms. Amy Carter is an English teacher from Chapin High School and is here representing our state's classroom teachers.

We're also joined by the Superintendent of Kershaw County School District, Dr. Shane Robbins. Dr. Robbins' innovative leadership helped guide his school district through the pandemic with minimal disruption to the classroom, remaining open for in-person instruction throughout.

Ms. Carter, Dr. Robbins, please stand and recognized.

Charter schools in our state have seen explosive growth in both enrollment and demand. The South Carolina Public Charter School District and the Charter Institute at Erskine are expected to authorize a total of 67 charter schools for the school year starting in August. My executive budget provides an additional $60.2 million to meet the growing demand of parents seeking new educational opportunities and in-person classroom instruction for their children.

In addition, I am proposing $20 million be used to create education savings accounts, which by the way, have been available to parents in "red" and "blue" states for years. Although some may say otherwise, we know that parents know what's best for their children. They know the type of education environment and instruction that works best for their child's unique needs.

Speaking of parents, we need more parental involvement in the classroom - not less. You may have been as surprised as I was when the Attorney General of the United States, Merrick Garland, instructed the FBI to begin investigating parents who attend school board meetings. In the annals of dangerous ideas, that one takes the cake.

So did assertions that "parents have no business telling schools what they should teach." Parents have every right to express their concerns to a teacher, to a principal, or to members of the school board. In fact, it is their duty.

Recently, a group of concerned parents contacted my office about a book containing age inappropriate, sexually explicit, obscene, and pornographic images, which was available in their school's library.

If school personnel had performed even a cursory review in this instance, it would have revealed that the book contains sexually explicit and pornographic depictions, which easily meet or exceed the statutory definition of obscenity.

For explicit materials of this nature to have been introduced or allowed into a South Carolina school, without oversight, without public review, and without parents' prior knowledge, is highly troubling and destroys public confidence in our schools.

Parents must know what their children are hearing, seeing, and learning in the classroom.

South Carolina, just like every state in the nation, is facing a historic labor crisis. It has affected every sector of our economy. With one hundred thousand open jobs, there is a paycheck waiting for anyone willing to work.

I'd like to share with you an innovative public-private initiative designed to fill those open jobs. SC Future Makers is a first-in-the-nation program that connects students and individuals with internship, apprenticeship, and career opportunities throughout the State.

SC Future Makers has reached virtually every high school, is available to all 16 technical colleges, and is now engaging our state's military community to connect our servicemen and women with the many opportunities available in South Carolina. This innovative approach in using technology to enhance connectivity throughout our state is a valuable resource for addressing our workforce needs.

In addition, to fill those open jobs, I am requesting that the General Assembly invest $124 million to expand Workforce Scholarships for the Future, a program that allows residents to earn an industry credential or an associate degree in high-demand careers. Careers in manufacturing, healthcare, computer science, information technology, transportation, logistics, or construction.

We know this program will work.

Last year, we partnered with the South Carolina Technical College System to create these scholarships and we dedicated $29 million in federal relief funds to start the program. In that short period, over 5,000 South Carolinians have been retrained and employed.

For example, the program has produced:

- 485 Nursing Assistants
- 283 Commercial Truck Drivers
- 253 Emergency Medical Technicians (EMTs)
- 239 Welders
- 235 Phlebotomists
- 177 received Information Technology (IT) Certifications
- 130 received the SC Manufacturing Certification
- 79 certified as Forklift Operators
- 61 certified as Heavy Equipment Operators

In fact, we have a few of those students with us tonight in the balcony.

Lilianna Cruz, 25, grew up in Indiana. Justin Smith, 25, grew up in Georgia. Now they live in Clemson. Both were raised by parents who didn't complete high school. They enlisted in the Marine Corps after high school. They met while they were stationed in Japan. After completing their service, they began taking classes at Tri-County Technical College.

Lilianna's goal was to become an architect, and Justin's was to own his own business. When the pandemic hit and classes went online, they went to work instead. Online classes didn't work for them. Justin was making $18 an hour and Lilianna was making $16 an hour. Neither of them enjoyed the work or the pay. They hoped to find a new and better opportunity. And they did.

Last month Lilianna and Justin completed the five-week commercial truck driving program at Tri-County Tech. Before they finished, they were offered a job driving as a team for Schneider National. Now they have a combined salary of $140,000.

Tasha Frazier of Sumter went through the Certified Nursing Assistant Program at Central Carolina Technical College. She successfully earned her accreditation and was immediately offered a job with McLeod Health in Manning.

William Westbrook lives in Graniteville and had worked for many years at a local chemical company. He was laid off in 2019 and continued to look for work. He enrolled at Aiken Technical College after learning about these scholarships and obtained his Manufacturing Certification at no cost. William was hired immediately after graduation by Central States Manufacturing.

I'd also like to recognize Dr. Tim Hardee, the President of the South Carolina Technical College System, who is with us tonight. Dr. Hardee and his staff worked with our 16 technical colleges to successfully implement this program.

Some of the presidents of those colleges are also here with their former students: Dr. Galen DeHay, President of Tri-County Technical College, Dr. Kevin Pollock, President of Central Carolina Technical College, and Dr. Forest Mahan, President of Aiken Technical College.

Thank you all for joining us tonight. Please stand and be recognized.

Access and affordability to higher education are essential to ensuring that our State has the trained and skilled workforce to compete for jobs and investment in the future. That means higher education - our colleges, universities, and technical colleges - must be accessible and affordable for the sons and daughters of South Carolina.

Once again, my executive budget freezes college tuition for in-state students, in exchange for an indexed appropriation based on the number of in-state students enrolled at each public institution. Funds for deferred maintenance are also distributed pro-rata and based on a school's in-state enrollment.

Also, every South Carolina resident who qualifies for a federal Pell Grant will be eligible for 100% of their tuition to be paid for with a grant at any in-state public college, university, or technical college.

The college transition program was created for students with intellectual disabilities as they transition from high school into college and eventually into the workforce. The program teaches students how to learn independently, how to maintain employment, and how to live self-sufficiently.

This year I am proposing that we invest an additional $4.3 million in lottery proceeds to enhance scholarships for the college transition programs offered at Clemson, Coastal Carolina, the College of Charleston, the University of South Carolina, and Winthrop University.

Tonight, we are joined by two students from the college transition program, Michael Harmon from CarolinaLIFE, and Hunter Hopkins from ClemsonLIFE. Gentlemen, please stand and be recognized.

In rural South Carolina, water and sewer is key to life, to good public health and economic health. And it's key to a community's health. The right water and sewer assets in a county can transform a tax base. That means jobs, good schools, strong families, and a safe and vibrant community.

The state's rural water, sewer and stormwater infrastructure is becoming old and outdated. Many of these systems have exceeded their useful life--some are barely hanging on.

I have proposed that we use $500 million in federal funds to transform these water, sewer, and stormwater systems in our state's poorest counties. To upgrade or replace deficient rural water and wastewater systems. And to incentivize large systems to "connect" with smaller and faltering systems.

In recent years, facilitating access to broadband connectivity has become a top priority for South Carolina. From health care to education, more people are working or learning from home. Quality internet service has quickly become a necessity for the prosperity of our state and people.

I ask that the General Assembly appropriate an additional $400 million in federal funds for the state's Broadband Infrastructure Program being overseen by the Office of Regulatory Staff.

The good Lord has richly blessed South Carolina, from the mountains to the sea. Our pristine coastline is a major economic driver for the state, as well as a source of beauty and happiness. It is roughly 2,876 miles long with approximately 200 miles of direct beachfront. The coastline contains several ecosystems including marshes, estuaries, barrier islands, tidal creeks, and beaches. The state's 35 barrier islands and the surrounding marshes are natural mechanisms for absorbing energy, flooding, and storm surge.

Three years ago, I issued an Executive Order creating the South Carolina Floodwater Commission, a collaborative effort charged with providing short- and long-term recommendations to alleviate and mitigate the impact of flooding. One recommendation was for the Governor to appoint a Chief Resilience Officer to lead a new state resilience office.

Last year, I had the honor of appointing Mr. Ben Duncan, who was serving as the Director of the Disaster Recovery Office, as South Carolina's first Chief Resilience Officer. At the time, South Carolina was one of a handful of states with a chief resilience officer. Mr. Duncan is here with us tonight. Please stand and be recognized.

To protect South Carolina's abundant natural resources, I am proposing the General Assembly provide the state Office of Resilience with $300 million in federal funds.

A portion of these funds should be used to complete the construction of homes in the Pee Dee that were destroyed by Hurricane Florence, as well as completing green stormwater mitigation projects throughout the State. In addition, I am recommending that the Office identify pristine coastline properties and tracts where public access may be in jeopardy of being lost, or destroyed by flooding, erosion, or storm damage.

Also, these funds should be used for a complete remediation and removal of hazardous materials from the hull of the USS Yorktown, including hundreds of thousands of gallons of old petroleum, polluted ballast waters, and polychlorinated biphenyl compounds, or PCBs that were not removed from the ship's 428 vessel tanks and compartments by the Navy.

I can think of no more meritorious use of taxpayer funds than to protect our pristine natural resources for future generations of South Carolinians.

With the opening of the new Hugh K. Leatherman Terminal in North Charleston, the Port of Charleston is no longer the only major container port on the east coast of the United States without significant near dock rail access.

The new Navy Base Intermodal Container Transfer Facility will provide near dock "dual" rail access for both Norfolk Southern and CSX, allowing for the movement of goods and commerce throughout the United States.

In 2021, the General Assembly appropriated $200 million toward the $500 million cost of construction. My executive budget proposes $300 million to complete construction on time and debt free.

Tonight, we have the CEO of the South Carolina Ports Authority with us, Mr. Jim Newsome. As you know, he is retiring this year. I ask that you join me in thanking Mr. Newsome for providing the port with years of exceptional leadership and vision. You will be missed.

Mr. Newsome, please stand and be recognized.

To keep South Carolinians safe, we must maintain a robust law enforcement presence--and properly "fund the police."

Our state law enforcement agencies continue to lose valuable and experienced personnel because they are unable to remain competitive with pay and benefits. My executive budget dedicates $31 million in new dollars to law enforcement, public safety and first response agencies for recruitment and retention pay raises.

We must also keep our law enforcement officers safe while they are on-the-job. My executive budget proposes providing $21 million for grants to local law enforcement agencies for additional body cameras and bullet proof vests.

And once again, I am calling on the General Assembly to eliminate all state income taxes on the retirement pay of career military veterans and South Carolina law enforcement officers, firefighters, and peace officers.

Many states have already done this. The decision-makers at the Department of Defense take note of such actions or inactions when they make decisions on base closures, realignment, and new missions for America's military. Our state's military installations are at risk, like all others.

It is past time for the General Assembly to act on this issue. Before it is too late.

Our booming economy and record low unemployment sometimes place state agencies at a disadvantage with the private sector--when they are recruiting or retaining the best employees.

I believe the question of state employee compensation needs re-examination. Across-the-board pay raises for state employees are less effective than those based on performance, merit, success, or longevity. Agency directors should be empowered to incentivize their personnel.

My executive budget takes the $46.6 million which would equal a 2% across-the-board pay raise - and directs that those same funds be used instead for merit-based pay raises.

However, each agency must submit their merit-based pay raise plan to the Department of Administration's Division of Human Resources for review and approval, to ensure that the raises are awarded consistently across state government and are in accordance with official policies and procedures.

We've heard the alarm bell for years. With inaction--it gets louder every year. The longer we wait, the harder it will be to fix our pension system's huge unfunded liability.

So, once again, I am asking that we--at the end of this year--close enrollment in the current "defined-benefit" plan. Putting money into this retirement system is like trying to fill a bathtub with the drain open. We must close enrollment first.

The best answer is a date-certain transition away from "defined benefit" pension plans to "defined contribution" plans for new state employees. And of course, we must maintain our commitment to retired South Carolinians who rely on income from the pension plan.

The right to vote is the single most important right protected by the United States Constitution.

However, in 2020 we learned that our state's election laws were not being applied properly and consistently by county election officials. Speaker Jay Lucas has sponsored legislation to standardize and ensure the uniform and legal conduct of elections in all 46 counties.

In addition, my executive budget proposes creating a new Election Integrity and Compliance Audit Program at the State Election Commission. Teams of auditors, working for the State, will conduct regular and routine examinations to confirm the integrity of elections conducted on the state and local level. Send these election reforms to my desk, and I will sign them into law.

To maintain the public's confidence in their elected representatives at all levels of government, we must expand the resources and authority of the State Ethics Commission and the Office of the Inspector General. The public should know if their tax dollars are being spent properly by the recipients, like a school district or a non-profit organization.

The public should also know who is getting paid to influence decisions made by county, municipal, or school board officials. These paid advocates should be required to register with the State Ethics Commission as lobbyists, just like those who are paid to lobby the legislature. What's good for the State House--is good for the courthouse.

In the last decade, we have consistently seen ethical issues arise surrounding some of our state's 46 county sheriffs. I have proposed that the Law Enforcement Training Council at the South Carolina Criminal Justice Academy develop and conduct annual ethics training for every county sheriff.

In meetings and conferences in other parts of the country, I am often introduced as the 117th Governor of the great State of South Carolina. What is interesting is that as other governors are introduced, they may be the 23rd Governor of Arizona, or the 40th Governor of California or the 48th Governor of Kansas. It makes you think: Our State was one of the original thirteen colonies, one of the thirteen that produced the Declaration of Independence in 1776 and one of twelve which created and signed the United States Constitution in 1787.

Our people--from then until now--have endured and overcome every obstacle and challenge created by man and nature. We have seen it all and endured it all. With that heritage, we stand today in a moment brimming with opportunity and promise.

So, let us seize this moment by thinking big, by being bold, confident and by making transformative investments. In this way, I believe we will set our State on a course that will provide the opportunity for prosperity, success, and happiness for generations of South Carolinians.

Let us continue working together. Let's keep winning. I believe in South Carolina and I believe in America. And I believe in each and every one of you. The best is yet to come.

God Bless the Palmetto State. And God Bless her extraordinary people.

The House assembled at 10:00 a.m.

Deliberations were opened with prayer by Rev. Charles E. Seastrunk, Jr., as follows:

Our thought for today is from Ecclesiastes 9:17: "The quiet words of the wise are more to be heeded than shouting of a ruler among fools."

Let us pray. Praise and adoration we give to You, O Lord, for the loving care You have given to us. Continue Your blessings on our Representatives and Staff as they continue to serve the people. Help us to be wise and consider those we work with in this place. Bless and keep our defenders of freedom and first responders safe as they care for us. Look in favor upon our World, Nation, President, State, Governor, Speaker, Staff, and all who give of their time and effort to this great cause. Care for our women and men who suffer and sacrifice for our freedom. Lord, in Your mercy, hear our prayers. Amen.

S. 525--CONFERENCE REPORT ADOPTED

S. 525 -- Conference Report

The General Assembly, Columbia, S.C., January 19, 2022

The COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE, to whom was referred:

S. 525-- Senators Gambrell, Verdin, Massey, Loftis, Garrett and Gustafson: A BILL TO AMEND SECTION 44-96-40 OF THE 1976 CODE, RELATING TO DEFINITIONS FOR THE SOUTH CAROLINA SOLID WASTE POLICY AND MANAGEMENT ACT, TO DEFINE NECESSARY TERMS RELATED TO ADVANCED RECYCLING AND ADVANCED RECYCLING FACILITIES.

Beg leave to report that they have duly and carefully considered the same and recommend:

That the same do pass with the following amendments:

Amend the bill, as and if amended, by striking all after the enacting words and inserting:

/ SECTION 1. Section 44-96-40 of the 1976 Code is amended by adding appropriately numbered items at the end to read:

"( ) 'Advanced recycling' means manufacturing processes that convert post-use polymers and recovered feedstocks into basic hydrocarbon raw materials, feedstocks, chemicals, waxes, lubricants, and other products through processes that include pyrolysis, gasification, depolymerization, solvolysis, catalytic cracking, reforming, hydrogenation, and other similar technologies. The recycled products produced from advanced recycling include, but are not limited to, monomers, oligomers, plastics, plastics and chemical feedstocks, basic and unfinished chemicals, crude oil, naphtha, waxes, lubricants, coatings, and other basic hydrocarbons. Advanced recycling is not incineration, combustion, energy recovery, material recovery, or treatment. For the purpose of advanced recycling:

(a) 'Depolymerization' means a manufacturing process at an advanced recycling facility where post-use polymers are broken into smaller molecules such as monomers and oligomers or raw, intermediate, or final products, plastics and chemical feedstocks, basic and unfinished chemicals, crude oil, naphtha, liquid transportation fuels, waxes, lubricants, coatings, and other basic hydrocarbons.

(b) 'Gasification' means a manufacturing process at an advanced recycling facility through which recovered feedstocks are heated and converted into a fuel-gas mixture in an oxygen-deficient atmosphere and the mixture is converted to crude oil, diesel, gasoline, home heating oil or other fuels, chemicals, waxes, lubricants, chemical feedstocks, diesel and gasoline blendstocks, or other raw materials or intermediate or final products that are returned to the economic mainstream in the form of raw materials, products, or fuels.

(c) 'Pyrolysis' means a manufacturing process at an advanced recycling facility through which post-use polymers or recovered feedstock are heated in the absence of oxygen until melted and thermally decomposed and are then cooled, condensed, and converted to crude oil, diesel, gasoline, home heating oil or other fuels, chemicals, waxes, lubricants, chemical feedstocks, diesel and gasoline blendstocks, or other raw materials or intermediate or final products that are returned to the economic mainstream in the form of raw materials, products, or fuels.

(d) 'Solvolysis' means a manufacturing process at an advanced recycling facility through which post-use plastics are reacted with the aid of solvents while heated at low temperatures or pressurized to make useful products, while allowing additives and contaminants to be separated. The products of solvolysis include, but are not limited to, monomers, intermediates, and valuable raw materials. The process includes, but is not limited to, hydrolysis, aminolysis, ammonoloysis, methanolysis, ethanolysis, and glycolysis.

( )'Advanced recycling facility' means a manufacturing facility that receives, separates, stores, and converts the post-use polymers and recovered feedstocks it receives using advanced recycling. An advanced recycling facility is not a solid waste processing facility, solid waste management facility, materials recovery facility, waste-to-energy facility, or incinerator, but the facility is subject to department inspections to ensure compliance. Solid waste generated by an advanced recycling facility is subject to all applicable laws and regulations for manufacturers relating to storage and disposal of solid waste. Post-use polymers and recovered feedstock may not be mixed with solid waste or hazardous waste on-site or during processing at an advanced recycling facility. At least seventy-five percent of the weight or volume of recovered feedstocks or post-use polymers received during the previous calendar year must be processed at an advanced recycling facility or transferred to a different site for processing in order for a facility to qualify as an advanced recycling facility. If an advanced recycling facility does not comply with the requirements of this definition, then it is not an advanced recycling facility and is subject to all applicable solid waste laws and regulations as determined by the department. Within sixty days of the termination of operations at an advanced recycling facility, all unused pre-converted and post-converted post-use polymers or recovered feedstock must be sold or disposed of by the advanced recycling facility in compliance with applicable laws.

( )'Post-use polymer' means a plastic polymer that is not solid waste when the following apply:

(a) it is derived from any industrial, commercial, agricultural, or domestic activities;

(b) its use or intended use is to manufacture crude oil, fuels, feedstocks, blendstocks, raw materials, or other intermediate products or final products using advanced recycling;

(c) it may contain incidental contaminants or impurities, such as paper labels or metal rings; and

(d) it is processed at an advanced recycling facility or held at an advanced recycling facility prior to processing.

( )(a) 'Recovered feedstock' means one or more of the following materials that has been processed so that it may be used as feedstock in an advanced recycling facility:

(i) post-use polymers;

(ii) materials for which the United States Environmental Protection Agency has made a nonwaste determination under 40 C.F.R. 241.3(c); or

(iii) materials that the United States Environmental Protection Agency has otherwise determined are feedstocks and not solid waste; or

(b) Recovered feedstock does not include unprocessed municipal solid waste."

SECTION 2. Section 44-96-250(B)(13) of the 1976 Code is amended to read:

"(13) 'Financial responsibility mechanism' means a mechanism designed to demonstrate that sufficient funds will be available to meet specific environmental protection needs of solid waste management facilities and advanced recycling facilities. Available financial responsibility mechanisms include, but are not limited to, insurance, trust funds, surety bonds, letters of credit, personal bonds, certificates of deposit, financial tests, and corporate guarantees as determined by the department by regulation."

SECTION 3. A. Section 44-96-290 of the 1976 Code is amended by adding an appropriately lettered subsection at the end to read:

"( ) An advanced recycling facility must demonstrate financial responsibility prior to being issued a permit for the advanced recycling facility or prior to the advanced recycling facility being placed in operation. To demonstrate financial responsibility, the advanced recycling facility must establish a cash trust fund under the control of the department or obtain a surety bond for which the department is the sole beneficiary, sufficient in form and amount to meet all reasonably foreseeable costs of clean up, environmental remediation, firefighting, ground water or surface water contamination, private property contamination, public health impacts, and displacement and relocation of affected persons, and any other reasonably foreseeable costs associated with the operation, management, or abandonment of any pyrolysis and gasification facilities including, but not limited to, the operation and storage of post-use polymer, plastic polymer, or incidental contaminants or impurities; provided, however, that no cash trust fund or surety bond shall be required if the advanced recycling facility establishes to the department that such costs are not reasonably foreseeable."

B. The Department of Health and Environmental Control shall, on or before the second anniversary of the effective date of this act, issue a report to the General Assembly. The report must include the department's analysis of the advanced recycling facility industry and its recommendation as to whether, given the industry's record in this State or elsewhere in regard to matters including, without limitation, its costs of clean up, environmental remediation, firefighting, ground water or surface water contamination, private property contamination, public health impacts, and displacement and relocation of affected persons, and any other reasonably foreseeable costs associated with the operation, management, or abandonment of any pyrolysis and gasification facilities, a cash trust fund or surety bond should be required of the advanced recycling facility, and if so, in what amount.

SECTION 4. Section 48-1-50 of the 1976 Code is amended by adding an appropriately numbered item at the end to read:

"( ) Review and consider the environmental compliance history of an applicant or person that is or operates an advanced recycling facility, as defined by Section 44-96-40, in making a determination to issue, reissue, deny, revoke, modify, or suspend a permit or interim status; prohibit the transfer of a permit or the transfer or achievement of interim status; or prohibit a change in the ownership of or a controlling interest in an existing advanced recycling facility."

SECTION 5. Within one hundred and twenty days after the effective date of this act, the Department of Health and Environmental Control shall submit regulations to guide all South Carolinians invested in, selling, installing, and using photovoltaic modules and energy storage system batteries in the management of end-of-life photovoltaic modules and energy storage system batteries on solar projects and the decommissioning of solar projects in excess of thirteen acres. Management of end-of-life photovoltaic modules and energy storage system batteries shall include both partial refurbishing of a solar project and complete decommissioning. In the development of these rules, the department shall collaborate with stakeholders and shall consider all of the following matters:

(1) Whether photovoltaic modules, energy storage system batteries, their materials, or other equipment used in utility-scale solar projects exhibit any of the characteristics of hazardous waste, as identified in 40 C.F.R. Part 261, or under rules adopted pursuant to the S.C. Hazardous Waste Management Act, Section 44-56-10 of the 1976 Code, or if any such equipment is properly characterized as solid waste under state and federal law.

(2) Preferred methods to responsibly manage end-of-life photovoltaic modules, energy storage system batteries, or the constituent materials thereof, or other equipment used in utility-scale solar projects, including the extent to which such equipment may be:

(a) reused, if not damaged or in need of repair, for a similar purpose;

(b) refurbished, if not substantially damaged, and reused for a similar purpose;

(c) recycled with recovery of materials for similar or other purposes;

(d) safely disposed of in construction and demolition or municipal solid waste landfills for material that does not exhibit any of the characteristics of hazardous waste under state or federal law; or

(e) safely disposed of in accordance with state and federal requirements governing hazardous waste for materials that exhibit any of the characteristics of hazardous waste under state or federal law.

(3) The volume of photovoltaic modules and energy storage system batteries currently in use in the State, and projections, based upon the data on life cycle identified currently on impacts that may be expected to the state's landfill capacity if landfill disposal is permitted for such equipment at end-of-life.

(4) Whether or not adequate financial assurance requirements are necessary to ensure proper decommissioning of solar projects in excess of thirteen acres upon cessation of operations.

(5) Infrastructure that may be needed to develop a practical, effective, and cost-effective means to collect and transport end-of-life photovoltaic modules, energy storage system batteries, and other equipment used in utility-scale solar projects for reuse, refurbishment, recycling, or disposal.

(6) Whether or not manufacturer or installer stewardship programs for the recycling of end-of-life photovoltaic modules and energy storage system batteries should be established for applications other than utility-scale solar project installations, and if so, fees that should be established for these manufacturers and installers to support the implementation of such requirements.

The department must require, as part of a new application or an application pending on July 1, 2022, local approval of a site plan for a solar farm in excess of thirteen acres, that an owner, lessee, or developer of real property upon which the site is situated must submit to the department a nonbinding plan to manage and dispose of end-of-life photovoltaic modules and energy storage system batteries and decommission solar energy equipment, facilities, or devices. The department is authorized to, by regulation, establish a more formal or detailed process for receiving the plans submitted pursuant to this provision, to include increased reporting requirements.

The department shall submit interim reports to the Chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee and the Chairman of the House Labor, Commerce and Industry Committee on all activities pursuant to this provision on a quarterly basis beginning July 1, 2022, and shall submit a final report with findings, including stakeholder input, to the to the Chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee and the Chairman of the House Labor, Commerce and Industry Committee no later than June 30, 2023.

SECTION 6. If any section, subsection, paragraph, subparagraph, sentence, clause, phrase, or word of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional or invalid, then such holding shall not affect the constitutionality or validity of the remaining portions of this act, the General Assembly hereby declaring that it would have passed this act and each and every section, subsection, paragraph, subparagraph, sentence, clause, phrase, and word thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, subsections, paragraphs, subparagraphs, sentences, clauses, phrases, or words hereof may be declared to be unconstitutional, invalid, or otherwise ineffective.

SECTION 7. The provisions of SECTIONS 2 and 3 terminate on the fifth anniversary of the effective date of this act.

SECTION 8. This act takes effect upon approval by the Governor. /

Amend title to conform.

~~Indicates Matter Stricken~~ Indicates New Matter

The House assembled at 2:00 p.m.

Deliberations were opened with prayer by Rev. Charles E. Seastrunk, Jr., as follows:

Our thought for today is from Lamentations 3:22: "The steadfast love of the Lord never ceases, His mercies never come to an end."

Let us pray. Almighty and merciful God, we implore You to hear the prayers of Your people. Be our strong defense against all harm and danger. Provide these Representatives and Staff with the tools to withstand all evil which may come. Bless and keep these men and women under Your care as they carry out the duties required of them. May they do this with a firm hand yet with love and concern for each other. Look in favor upon our World, Nation, President, State, Governor, Speaker, Staff, and all who give of their time and talents to this great cause. Bless our women and men who suffer and sacrifice for our freedom. Lord, in Your mercy, hear our prayers. Amen.

Give these Representatives inspiration and protection and may You always be ready to provide what is needed. So, gracious God, make us both learners and teachers. Protect our defenders of freedom and first responders and keep them safe. Loved ones left to cherish her memories are: two sons, De`Mari Robinson and Kayden Robinson; her father, John McFadden of Lake

City, SC; three sisters, Renee Fulton of Florence, SC, Anastasia McFadden (Jacoby Plummer) of Charlotte, NC, and Christy (Tony) Reed of Florence, SC; two brothers, Richard Fulton of Florence, SC, and Michael McFadden of Charlotte, NC.

On this day that You have made, protect them against all evil. May Your blessings be abundant to those who suffer in any way, those who have lost loved ones, and those with injuries and sickness. Bless our defenders of freedom as they protect us. Make Your face shine upon our World, Nation, President, State, Governor, Speaker, Staff, and all who serve in these Halls of Government. Bless our men and women who keep us safe. Lord, in Your mercy, hear our prayers. Amen.

MESSAGE FROM THE SENATE

Columbia, S.C., Thursday, February 3, 2022

Mr. Speaker and Members of the House:

The Senate respectfully informs your Honorable Body that it has overridden the Veto by the Governor on R. 122, S. 948 by a vote of 35 to 0.

(R. 122, S. 948) -- Senator Williams: A JOINT RESOLUTION TO MOVE THE DATE OF THE 2022 ELECTION FOR THE MARION COUNTY BOARD OF EDUCATION FROM THE SECOND TUESDAY IN APRIL OF 2022 TO THE SECOND TUESDAY IN MAY OF 2022, AND TO ADJUST THE CANDIDATE FILING PERIOD ACCORDINGLY.

Very respectfully,
President

R. 122, S. 948--ORDERED PRINTED IN THE JOURNAL

The SPEAKER ordered the following Veto printed in the Journal:

State of South Carolina
Office of the Governor

February 1, 2022
The Honorable Thomas C. Alexander
President of the Senate
State House, Second Floor
Columbia, South Carolina 29201

Dear Mr. President and Members of the Senate:

I am hereby vetoing and returning without my approval R-122, S. 948, which seeks to move the 2022 election date for seats on the Marion County Board of Education ("Board of Education") from the second Tuesday in April to the second Tuesday in May. For the reasons set forth below, I am compelled to veto S. 948.

As the General Assembly is aware, like several of my predecessors, I have consistently vetoed unconstitutional local or special legislation. The South Carolina Constitution expressly prohibits the General Assembly from enacting legislation "for a specific county" and "where a general law can be made applicable." S.C. Const. art VIII, § 7; S.C. Const. art. III, § 34(IX). Yet, S. 948 would apply to only a single county. Although our courts have held that greater deference is warranted in the context of public education, "legislation regarding education is not exempt from the requirements of Article III, § 34(1X)." Horry Cty. v. Horry Cty. Higher Educ. Comm 'n, 306 S.C. 416, 419, 412 S.E.2d 421, 423 (1991). Here, it appears that a general law could be made applicable, and the General Assembly has not established that a special law is necessary to "best meet the exigencies of [this] particular situation." Charleston Cty. Sch. Dist. v. Harrell, 393 S.C. 552,559, 713 S.E.2d 604,608 (2011). Accordingly, I am compelled to reiterate my longstanding concerns regarding the General Assembly's regular resort to local or special legislation, which has produced a patchwork of authorities governing South Carolina's schools and school districts.

For the foregoing reasons, I am respectfully vetoing R-122, S. 948 and returning the same without my signature.

Yours very truly,
Henry McMaster

MESSAGE FROM THE SENATE

Columbia, S.C., Thursday, February 3, 2022

Mr. Speaker and Members of the House:

The Senate respectfully informs your Honorable Body that it has overridden the Veto by the Governor on R. 120, S. 836 by a vote of 34 to 0

(R. 120, S. 836) -- Senators Martin, Peeler and Cromer: AN ACT TO AMEND ACT 124 OF 1969, AS AMENDED, RELATING TO THE CREATION OF THE SCHOOL DISTRICT OF UNION COUNTY, SO AS TO REQUIRE THE SCHOOL DISTRICT OF UNION COUNTY TO RECOGNIZE MEMORIAL DAY AS A HOLIDAY AND ALL DISTRICT SCHOOLS AND OFFICES MUST BE CLOSED ON THAT DATE.

Very respectfully,
President

R. 120, S. 836--ORDERED PRINTED IN THE JOURNAL

The SPEAKER ordered the following Veto printed in the Journal:

State of South Carolina
Office of the Governor

The Honorable Thomas C. Alexander
President of the Senate
State House, Second Floor
Columbia, South Carolina 29201

Dear Mr. President and Members of the Senate:

I am hereby vetoing and returning without my approval R-120, S. 836, which seeks to require the School District of Union County ("District") to observe Memorial Day as a legal holiday. The bill also provides that all District schools and offices must be closed on Memorial Day and prohibits the District from using the date as an instructional day or teacher workday or requiring students to attend school, whether in person or virtually. To be sure, I find it odd that a school district would not observe Memorial Day, and I appreciate the underlying aims of this legislation and the well-intentioned efforts of its sponsors to address this issue. However, for thereasons set forth below, I am compelled to veto S. 836.

First, like several of my predecessors, I have consistently vetoed unconstitutional local orspecial legislation. Here, S. 836 appears to apply to only a single county or a portion thereof. However, the South Carolina Constitution expressly prohibits the General Assembly from enacting legislation "for a specific county" and "where a general law can be made applicable." S.C. Const.art VIII, § 7; S.C. Const. art. III, § 34(1X). Although our courts have held that greater deferenceis warranted when local or special legislation relates to the General Assembly's obligation to provide for the maintenance and support of public schools, the regular resort to this practice has produced an undesirable assortment of authorities governing South Carolina's school districts. Accordingly, I am compelled to reiterate my longstanding concerns regarding local or special legislation, which creates a patchwork of piecemeal, and often inconsistent, local laws. Nevertheless, aside from this threshold constitutional issue, I believe S. 836 encounters an additional legal obstacle.

Second, S. 836 also appears to conflict with existing law. While section 53-5-10 of the South Carolina Code of Laws specifically enumerates Memorial Day as a legal holiday, the General Assembly has elsewhere provided that local school districts shall have "the authority to establish an annual school calendar for teachers, staff, and students." S.C. Code Ann. § 59-1-425(A). Therefore, I am concerned that any effort, however well intentioned, to require a school district to observe a holiday in a particular manner may conflict with general law. See S.C. Const. art. III, § 34(X) ("The General Assembly shall forthwith enact general laws ... which shall be uniform in their operations."); Med. Soc. of SC v. Med. Univ. of SC, 334 S.C. 270,279,513 S.E.2d 352,357 (1999) ("The purpose of the prohibition on special legislation is to make uniformwhere possible the statutory laws of this State in order to avoid duplicative or conflicting laws onthe same subject.").

I firmly believe there is no greater sacrifice than those who have offered, and lost , their lives in service to the United States. Thus, I can think of no cause more deserving of appropriate tribute and solemn recognition than honoring those who have paid the ultimate sacrifice for our freedom. While I understand that nearly all school districts in this State either regularly observe Memorial Day as a legal holiday or cease in-person instruction prior to that date, this legislation suggests that the District may not plan to do so. Although I encourage the District to revisit any such plans and commend the bill's sponsors for bringing attention to this issue, because I am concerned that S. 836 appears to violate the constitutional prohibition on local or special legislation and conflict with existing law, I am compelled to veto the same.

For the foregoing reasons, I am respectfully vetoing R-120, S. 836 and returning the same without my signature.

Yours very truly,
Henry McMaster

HOUSE RESOLUTION

The following was introduced:

H. 4935 -- Reps. King, Alexander, Anderson, Bamberg, Brawley, Clyburn, Dillard, Garvin, Gilliard, Govan, Henderson-Myers, Henegan, Hosey, Howard, Jefferson, J. L. Johnson, K. O. Johnson, Matthews, McDaniel, McKnight, J. Moore, Murray, Parks, Pendarvis, Rivers, Robinson, Rutherford, Tedder, Thigpen, Weeks, R. Williams and S. Williams: A HOUSE RESOLUTION TO HONOR THE LIFE AND ACHIEVEMENTS OF THE FORMER MAYOR OF CHESTER, PROMINENT AFRICAN AMERICAN, CHRISTOPHER KING, SR., A NATIVE SON OF CHESTER.

Whereas, born on February 4, 1936, in Chester, the Honorable Christopher “Chris” King, Sr., was the son of the late William Robert King, Sr., and the late Ellen Louise Nelson King. Raised in a devout Christian household, he became a member of the Calvary Baptist Church at a young age. There he served for many years as a deacon, and truly learned to live with the religious principle of, “Do unto others as you would have them do unto you”; and

Whereas, throughout his life, Mr. King viewed education in the highest regard. He graduated from Finley High School in 1954, then went on to attend Atlanta College of Mortuary Science in Atlanta, Georgia. He graduated from the program in 1958. He received his bachelor’s degree from Johnson C. Smith University in Charlotte, North Carolina, in 1959. Believing that education would foster economic and political equality, he was known to counsel every young person to continue pursuing higher education; and

Whereas, a prolific businessman with much determination and skill, Mr. King managed multiple business ventures with great success by ensuring service to clientele was always the cornerstone of his business model. Leading King’s Funeral Home for more than forty years, he created a prosperous business that always sought to best serve citizens who were in need across multiple counties in the Palmetto State.

Similarly, he also managed rental properties that provided low-income housing for the citizens of Chester. He chose to treat clients with dignity and genuine love, and his relatability often provided positive experiences for all involved; and

Whereas, amongst his other hobbies of bicycle riding and skating, a young Chris became actively interested in politics. At age fourteen, using his newly obtained driver's license, he began shuttling voters to the polls. At age twenty-three, he made his first unsuccessful bid for public office, seeking a seat on the Chester County School Board. He then made an unsuccessful run for the South Carolina Senate; and

Whereas, these consecutive defeats did little to deter Mr. King from the political arena, as his desire to run for office was a pursuit to become a true public servant for the citizens of Chester. When he did find success, he did so in historic fashion, becoming the first African American mayor of Chester. This victory, however, brought with it another fight, as he was forced to contend with the legal system over his right to assume his elected position. That decision culminated in a historic decision by the United States Supreme Court which established single member districts for Chester County; and

Whereas, a true civic servant, Mr. King was a founder of the Congressional Black Caucus, a precinct manager of Chester Ward IV, and was a delegate to the South Carolina Democratic Party state conventions. He also was an active member and participant of the Friendship Junior College Board, Selective Service Board, Carolina Community Action Board, Small Business Administration Board, chairman of the Chester Sewer District Board, the South Carolina Mortician Association, Masonic Lodge #32, Hill City Elk, Christian Burial Aid Society, the African Protective and Burial Society, and was a chartered member of the Chester Optimist Club; and

Whereas, dedicated in his pursuit to serve the citizens of Chester, he was best supported by his own loving family. He and his wife, Margie Buckson King had eight children, Christopher C. King II, the Honorable William Robert King, Dr. Nelson Maurice King, the Honorable Robbie King-Boyd, Pansy King-Reid, Margie King-Delk, Marty Elazer "Capp" King, and the Honorable John Richard Christopher King; and

Whereas, the Honorable Christopher King, Sr., was a man who stepped forward to lead and serve in a time when this State most needed men of integrity and diligence. A true public servant with a sincere wish to lift up others and provide what service he could, his efforts and legacy should serve as a shining beacon to all who aspire to public service in the future. Now, therefore,

Be it resolved by the House of Representatives:

That the members of the South Carolina House of Representatives, by this resolution, honor the life and achievements of the former mayor of Chester, prominent African American, Christopher King, Sr., a native son of Chester.

The Resolution was adopted.

HOUSE RESOLUTION

The following was introduced:

H. 4936 -- Reps. J. Moore, Alexander, Anderson, Bamberg, Brawley, Clyburn, Dillard, Garvin, Gilliard, Govan, Henderson-Myers, Henegan, Hosey, Howard, Jefferson, J. L. Johnson, K. O. Johnson, King, Matthews, McDaniel, McKnight, Murray, Parks, Pendarvis, Rivers, Robinson, Rutherford, Tedder, Thigpen, Weeks, R. Williams and S. Williams: A HOUSE RESOLUTION TO HONOR THE LIFE AND ACHIEVEMENTS OF ABRAHAM BILL "ABE" JENKINS, JR., AND TO EXPRESS THE PROFOUND SORROW OF THE MEMBERS OF THE SOUTH CAROLINA HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES UPON HIS PASSING TO HIS LARGE AND LOVING FAMILY AND HIS MANY FRIENDS.

Whereas, the South Carolina House of Representatives was saddened to learn of the death of Abraham Bill “Abe” Jenkins, Jr., at the age of sixty-six on January 17, 2022; and

Whereas, born November 1, 1955, in Cambridge, England, Abe was the son of Abraham Bill Jenkins, Sr., and the late Georgetta Johnson Jenkins, and he was reared in a loving family with three siblings: Kenneth Don Jenkins, Reverend DeMett E. Jenkins, and Lieutenant Colonel Brittiane V. Staton; and

Whereas, he attended Summerville High School, where he played football as a tight end for legendary Coach John McKissick; and

Whereas, he earned a bachelor's degree in political science and public administration at South Carolina State University and a master's degree in health administration from the University of Pennsylvania; and

Whereas, for thirty years, he served as a healthcare administrator, first at the Medical University of South Carolina, then in Philadelphia and Washington, D. C.; and

Whereas, a community activist with deep roots on Johns Island, Mr. Jenkins served as chairman of the Progressive Club, working to renovate the property on River Road that his grandfather Esau Jenkins had established in the late 1940s as a community center and citizenship school; and

Whereas, in Charleston, he was active politically on nearly every level as a community advocate concerned with fairness, justice, and equality; and

Whereas, Mr. Jenkins was a member of the Concerned Citizens of the Sea Islands, focusing on quality-of-life issues. He assisted individuals by organizing food and clothing drives, and he championed communities threatened by development and exploitation; and

Whereas, his long-standing connections to Johns Island nourished a quiet determination to defend the island's Black residents and their Gullah heritage; and

Whereas, Mr. Jenkins became active in the South Carolina Democratic Party in the Lowcountry, worked on behalf of Barack Obama during his campaigns for President, and served as state political director for the Pete Buttigieg campaign in 2020; and

Whereas, together with his beloved wife, Wanda Deas-Jenkins, he reared three fine children: Renee Jenkins, Jamaal Jenkins, and James Jenkins. He was blessed with the affection of three stepchildren: Hope Buncum, Crystal Hillyard, and Trell Deas; and

Whereas, the South Carolina House of Representatives is grateful for the life and legacy of Abe Jenkins and for the high standard of service he set for all who knew him. Now, therefore,

Be it resolved by the House of Representatives:

That the members of the South Carolina House of Representatives, by this resolution, honor the life and achievements of Abraham Bill "Abe" Jenkins, Jr., and express their profound sorrow upon his passing to his large and loving family and his many friends.

Be it further resolved that a copy of this resolution be presented to the family of Abraham Bill "Abe" Jenkins, Jr.

The Resolution was adopted.

HOUSE RESOLUTION

The following was introduced:

H. 4937 -- Reps. Pendarvis, Alexander, Anderson, Bamberg, Brawley, Clyburn, Dillard, Garvin, Gilliard, Govan, Henderson-Myers, Henegan, Hosey, Howard, Jefferson, J. L. Johnson, K. O. Johnson, King, Matthews, McDaniel, McKnight, J. Moore, Murray, Parks, Rivers, Robinson, Rutherford, Tedder, Thigpen, Weeks, R. Williams and S. Williams: A HOUSE RESOLUTION TO HONOR THE LIFE AND CHARACTER OF LEVI PEARSON, PLAINTIFF IN LEVI PEARSON V. CLARENDON COUNTY BOARD OF EDUCATION, AND TO COMMEND HIS REMARKABLE COURAGE TO SECURE EQUAL TREATMENT FOR HIS CHILDREN AND GENERATIONS TO FOLLOW.

Whereas, it is altogether fitting and proper that the members of the South Carolina House of Representatives should pause in their deliberations to commend the life of Levi Pearson, a courageous son of the Palmetto State, who pursued justice for families in Clarendon County; and

Whereas, Levi was married to Viola Pearson, and the couple had three children, James, Eloise, and Daisy, who walked nine miles to school each day; and

Whereas, Levi and Viola Pearson and other families in the Davis Station area collected about nine hundred dollars to buy a used school bus for transporting their children to and from school; and

Whereas, the bus often broke down, and the county board of education would not support maintenance or provide gas for the bus, although almost seventy-four percent of the county's school population was African American. The county provided thirty school buses for white students, but none for black students; and

Whereas, in 1947, Levi Pearson courageously filed a lawsuit to secure a school bus to be paid for and maintained by the county; and

Whereas, in response to the suit, the board of education alleged Mr. Pearson did not have the right to sue because he paid taxes in a district other than District 26, the district where his children attended school. The court dismissed his action erroneously, as Levi Pearson had property that was partially in District 26; and

Whereas, white business owners retaliated by cutting off his credit at the local store and refusing to lease harvesting equipment to him; and

Whereas, despite this pressure, Levi Pearson served as president of the newly-formed NAACP branch in Clarendon County, but he eventually left South Carolina for the North because of white intimidation. Now, therefore,

Be it resolved by the House of Representatives:

That the members of the South Carolina House of Representatives, by this resolution, honor the life and character of Levi Pearson, plaintiff in Levi Pearson v. Clarendon County Board of Education, and commend his remarkable courage to secure equal treatment for his children and generations to follow.

Be it further resolved that a copy of this resolution be presented to the family of Levi Pearson.

The Resolution was adopted.

In partisan elections the person securing the highest number of votes for mayor shall be declared elected and the councilmen shall be selected by the following methods:

TO: Honorable Jeff Gossett and Honorable Charles Reid
FROM: Thomas C. Alexander and William E. Sandifer, III
DATE: February 11, 2022
RE: Verification of Public Service Authority Ex Officio Members

Act 90 (2021), which became law on June 15, 2021, created two ex-officio member positions on the Public Service Authority Board of Directors. The legislation designated one ex-officio member to be chosen by the Chairman of Central Electric Power Cooperative, or his designee, and the second ex-officio member to be chosen by the Board of Central Electric Power Cooperative.

Chairman Alexander received a letter, dated July 14, 2021, from E. Paul Basha, Chairman of Central Electric Power Cooperative stating that Robert C. Hochstetler and Robert G. Ardis, III had been designated as the ex-officio members of the Public Service Authority Board of Directors. Mr. Hochstetler serves as the ex-officio member designated by the Chairman of Central, and Mr. Ardis serves as the member chosen by Central's Board.

Pursuant to Section 58-31-20(E)(4), the Public Utilities Review Committee must verify the statutory qualifications of ex-officio members appointed to the Santee Cooper Board of Directors within six months of beginning service as an ex-officio member. The statutory qualifications, as established by Section 58-31-20(C), are the following:

valuable contributions to Santee Cooper. This includes substantial business skills and experience, including but not limited to:

a. General knowledge of Santee Cooper's history, purpose and operations, and the responsibitilities of its directors;

b. Ability to interpret legal and financial documents and information to further the activities and affairs of Santee Cooper;

c. With the assistance of counsel, the ability to understand and apply federal and state laws, rules, and regulations; and

d. With the assistance of counsel, the ability to understand and apply judicial decisions related to Santee Cooper.

(2) A baccalaurete or more advanced degree; and

(3) A background of substantial duration and expertise in at least one of the following:

(a) Energy issues;
(b) Consumer protection and advocacy;
(c) Water and wastewater issues;
(d) Finance, economics, and statistics;
(e) Accounting;
(f) Engineering; or
(g) Law.

The Review Committee sent Mr. Hochsteter and Mr. Ardis a set of questions to elicit information with respect to their respective knowledge regarding the operations of the Public Service Authority, knowledge of best practices for boards of directors, and knowledge of the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) as well as their experience as required of ex-officio board members. They both appeared before the Review Committee on October 21, 2021, and answered further questions from the Review Committee members on those issues and others. Mr. Hochstetler and Mr. Ardis provided official transcripts from their respective institutions of higher education to demonstrate they each met the education requirement per (C)(2).

Following a review of the information provided by Mr. Hochstetler and Mr. Ardis, both in writing and orally during the October 21, 2021 meeting, the Review Committee members determined that Mr. Robert C. Hochstetler and Mr. Robert G. Ardis, III meet the statutory requirements to serve as ex-officio members of the Public Service Authority Board of Directors.

The following was introduced:

H. 4961 -- Reps. Brawley, Alexander, Anderson, Bamberg, Clyburn, Dillard, Garvin, Gilliard, Govan, Henderson-Myers, Henegan, Hosey, Howard, Jefferson, J. L. Johnson, K. O. Johnson, King, Matthews,

McDaniel, J. Moore, Murray, Parks, Pendarvis, Rivers, Robinson, Rutherford, Tedder, Thigpen, Weeks, R. Williams and S. Williams: A HOUSE RESOLUTION TO RECOGNIZE AND HONOR THE LIFE AND ACHIEVEMENTS OF HARVEY B. GANTT, THE FIRST AFRICAN AMERICAN STUDENT TO ATTEND A PREVIOUSLY ALL WHITE INSTITUTION OF HIGHER LEARNING IN SOUTH CAROLINA WHEN HE WAS ADMITTED TO CLEMSON UNIVERSITY IN 1963.

Whereas, born in Charleston in 1943, Mr. Gantt was educated in the city's public school system, graduating second in his class from Burke High School. He attended Iowa State University on a merit scholarship, and in 1961, he applied to Clemson University and was admitted under court order; and

Whereas, in 1965, he graduated with honors with a bachelor's degree in architecture, and he earned a master's degree in city planning from the prestigious Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1970; and

Whereas, in 1971, Mr. Gantt and Jeff Huberman co-founded Gantt Huberman Architects, an architectural firm in Charlotte, North Carolina. The firm experienced tremendous growth under their leadership and became an award-winning design organization; and

Whereas, dedicated to his community, he served more than three terms on the Charlotte City Council during the late 1970s and served as mayor pro tem of the city in 1981 and 1983. Mr. Gantt became the first African American elected to serve as mayor of the city of Charlotte, an office he held for two terms. During his tenure, the city of Charlotte experienced one of its greatest periods of prosperity: more than twenty-one thousand new jobs were created, and investments reached more than a million dollars; and

Whereas, in 1990, he ran for national office, contesting Jesse Helms in the North Carolina United States Senate race as a Democrat, a bid that exemplified his belief that no challenge is too great. Although Mr. Gantt lost the election, he won national acclaim and respect for positions he took on education, health care, and the environment in the much-publicized and controversial campaign; and

Whereas, he remains active in politics, serving on the North Carolina Executive Council and on the Democratic National Committee. With more than 15 years of service to the public, he remains an active participant in dozens of civic, cultural, and professional organizations, and he devotes time to speaking and lecturing nationwide at colleges and universities on current architectural and political issues; and

Whereas, in 1986, Mr. Gantt was made a fellow in the American Institute of Architects, the highest honor granted to a practicing architect. His numerous awards and honors include honorary doctoral degrees from six colleges and universities; and

Whereas, the South Carolina House of Representatives values the esteem and recognition that Harvey Gantt has brought to the Palmetto State during his life spent breaking new ground, supported by his personal formula for success: "Successful people have a strong sense of their own self-worth, and that sense of self-esteem is the foundation on which they reach out and move forward." Now, therefore,

Be it resolved by the House of Representatives:

That the members of the South Carolina House of Representatives, by this resolution, recognize and honor the life and achievements of Harvey B. Gantt, the first African American student to attend a previously all-white institution of higher learning in South Carolina when he was admitted to Clemson University in 1963.

Be it further resolved that a copy of this resolution be presented to Harvey B. Gantt.

The Resolution was adopted.

Department of Transportation

SECTION 2. There is established in the State Treasury an account to be known as the Transportation Infrastructure Acceleration Account. The account is separate from the general fund of the State and all other funds and accounts. The account shall consist of the federal funds authorized pursuant to subsection (A)(1) of SECTION 1 of this act. The funds in the Transportation Infrastructure Acceleration Account must be used by the Department of Transportation to accelerate completion of projects included in the Statewide Transportation Improvement Program. These funds are not intended to satisfy state matching requirements for any other federal grants to the extent that such use is disallowed by ARPA.

SECTION 3. Funds in the Transportation Infrastructure Acceleration Account may be released to the Department of Transportation upon the direction of the Executive Budget Office. The Executive Budget Office may not direct the release of funds until the Department of Transportation has submitted its plans for the funds to the Joint Bond Review Committee for its review and comment.

Rural Infrastructure Authority

SECTION 4. There is established in the State Treasury an account to be known as the ARPA Water and Sewer Infrastructure Account. The account is separate from the general fund of the State and all other funds and accounts. The account shall consist of federal funds authorized pursuant to subsection (A)(2) of SECTION 1 of this act. The funds in the ARPA Water and Sewer Infrastructure Account must be used by the Rural Infrastructure Authority to administer and operate three grant programs designed to provide for improvements in water, wastewater, and stormwater infrastructure throughout the State. In each of the three grant programs, units of local government, special purpose districts, commissions of public works, and joint municipal organizations may apply for grants. A unit of local government may apply for a grant on behalf of nonprofit water and sewer systems. Grants may be awarded for the completion of water, wastewater, and stormwater projects as defined in ARPA.

SECTION 5. (A) The Rural Infrastructure Authority shall utilize $800,000,000 of the funds in the ARPA Water and Sewer Infrastructure Account to operate, in cooperation with the Department of Health and Environmental Control, a competitive infrastructure grant program. Of the funds in the account for the competitive infrastructure grant program, the Rural Infrastructure Authority may allocate up to $6,000,000 of the funds for its administrative costs and shall transfer up to $6,000,000 to the Department of Health and Environmental Control for related permitting activities. The Rural Infrastructure Authority shall transfer five hundred thousand dollars to each of the ten South Carolina Councils of Government for planning assistance, development of grant application proposals, and compliance assistance related to improvements in water, wastewater, and stormwater infrastructure for smaller systems.

(B) Grants pursuant to this program must be issued equitably based upon established priorities and parameters. Applicants may request up to ten million dollars for each project or application. Awards must be made from the funds authorized for the competitive infrastructure grant program, less any amounts allocated for purposes designated in subsection (A).

(C) Local financial support is required for each grant award and must be committed in writing and available prior to project bidding. Design, engineering, and other nonconstruction costs are considered part of the local financial support. For large utilities, the local financial support must be equal to or greater than twenty-five percent of the project cost. For small and medium utilities, the local financial support must be equal to or greater than fifteen percent of the project cost. For purposes of this subsection, large utilities are defined as those serving a population equal to or greater than thirty thousand people, and small and medium utilities are defined as those serving a population of less than thirty thousand people, or located in a Tier III or Tier IV county at the time of the grant pursuant to Section 12-6-3360 of the 1976 Code.

(D) Priority consideration must be given to applications for projects based upon a comparative analysis in the following relative order of need:

(1) regional solutions - projects that implement solutions that impact multiple systems;

(2) water quality - projects that address consent orders, violations, or other public health or environmental impacts;

(3) resilience and storm protection - projects that help utilities prepare for emergencies;

(4) other aging infrastructure - projects that upgrade or replace infrastructure that has exceeded its useful life; and

(5) capacity - projects that improve service for existing residents while preparing for future opportunities.

(E) To provide for equitable distribution of funds from the account, the following factors must be considered when awarding grants:

(1) documented priority needs;

(2) the transformational impact of the project on the relevant community;

(3) the extent to which additional funds may be leveraged by the grant;

(4) the readiness of the applicant to proceed with the project and meet program deadlines;

(5) the project's feasibility; and

(6) geographic diversity.

SECTION 6. (A) The Rural Infrastructure Authority shall utilize $20,000,000 of the funds in the ARPA Water and Sewer Infrastructure Account to operate a planning grant program for very small water systems. This program will assist very small systems that are unable to provide the required local investment for the competitive infrastructure grant program or that cannot identify a competitive project for assistance. Applicants for grants from this program must identify the assistance needed. Grants from this program may be awarded in an amount up to one million dollars per system. For purposes of this section, a very small water system is defined as a water system serving a population equal to or less than three thousand three hundred people.

(B) Grant recipients may utilize grant funding pursuant to this program for approved purposes including, but not limited to, capital improvement planning, rate studies and other financial assessments, asset management, smoke testing, mapping, televising of lines and other necessary analyses, as well as preliminary planning and design for capital improvement projects. As a condition for receiving a grant pursuant to this program, recipients must demonstrate the intent to implement the recommendations arising from approved planning assistance.

SECTION 7. (A) The Rural Infrastructure Authority shall utilize $50,000,000 of the funds in the ARPA Water and Sewer Infrastructure Account to operate a regional solutions grant program. Applicants may request up to ten million dollars per project or application. The maximum grant request may be waived by the Rural Infrastructure Authority if the proposed project provides a regional solution that will result in consolidation or for projects located in Tier III or Tier IV counties at the time of the grant pursuant to Section 12-6-3360 of the 1976 Code.

(B) Local financial support equal to or greater than fifteen percent of the cost of the project is required for each grant award and must be committed in writing and available prior to project bidding. Design, engineering, and other nonconstruction costs are considered part of the local financial support. The local financial support requirement may be waived by the Rural Infrastructure Authority if the proposed project provides a regional solution that will result in consolidation or for projects located in Tier III or Tier IV counties at the time of the grant pursuant to Section 12-6-3360 of the 1976 Code.

(C) Priority consideration will be given to applications for projects based upon a comparative analysis in the following relative order of need:

(1) the project results in a consolidation or operating agreement with at least one small system with viability concerns;

(2) the project results in an expanded partnership agreement with at least one small system with viability concerns; and

(3) the project results in a consolidation or operating agreement with other systems.

(D) To provide for equitable distribution of funds from the account, the following factors must be considered when awarding grants:

(1) documented priority needs;

(2) the transformational impact of the project on the relevant community;

(3) the extent to which additional funds may be leveraged by the grant;

(4) the readiness of the applicant to proceed with the project and meet program deadlines;

(5) the project's feasibility; and

(6) geographic diversity.

SECTION 8. The Rural Infrastructure Authority is permitted to modify or waive the program parameters of SECTIONS 4, 5, 6 and 7 to ensure the timely and equitable distribution of funds in compliance with federal guidelines for these funds. Modifications to funding amounts authorized for specific use by each program first must be submitted with justification to the Joint Bond Review Committee for review and comment. The Rural Infrastructure Authority shall submit a report of all other modifications to the Joint Bond Review Committee.

The account is separate from the general fund of the State and all other funds and accounts. The account shall consist of the federal funds authorized pursuant to subsection (A)(1) of SECTION 1 of this act. The funds in the Transportation Infrastructure Acceleration Account must be used by the Department of Transportation to accelerate completion of projects included in the Statewide Transportation Improvement Program. These funds are not intended to satisfy state matching requirements for any other federal grants to the extent that such use is disallowed by ARPA.

SECTION 3. Funds in the Transportation Infrastructure Acceleration Account may be released to the Department of Transportation upon the direction of the Executive Budget Office. The Executive Budget Office may not direct the release of funds until the Department of Transportation has submitted its plans for the funds to the Joint Bond Review Committee for its review and comment.

Rural Infrastructure Authority

SECTION 4. There is established in the State Treasury an account to be known as the ARPA Water and Sewer Infrastructure Account. The account is separate from the general fund of the State and all other funds and accounts. The account shall consist of federal funds authorized pursuant to subsection (A)(2) of SECTION 1 of this act. The funds in the ARPA Water and Sewer Infrastructure Account must be used by the Rural Infrastructure Authority to administer and operate three grant programs designed to provide for improvements in water, wastewater, and stormwater infrastructure throughout the State. In each of the three grant programs, units of local government, special purpose districts, commissions of public works, and joint municipal organizations may apply for grants. A unit of local government may apply for a grant on behalf of nonprofit water and sewer systems. Grants may be awarded for the completion of water, wastewater, and stormwater projects as defined in ARPA.

SECTION 5. (A) The Rural Infrastructure Authority shall utilize $800,000,000 of the funds in the ARPA Water and Sewer Infrastructure Account to operate, in cooperation with the Department of Health and Environmental Control, a competitive infrastructure grant program. Of the funds in the account for the competitive infrastructure grant program, the Rural Infrastructure Authority may allocate up to $6,000,000 of the funds for its administrative costs and shall transfer up to $6,000,000 to the Department of Health and Environmental Control for related permitting activities. The Rural Infrastructure Authority shall transfer five hundred thousand dollars to each of the ten South Carolina Councils of Government for planning assistance, development of grant application proposals, and compliance assistance related to improvements in water, wastewater, and stormwater infrastructure for smaller systems.

(B) Grants pursuant to this program must be issued equitably based upon established priorities and parameters. Applicants may request up to ten million dollars for each project or application. Awards must be made from the funds authorized for the competitive infrastructure grant program, less any amounts allocated for purposes designated in subsection (A).

(C) Local financial support is required for each grant award and must be committed in writing and available prior to project bidding.

Design, engineering, and other nonconstruction costs are considered part of the local financial support. For large utilities, the local financial support must be equal to or greater than twenty-five percent of the project cost. For small and medium utilities, the local financial support must be equal to or greater than fifteen percent of the project cost. For purposes of this subsection, large utilities are defined as those serving a population equal to or greater than thirty thousand people, and small and medium utilities are defined as those serving a population of less than thirty thousand people, or located in a Tier III or Tier IV county at the time of the grant pursuant to Section 12-6-3360 of the 1976 Code.

(D) Priority consideration must be given to applications for projects based upon a comparative analysis in the following relative order of need:

(1) regional solutions - projects that implement solutions that impact multiple systems;

(2) water quality - projects that address consent orders, violations, or other public health or environmental impacts;

(3) resilience and storm protection - projects that help utilities prepare for emergencies;

(4) other aging infrastructure - projects that upgrade or replace infrastructure that has exceeded its useful life; and

(5) capacity - projects that improve service for existing residents while preparing for future opportunities.

(E) To provide for equitable distribution of funds from the account, the following factors must be considered when awarding grants:

(1) documented priority needs;

(2) the transformational impact of the project on the relevant community;

(3) the extent to which additional funds may be leveraged by the grant;

(4) the readiness of the applicant to proceed with the project and meet program deadlines;

(5) the project's feasibility; and

(6) geographic diversity.

SECTION 6. (A) The Rural Infrastructure Authority shall utilize $20,000,000 of the funds in the ARPA Water and Sewer Infrastructure Account to operate a planning grant program for very small water systems. This program will assist very small systems that are unable to provide the required local investment for the competitive infrastructure grant program or that cannot identify a competitive project for assistance. Applicants for grants from this program must identify the assistance needed. Grants from this program may be awarded in an amount up to one million dollars per system. For purposes of this section, a very small water system is defined as a water system serving a population equal to or less than three thousand three hundred people.

(B) Grant recipients may utilize grant funding pursuant to this program for approved purposes including, but not limited to, capital improvement planning, rate studies and other financial assessments, asset management, smoke testing, mapping, televising of lines and other necessary analyses, as well as preliminary planning and design for capital improvement projects. (B) Local financial support equal to or greater than fifteen percent of the cost of the project is required for each grant award and must be committed in writing and available prior to project bidding. Design, engineering, and other nonconstruction costs are considered part of the local financial support. The local financial support requirement may be waived by the Rural Infrastructure Authority if the proposed project provides a regional solution that will result in consolidation or for projects located in Tier III or Tier IV counties at the time of the grant pursuant to Section 12-6-3360 of the 1976 Code.

(C) Priority consideration will be given to applications for projects based upon a comparative analysis in the following relative order of need:

(1) the project results in a consolidation or operating agreement with at least one small system with viability concerns;

(2) the project results in an expanded partnership agreement with at least one small system with viability concerns; and

(3) the project results in a consolidation or operating agreement with other systems.

(D) To provide for equitable distribution of funds from the account, the following factors must be considered when awarding grants:

(1) documented priority needs;

(2) the transformational impact of the project on the relevant community;

(3) the extent to which additional funds may be leveraged by the grant;

(4) the readiness of the applicant to proceed with the project and meet program deadlines;

(5) the project's feasibility; and

(6) geographic diversity.

SECTION 8. The Rural Infrastructure Authority is permitted to modify or waive the program parameters of SECTIONS 4, 5, 6 and 7 to ensure the timely and equitable distribution of funds in compliance with federal guidelines for these funds. Modifications to funding amounts authorized for specific use by each program first must be submitted with justification to the Joint Bond Review Committee for review and comment. The Rural Infrastructure Authority shall submit a report of all other modifications to the Joint Bond Review Committee.

RECORD FOR VOTING

Federal funding comes from three sources, primarily: taxes, debt, and printing new money.

Of these, the third is the most expensive way to fund government projects. Of these, the third is the most morally objectionable, because it spends the futures of our children and grandchildren.

I support funding infrastructure of all types-roads, water, and even broadband--and am keenly aware of how sorely resources are needed in rural and impoverished areas of our State.

However, South Carolina has the resources to meet these needs already, and I have been an advocate through the years of increasing local funding by the State to meet needs such as these.

The federal funds from the American Recovery Plan Act are tainted.

We would (I should think) have a problem spending the proceeds from any illicit source such as sex trafficking of minors, gun running, or illegal drugs.

We should view mortgaging the futures of generations to come in the same light. It may be legal, but it is not moral.

The ends do not justify the means. Therefore, I oppose this Joint Resolution.

REVIEW AND OVERSIGHT COMMISSION ON THE SOUTH CAROLINA PORTS AUTHORITY

2022 BIENNIAL OVERSIGHT REVIEW
February 2022

Act 73 of 2009 established the Review and Oversight Commission on the South Carolina State Ports Authority (SCPA). Article 13, Chapter 3, Title 54 of the South Carolina Code vests with the Commission the duty to screen appointees to the SCPA Board of Directors and to conduct biennial oversight reviews of the SCPA and its operations.

With regard to the biennial oversight review, Section 54-3-1310(B) requires the Commission to:

1. Consider whether the SCPA is promoting, developing, constructing, equipping, maintaining, and operating the harbors and seaports of this State in an efficient, effective manner in accordance with all applicable laws and regulations.
2. Evaluate the performance of the SCPA's Executive Director.
3. Evaluate the performance of the SCPA Board of Directors and each of its members.

On September 14, 2021, the Commission notified Mr. Bill Stern, Chairman of the SCPA Board of Directors, and Mr. Jim Newsome, Executive Director of the SCPA, that it was beginning the biennial oversight review process. In that letter, the Commission requested that the SCPA provide information on a wide range of topics related to the SCPA's operations, Board members, and the Executive Director's performance review as required by Section 54-3-70. The SCPA submitted ITS response to the request for information on October 15, 2021.

Commission staff has reviewed the information submitted by the SCPA, totaling nearly 500 pages. This document represents Senate staff's analysis of that information. While most of the information used to generate this report is from the information submitted on October 15, 2021 (hereinafter the "SCPA's October 2021 Report"), other sources for this report include: the SCPA's presentation to the Senate Transportation Committee on April 7, 2021; the SCPA's 2021 Annual Report; the SCPA's 2021 Financial Statements; the SCPA's presentations to the JBRC Fiscal Oversight Subcommittee on November 9, 2021 and December 31, 2021; Moody's Investor Services and S&P Ratings documents; and the SCPA's website. Information from the other sources is generally cited. Once approved by the Commission, a final report will be published in the journals of both houses, made available on the General Assembly's website, and transmitted to the Governor and the SCPA Board of Directors.

SECTION 1.
REVIEW OF THE SCPA AND ITS OPERATIONS
Mission Statement

The SCPA's mission statement is:

> South Carolina Ports Authority promotes, develops and facilitates waterborne commerce to meet the current and future needs of its customers, and for the economic benefit of the citizens and businesses of South Carolina. SC Ports fulfills this mission by delivering cost competitive facilities and services, collaborating with customers and stakeholders, and sustaining its financial self-sufficiency.

Facilities Profile

The SCPA owns and operates nine terminals around the State:

- Port of Georgetown:

The Port of Georgetown has an authorized depth of 27 feet. The Office of Management and Budget requires one million tons of cargo to move through the Port to qualify for maintenance dredging. Over time, Georgetown's volumes have declined significantly under the one million ton mark, so the channel has not been maintained. A significant portion of this cargo loss can be attributed to inactivity at the Georgetown Steel Mill, the SCPA's primary user. The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers' estimated costs to restore the channel to 27 feet have increased significantly from previous estimates.

While the mill resumed operations in 2018, it closed again in April 2020 due to the COVID-19 pandemic. Though it remained closed as of the date of this report, it was expected to re-open in mid-January 2022. Regardless of the steel mill's future, the SCPA reports that "the Port of Georgetown is not economically feasible. SCPA will continue to proactively work with the local community on the future of the property [and]… continues to operate the Port of Georgetown on a strategic basis for transloading/warehousing of goods."

• Inland Port Greer and Inland Port Dillon:
These facilities provide overnight intermodal rail service to and from the Port of Charleston and expand the SCPA's footprint, both within the State and well into the Midwest.
Located along the Interstate 85 corridor between Charlotte and Atlanta, Inland Port Greer opened in November 2013. Greer handles BMW imports and exports, moving parts and vehicles to and from the Port of Charleston via Norfolk Southern rail. Other customers include Dollar Tree and Michelin. Growth has been significant. In FY14, there were roughly 19,500 rail moves at Greer. By comparison, in FY21, there were more than 157,000 rail moves. The SCPA is undertaking $28 million in improvements at Greer.

Inland Port Dillon opened in April 2018 and is located in an industrial park near the intersection of two CSX rail lines and Interstate 95. Dillon had 32,455 rail moves in FY20 and 34,987 in FY21. Dillon has available capacity and continues to attract new business. Northwest Grains broke ground adjacent to Dillon in June 2021. Expected to open in the fourth quarter of 2021, the transload facility is expected to handle soybeans, cottonseed, and other Pee Dee agricultural commodities into containers for export.

• Port of Charleston:
The depth and width of the Port of Charleston's channel, its comparatively quicker transit times, and lack of congestion provide easy access for ocean carriers. The Port of Charleston also has a national defense component as one of seventeen federally-designated commercial Strategic Seaports. According to the United States Army, "The Strategic Seaport Program ensures America has the seaport capacity necessary to effectively handle any contingency affecting national security. It provides America's armed forces with a reserve seaport capacity to respond to any sudden, large increases in the need to move military assets during a national emergency or surge deployment."

Wando Welch Terminal (WWT)

The Wando Welch Terminal is the SCPA's largest facility and is located in Mount Pleasant. WWT is a container terminal and has agricultural transloading capabilities. Ships must pass under the Ravenel Bridge to access the terminal. Currently, there are no concerns of air draft restrictions that would prevent next generation ships from calling on the WWT.

An ongoing reconfiguration of the terminal's container storage area has significantly expanded storage capacity. According to the SCPA, 700,000 twenty foot equivalent units (TEUs) of new capacity were gained as a result of improved functionality. The renovation and modernization project also includes the addition of new ship-to-shore cranes and rubber tired gantry cranes.

North Charleston Terminal (NCT)

North Charleston Terminal is a 201-acre container terminal located on the Cooper River. Ships must pass under both the Ravenel and Don Holt Bridges to access the facility. While there are no concerns relating to the height of the Ravenel Bridge there are air draft restriction concerns for the Don Holt Bridge. The NCT has a capacity of half a million TEUs and handles about a fifth of the SCPA's total container volume, primarily servicing ships of 8,000 TEUs and smaller.

Columbus Street Terminal

Columbus Street Terminal handles roll-on/roll-off, heavy lift, project, and break bulk cargo. Most of the SCPA's automotive exports are moved through this facility. Inland Port Greer is able to send exports directly to this terminal via rail.

Union Pier Terminal

Union Pier Terminal handles cruise and break bulk cargo, and cruise lines have called at Union Pier for more than 100 years.

The Carnival Sunshine is home-ported here. From FY17 - FY20, roughly 220,000 cruise passengers used Union Pier annually. As a result of the COVID-19 pandemic, the CDC suspended passenger cruises in mid-March 2020. Norwegian Cruise Line began port-of-call dockings in late2021, and Carnival plans to resume embarkations in January 2022.

The existing cruise terminal was opened in 1973. In 2020 the Ports Authority entered into an agreement with the real estate company, Lowe, the owner of the Wild Dunes Resort and other properties, to entitle and sell the non-maritime portion of Union Pier for redevelopment. The SCPA also plans to renovate and build a new cruise terminal, but legal and permitting challenges remain.

Veterans Terminal

Veterans Terminal is a transload facility with limited breakbulk capability. It is located on the Cooper River in North Charleston.

Hugh K. Leatherman, Sr. Terminal (HLT)

Phase 1 of the Hugh K. Leatherman Terminal is complete. The terminal opened in the first quarter of 2021, and the first vessel arrived in April. Located on a portion of the former Charleston Naval Base, the facility is designed to accommodate post-Panamax-sized container vessels and will continue to be constructed in phases on a demand-driven basis.

With 140 improved acres, the HLT includes 1,400 continuous feet of berth space, a 700,000 TEU container capacity, five ship-to-shore cranes with 169 feet of lift, and 25 hybrid rubber-tired gantry cranes. Phase 1 cost $1.025 billion and is the first new container terminal in the U.S. in more than a decade. The facility also includes a new, direct-access interchange with I-26.

To date, utilization of the terminal has been extremely limited due to ongoing litigation. (See ‘Outstanding Litigation, HLT, pages 14-15 of this report.)

Labor

The SCPA is an “operating port,” meaning it owns and maintains infrastructure, including a yard management system, and manages vessel, yard, and gate operations within SCPA facilities. SCPA employees operate major equipment, such as cranes and container handlers during vessel operations. Members of the ILA perform stevedoring vessel functions to move cargo between the vessel and the yard using a yard tractor. The SCPA manages gate operations and outsources gate labor to Charleston Gate, LLC. This company employs ILA workers.

Labor relations appear to be stable, with the one caveat relating to the HLT litigation. A six-year master contract between the USMX and the ILA was signed 2018 and runs through 2024.

Economic Impact

According to a 2019 study by the University of South Carolina's Darla Moore School of Business (hereinaf "the Moore School Study"), the total economic impact on the state resulting from all activities associated with the SCPA is an estimated $63.4 billion annually. "This impact corresponds to 224,963 jobs and nearly $12.8 billion in labor income for South Carolinians that would not exist otherwise."[5]

The study also found that:

- South Carolina is the most global trade-dependent state in the nation.
- Directly or indirectly, the SCPA is responsible for 1 in 10 jobs in South Carolina.
- 51.8 percent of the statewide economic impact associated with the SCPA is in the Upstate.
- The average labor income across all S.C. jobs supported, directly or indirectly, by the SCPA is $56,783, a figure 35 percent higher than the State's per capita income.

Cargo Volume

Total cargo volume is measured in: (1) container volume and (2) break bulk volume (cargo that cannot fit in standard-sized containers or cargo bins). The Port of Charleston handles both container and break bulk cargo. Since falling to its lowest point in volume in FY10, the SCPA has steadily regained market share, implementing a successful cargo diversification plan, in order to grow business. The Port of Charleston remains a top ten U.S. port by container volume.

Container Volume:

- Pandemic impacts continued at the beginning of FY21, with monthly year-over-year declines in July and August 2020 and relatively flat volumes in September and October. Record increases in the remaining eight months of the fiscal year resulted in net gains for the fiscal year.
- SCPA handled a record 2.5 million twenty foot equivalent units (TEUs) in FY21. This is an increase of nearly 10 percent over FY20 and a 6.5 percent increase over FY19.
- Record pier container volumes of 1,418,865 represented an increase of 7.7 percent and 4.0 percent from FY20 and FY19, respectively. (Pier containers measure containers of any size.) The increases were driven largely by enhanced demand for imported consumer goods with import pier container increases over FY20 and FY19.

Break Bulk Volume:

- Similarly, vehicle and breakbulk pier tons initially decreased before rebounding.
- SCPA finished FY21 with a total of 253,983 pier vehicles (up 27 percent over FY20) and a total of 807,520 pier tons.

Inland Ports:

- Inland ports Dillon and Greer continued to grow and capture market share in FY21.
- Dillon achieved its highest fiscal year volume on record with 34,987 rail moves, representing 7.8 percent growth over FY20.
- Greer had 157,842 rail moves in FY21, an increase of 12.6 percent and 10.2 percent from FY20 and FY19, respectively.

Import/Export Balance:

- Since 2011, the total dollar volume of export activity (adjusted for inflation) has grown by 33.7 percent.
- Top imports include vehicles, machinery parts, furniture/sporting goods/toys, and textiles/apparel.
- Top exports include forest products, chemicals, foodstuffs and agricultural materials.
- In 2018, South Carolina exported nearly $34.5 billion in total cargo while importing approximately $52.4 billion.

- In FY18, loaded pier containers included 36 percent export and 44 percent import. Empty containers were 17 percent export and 3 percent import.

Panama Canal

The SCPA indicates that its " expectations for more, larger vessels were met and exceeded since the expanded Panama Canal opened in 2016." Ten ships that are too large for the old locks arrive in or depart from Charleston via the Panama Canal each week. In May 2021 the 16,022-TEU CMA CGM MARCO POLO became the largest ship to call the East Coast when she arrived in Charleston.

Ocean carriers continue to use larger ships and as of the third quarter of 2021, 81 percent of the ship capacity on order was for vessels greater than 10,000 TEU, according to the SCPA. Further, in the past five years the average capacity of ships calling on Charleston grew by more than one-third, from 6,850 TEU in 2016 to greater than 10,000 TEU today. A successful simulation of a 19,000 TEU has been conducted in the Charleston Harbor, an indication that the 52 foot mean low water depth should be adequate to meet Charleston's future container vessel needs.

Ongoing Projects

Charleston Harbor Deepening

To accommodate larger ships traversing the larger Panama Canal, and the expanded Suez Canal, a deepening of the Charleston Harbor was necessary. The Charleston Harbor Post-45 Project is the first deep draft navigation project to be conducted under the federal "smart planning" concept. Expected to be completed in mid-2022, Charleston will have the deepest harbor on the East Coast at 52 feet mean low water. The harbor previously had 47 feet of depth in the entrance channel and 45 feet of depth in the interior channel at mean low water. All terminals are within two hours of the open ocean. Current channel depths and widths, transit times, and lack of congestion provide easy access to and from SCPA facilities.

The SCPA continues to work with the S.C. Congressional Delegation to secure reimbursement funds once the project is eligible, possibly as early as 2023. The $600 million federal/state venture included $300 million in state funds.

Deepening work began in the summer of 2017. According to the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, the project's scope of work will:

- Deepen the existing entrance channel from 47 feet to 54 feet and extend it three miles seaward;
- Deepen the inner harbor "from 45 feet to 52 feet from the Entrance Channel to the confluence of the Wando and Cooper Rivers, about two miles up the Wando River to the [WWT] and about three miles up the Cooper River to the [HLT];"
- Provide a depth of 48 feet over five miles from the HLT to the NCT; and
- Enlarge turning basins at the Wando Welch, Leatherman, and North Charleston terminals.

HLT

The Leatherman Terminal is designed to be fully built out on a demand-driven basis. Total investment is expected to be approximately $2 billion over three phases of development. As previously noted, Phase 1 has been completed at a cost of approximately $1 billion. The terminal will provide a gateway to a near-dock Navy Base Intermodal Facility (NBIF). The HLT is expected to have a capacity of 2.4 million TEUs at full build out.

HLT Access Road

This is a new interchange with Interstate 26 to provide direct truck access between the HLT and Interstate 26. The mainline portion of the road opened in the first quarter of 2021. Nearby local streets are expected to be opened in February 2022. This project is expected to cost approximately $390 million. Funding sources are a combination of state funds, SCPA revenue bonds, and federal grants.

WWT Improvements

The WWT container storage area has been reconfigured to significantly increase and maximize storage capacity and improve functionality. The reconfiguration is expected to be completed in December 2022. Related work at WWT includes:

- Installation of a sub-aqueous steel toe wall in front of the WWT wharf to allow for future deepening of the berth in conjunction with harbor deepening. Construction timelines are TBD and the SCPA advises that it awaits utilization of the HLT wharf to increase before beginning this construction at WWT;

- The purchase of four new ship-to-shore cranes, which should be fully commissioned by March 2022;
- The construction of two operations buildings; and
- The creation of an additional 53-foot trailer parking lot to support TradePort Logistics' growing transload operation on-terminal.

NCT Improvements

Recent improvements at NCT include replacement of a segment of overhead power lines to one of the terminal's substations, and the installation of new rail tracks and utilities to support Ray-Mont Logistics' new transload facility.

Navy Base Intermodal Facility (NBIF)/Barge Service

In July 2021, the SCPA entered into an intergovernmental agreement with the South Carolina Department of Commerce's Palmetto Railways to cooperate on the construction and operation of a Navy Base Intermodal Facility (NBIF) on the former Charleston Naval Complex near the HLT. According to the SCPA's Notes to Financial Statements Years Ended June 30, 2021 and 2020 (hereinafter "FY20 and 21 Notes"), the NBIF would:

> provide near-dock, equal access to Norfolk Southern Railway Company and CSX Transportation to meet future intermodal container transportation demand in the Charleston region. Under the terms of the agreement, the Ports Authority will have the obligation, authority, and responsibility for the bidding, award, construction, and operation of the NBIF, which is expected to commence during the fiscal year ending June 30, 2022.

The SCPA indicates that the NBIF will help it expand its rail reach beyond its traditional Southeast market. To maximize productivity at the NBIF, the SCPA is working on a barge operation to enable cargo moves from the WWT to the HLT. A barge berth will be constructed at HLT so that cargo can travel via a yet-to-be-constructed dedicated drayage road to the NBIF. The NBIF will be capable of building trains up to 15,000 feet long. Additionally, the SCPA is now in the permitting phase for a project to extend the WWT wharf 700 feet to implement the barge project. The total NBIF project budget is $408.3 million, according to the SCPA. The SCPA was appropriated $200 million in the FY21-22 annual appropriations act for infrastructure related to the NBIF.

According to the SCPA, the proposed container barge service between WWT and HLT "would take thousands of trucks off local highways resulting in significant air emission reductions, traffic congestion reductions, and benefits to local communities."

Ridgeville Industrial Campus/Walmart

The SCPA purchased a 1,000-acre property in Ridgeville in Dorchester County in 2018 with the expectation of attracting port-dependent businesses to the site. In December 2020, Walmart broke ground on a nearly three million square foot import distribution center on the SCPA's Ridgeville Industrial Campus. The center will supply several regional distribution centers, which in turn will support approximately 850 Walmart and Sam's Clubs across the region. Walmart is investing $220 million in the facility, which is expected to result in at least 1,000 new jobs.

The SCPA continues to invest in the property, providing the main access road, an access road extension to support ancillary development, and utilities. At full build-out, the distribution center is expected to increase the Port of Charleston's overall import volumes by five percent.

Smart Chassis Pool

Prior to June 2021, the South Atlantic Chassis Pool (SACP), part of the North American Chassis Pool Cooperative, provided chassis to handle intermodal containers to and from major Southeastern ports. Citing concerns with the age, quality, safety, and availability of the SACP chassis, in June 2021 the Board approved the creation of a "Smart Chassis Pool" program, in which the SCPA will own and operate chassis for its customers. The Board approved resolutions spending up to $137 million. According to FY20 and 21 Notes, "[t]he chassis pool will provide newer, modern chassis which will reduce out-of-service levels and lower repair and maintenance costs for users. The expected commencement date of the new chassis pool is late summer/early fall of 2022."

The SCPA indicates that:

> [T]he Smart Chassis Pool is being paid for with equipment financing and internal SCPA funds. Due to current supply chain disruptions and pricing, the model > has shifted from what was presented originally. SCPA will now purchase 11,150 new chassis and lease 1,700 with a 3-year term. Total Balance Sheet impact is now anticipated to be approximately $200 million. Financing of the chassis has been secured with three banks with the remaining capital costs being funded by SCPA.

The SCPA further indicates that "the chassis market is currently in flux with extremely high demand in the U.S. for additional chassis… driving the cost of ownership higher." While ports in Florida and North Carolina will continue to use SACP chassis, "a port-owned and operated model is a proven concept, started in [the Port of] Virginia over a decade ago."

Rapid Rail

The SCPA reports that 25 percent of container traffic from the Port of Charleston currently moves by rail, up from 15 percent in 2014, suggesting that having rail access is a significant competitive advantage. As the only major East Coast port without near-dock rail, containers moving through the Port of Charleston must move by truck, mainly via I-526, to local Norfolk Southern and CSX rail yards. The Rapid Rail program is designed to reduce this competitive disadvantage.

According to the SCPA, the Rapid Rail program is "intended to mimic other ports with near-dock rail capability who handle the drayage to/from rail yards with their own port-provided trucks." A steady increase in container volume moving via Rapid Rail is evidence of a successful program that has contributed to the SCPA's growth.

Daniel Island Property

The annual appropriations act includes a recurring proviso that requires the SCPA to sell its real property on Daniel Island, with the exception of dredge disposal cells necessary for harbor deepening and other maintenance and construction. The remaining parcel, 105 acres on a portion of the island known as North Island, includes approximately 30 acres of high land. After being listed for sale in April 2020 and soliciting bids, a potential buyer was identified and the due diligence process began. However, due to uncertain economic conditions related to the COVID-19 pandemic, the prospective buyer notified the SCPA that they needed additional time and withdrew their offer. Consequently, the SCPA requested a deadline extension, which is included in the current proviso as June 30, 2022.

Daniel Island Saltwater Mitigation Bank

The SCPA is developing a saltwater wetlands mitigation bank on a portion of SCPA-owned unused dredge disposal property on Daniel Island. The bank will provide credits to developers who are impacting saltwater wetlands in other locations. Since saltwater mitigation banks are not as common as freshwater banks, there is significant demand for them from developers. Currently, a mitigation banking instrument (MBI) must be approved by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers and other regulatory agencies. While an approved MBI agreement had been expected in 2021, the SCPA indicates that there is an outstanding issue relating to a utility easement on the site, and that the Corps has not approved the credit. The SCPA's legal team is working with the owner of the easement in hopes of securing Corps' approval.

Jasper Ocean Terminal

The proposed Jasper Ocean Terminal (JOT) project includes the construction and operation of an eight berth marine container terminal on a roughly 1,500-acre site along the South Carolina side of the Savannah River in Jasper County. At full build out, it would be the largest contiguous container terminal in North America, projected to hold seven million TEU. It is a part of a larger tract of land owned by the Georgia Department of Transportation. The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers has a perpetual easement on the proposed JOT site for dredge disposal material. The GPA currently operates the Garden City Terminal approximately eight miles up the river from the proposed site.

Pursuant to a 2008 intergovernmental agreement, SCPA and GPA own the land jointly as cotenants in an undivided interest in the land. Because the SCPA has significantly expanded capacity at Wando, and because future expansion space is available at HLT, the SCPA Board voted in March 2021 to turn over to Jasper County its share of the venture with the GPA. A September 2021 deadline passed without the GPA acting on the SCPA decision, and GPA requested additional time to agree to the transfer or withhold its consent. GPA now has until January 31, 2022 to approve or reject the transfer.

Business Development

According to the Moore School study, the SCPA is responsible, directly and indirectly, for 1 in 10 jobs in South Carolina, and its business accounts for $63 billion in economic output. "Advanced manufacturing employment doubled between 2010 and 2018 and total container volume shipped by [SCPA] facilities doubled between 2009 and 2018. As South Carolina's economic development strategy has continued to shift towards expanding export-oriented manufacturing, the importance of the State's seaports has continued to grow." To that end, SCPA's business development strategy focuses on "increasing discretionary rail volumes [and] transitioning [its] cargo base from manufacturing to retail." To justify this approach, the SCPA indicates that:

- Manufacturing is only 11 percent of U.S. GDP, making a manufacturing-centered strategy no longer a viable strategy;
- SCPA is out of sync with other major ports in retail participation;
- Consumption of goods is 35 percent of GDP;
- The COVID-19 pandemic put a premium on large, omnichannel capable retailers
- New capacity is needed in high velocity transloads near SCPA terminals and in large import distribution centers that are greater than one million square feet;
- Container shipping services are crafted around retail distribution; and
- Export transloading is necessary to buffer increasing container imbalances.

Further, the SCPA contends that the following are "requirements for success" in import retail distribution:

- Import first call ship services using the SCPA;
- Port dependent land with significant acreage for trailer parking;
- Counties willing to support industrial development with related truck traffic;
- Ample 53-foot domestic truck capacity; and
- Willingness to overturn the status quo

The SCPA identifies its WWT transload facility that serves Tradeport Logistics, Walmart's distribution center in Ridgeville, Michelin's three-million square foot distribution center near Inland Port Greer, and TTI Floor Care's two million square foot distribution center near Greer as examples of recent successes in the retail distribution sector. SCPA also worked with The Keith Corporation to develop a one million square foot industrial spec building on I-26 at the Charleston Trade Center in Jedburg. SCPA officials indicate that "a port-dependent client has already signed a lease on the building, months before [opening]. This will provide springboard momentum to other large scale projects across South Carolina."

Refrigerated cargo also represents a significant growth area for SCPA. The SCPA reports that it has "ample investment on terminal to handle [refrigerated cargo] and expansion of existing facilities is possible."

Customer Relations

The Commission asked the SCPA to "provide the specific methods it uses to ascertain the satisfaction level of its customers and users, as well as remedies taken to address any dissatisfaction expressed by customers and users."

In response, the SCPA asserted its dedication to both customer and user satisfaction and productivity. Its Solutions Center, staffed and managed by the SCPA, provides cargo owners, ocean carriers, motor carriers and other service providers a single point of contact to help resolve customer service issues. The Center is open anytime the gates are open and can be contacted by phone, email or on-line chat.

The SCPA also advises that it is in regular contact with major employers and customers, helping them with supply chain objectives from initial site selection to ongoing, day-to-day operations. Key performance indicators are also published on a weekly and monthly basis on the SCPA's website and provided in public meetings.

Additionally, the SCPA participated in an independent, national survey conducted by Mastio & Company in 2017. The study benchmarked customers' views on North American port performance and provided a summary of strengths and areas recommended for improvement. The SCPA indicates that a follow-on survey in 2020 was deferred due to COVID disruptions and will be conducted in 2022.

Financial Position

Revenues, Cash Flow, Capital Spending, Debt, and Net Position

SCPA generated record operating revenues of $312.8 million in FY21. This is an increase of 7 percent from the $292.3 million generated for FY20 and an increase of 6.3 percent over the $288.3 million generated in FY19. From the SCPA's most recent financial report:

- The SCPA had record cash flow from operating activities of $114 million in FY21, a 29.3 percent increase from FY20 and 26.9 percent over FY19.
- Total 15-year capital spending is an estimated $2.9 billion, with $1.7 billion of that projected to be spent from FY22 through FY31.
- Long-term debt was $948 million in FY19, $1.374 billion in FY20, and $1.356 billion in FY21. The FY22 plan calls for $1.473 billion. Debt service coverage was under 4x in FY21 and is projected to increase to just under 7x in FY31.
- Total net position was $715.5 million, $744 million, and $856.5 million as of June 30, 2021, 2020, and 2019 respectively. The Authority's total net position decreased $28.5 million in FY21 and $141 million from FY19.

Bond Ratings and Outlook

Moody's Investors Service completed a periodic review of ratings for the SCPA following a portfolio review discussion in June 2021. Moody's rated the SCPA's bondholdings as "A1."

Standard and Poor's Global Ratings assigned its "A+" long-term rating to the SCPA's approximately $162.7 million Series 2019D taxable revenue refunding bonds. According to its 2019 rating report, S&P "affirmed its 'A+' rating on the authority's revenue bonds outstanding. The outlook is stable." The SCPA's Senior Revenue Bonds, Series 2019A, Series 2019B, Series 2019C, Series 2019D, Series 2018 and Series 2015, are rated by Moody's and S&P, A1 and A+, respectively.

In April 2021, S&P "revised the outlooks on 185 long-term debt ratings associated with 126 issuers in the U.S. not-for-profit transportation infrastructure sector to stable from negative due to a variety of factors that we expect will improve and stabilize the credit-quality landscape over the next 12-24 months." The revised outlook included the SCPA. The previous month S&P "had revised the outlooks to negative for almost all issuers in those transportation infrastructure asset classes."

As of October 15, 2021, the SCPA's credit ratings are A1 (Moody's) and A+ (S&P) with a positive outlook. The SCPA indicates it has maintained these ratings for more than 20 years.

Pandemic Impacts

- As a result of the COVID-19 pandemic, SCPA reports a surge in consumer demand for imported goods and record volumes. Disparity in volume between U.S. imports and exports is at a record high, both in terms of volumes and freight rates. Due to supply chain issues, at the end of the third quarter of 2021, a record number of ships were unable to immediately access U.S. port terminals. Following the Thanksgiving holiday carriers also experienced minor delays at Charleston due to labor and trucking shortages, but the delays have since cleared. However, Charleston continues be affected by the offshore anchorages and longer delays at other ports. The effect on the Port of Charleston is to diminish capacity for exports by 10 percent, because one sailing is lost every ten weeks.
- Norfolk Southern and CSX in Charleston do not have track and yard capacity to work through congestion.
- Inland transportation at Charleston and Greer -- and in much of the rest of the country -- has been slowed due to limited trucks and chassis, as well as longer dwell times at marine and rail facilities.
- Record inventory at SCPA's terminals resulted. Average import dwell time is currently seven days compared to four days historically.
- Although local drayage rates are up as much as 50 percent, there is a limit and possible decline in owner operator truck capacity. "[T]here remains a lack of interest in labor market for trucking and backlogs remain," according to the SCPA.
- Workforce market wages increased by about 15 percent in August.
- SCPA reports that it has "nowhere close to enough import transload and distribution center capacity to support volumes…"
- No significant investment in new port facilities in the U.S. generally other than HLT.
- The SCPA has seen a "temporary surge in demurrage/storage revenue assisting in short-term cash flow growth, replacing lost cruise revenue but impacting fluidity at berth and yard."

Risk Management

The Commission asked the SCPA to provide an overview of risk management strategies, including strategic and operational strategies.

The SCPA indicates that risk transfer, engineering, and active claims handling are strategies used, and that it attempts to contractually transfer as much risk as possible to other parties when negotiating with vendors, customers, and users . The SCPA works to require the other party to indemnify the SCPA, require their insurance carrier to name the SCPA as an additional insured, and to waive the carrier's right of subrogation. Because its greatest operational risks involve the lifting of heavy containers on and off vessels and trucks, the SCPA has "a robust training program, including full scale crane simulators, as well as engineering controls on the cranes." Finally, "SCPA directly employs two licensed all lines claims adjusters to investigate accidents involving SCPA equipment or personnel."

Outstanding Litigation

The SCPA is currently engaged in personal injury accident cases, a labor dispute over the HLT, issues surrounding Palmetto Railways and the NBIF, and an ongoing issue with the Union Pier cruise terminal.

HLT

The status of the legal challenges relating to the labor arrangement at the HLT are best summarized in the FY20 and 21 Notes:

> On March 17, 2021, the State of South Carolina and the Ports Authority filed labor charges against the United States Maritime Alliance, Ltd. (USMX), the International Longshoreman's Association, AFL-CIO, CLC and the International Longshoreman's Association, AFL-CIO, CLC, Local 1422 (together, the ILA) with the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) for entering into and maintaining an unlawful hot-cargo agreement as contained in [a section of] the USMX-ILA collective bargaining agreement (Master Agreement) and the Hugh K. Leatherman Terminal (HLT). … [I]n April 2021, the ILA filed a lawsuit in the New Jersey Superior Court (the Lawsuit) against two USMX member-carriers seeking to effectuate the unlawful provision in the Master Agreement. … A hearing was held before an Administrative Law Judge on June 9th and 10th, 2021. No order has been issued by the Administrative Law Judge. The Ports Authority intends to aggressively protect its interests with regards to the ILA. The effect of this labor dispute on the financial position of the Ports Authority related to operations at HLT cannot be determined at this time.

On September 16, 2021, a NLRB judge ruled in favor of the Ports Authority stating that the ILA cannot force the use of union labor at the Port of Charleston and ordered that the ILA drop a lawsuit filed against two ocean carriers that utilized the HLT.

In mid-November 2021 the ILA appealed the decision to the NLRB. After a decision is rendered by that body, the SCPA expects the case to continue in federal courts.

Ocean Carrier Alliances

Ocean carrier alliances are groups of ocean carriers that pool their vessel fleets to offer customers expanded geographic reach and better service. Carriers work together on the major trade lanes, contributing vessel capacity and dividing space on shared services, allowing them to offer more frequent service on bigger ships at a lower per unit cost. According to the Port, the pace of shipping consolidation accelerated starting in 2016 through bankruptcy, mergers and acquisitions, and the formation of larger ocean carrier alliances. That year there were 4 alliances comprised of 18 shipping lines. Today there are three alliances comprised of nine major lines. Combined, these three alliances control 84 percent of the world's container ship capacity. Larger alliances have also led to larger vessels, which has increased pressure on ports to upgrade facilities, infrastructure, and processes to accommodate larger ships and increase per-vessel move counts. According to the SCPA, it is well-positioned with the three alliances, which have relatively similar market share positions in the Port.

Cybersecurity

In light of the increasing number of cybersecurity attacks on various businesses and governments, the Commission asked the SCPA to summarize the measures it uses to protect operations and finances against cyberattack. The SCPA advised that it has an internal Cyber Team to assess risk. The Team focuses on the five functions of the National Institute of Standards and Technology Cyber Security Framework: Identify, Protect, Detect, Respond, and Recover. Various tools are used to handle detection, permissions, endpoint protection, device inventory, real-time traffic monitoring, and other security measures. Industry standard products and devices, boundaries, and internal and external testing are also used to help protect assets. Tools, processes, and procedures for detecting and reporting anomalous network traffic and logging" are in place. Finally, the Cyber Team trains employees beginning when the employee is hired and continuing on a scheduled basis.

Quality of Life

The SCPA undertakes a number of activities to engage with and educate the community about Port activities and to improve quality of life, including:

- The aforementioned Daniel Island Saltwater Mitigation Bank project;
- A partnership with South Carolina Department of Natural Resources to build approximately 300 feet of oyster reef along Drum Island;
- Implementation of Diesel Emission Reduction Act grants, operation of the Clean Truck Program, and local air monitoring;
- The Community Giving Program, which provided $61,000 in grants to 55 charitable organizations in FY21. The program supports port-related maritime commerce, economic development, and environmental, educational, and community needs. SCPA awarded $128,500 in FY20, $106,000 in FY19, and $103,000 in FY18. SCPA plans to return to a pre-pandemic level giving for FY22;
- The free community tour program, which enables the public to visit the SCPA's Wando, Columbus Street, and Union Pier terminals. The free tours draw widespread interest and are fully booked; and
- The Wando Good Neighbors meetings, which allows residents near the WWT to meet with SCPA leadership, local law enforcement, and elected officials to receive SCPA-related updates and provide neighborhood feedback.

Executive Personnel, Employees, and Labor

In addition to the Board of Directors, the SCPA's leadership team is made up of 14 people.

- James I. Newsome, President and Chief Executive Officer

- Randy Lowell, General Counsel
- Dixon Hughes Goodman, Internal Auditor
- Barbara L. Melvin, Chief Operating Officer
- Phil Padgett, Chief Financial Officer
- Jordi Yarborough, Senior Vice President, Community Engagement & Secretary to the Board
- Paul G. McClintock, Senior Vice President, Export Projects
- Micah Mallace, Senior Vice President, Sales & Marketing
- Beverly Cowart, Senior Vice President, Talent Solutions
- Joel Britt, Senior Director, Operations
- Steve Kemp, Senior Director, Intermodal, Chassis, & Operations Projects
- Walter Lagarenne, Senior Director, Engineering & Facilities
- Steve Rauch, Senior Director, Information Technology
- Brent Simon, Senior Director, Chief of Port Police
- Mike Stresemann, Senior Director, Crane and Equipment Maintenance

The SCPA's executive compensation structure is administered by the SCPA Board's Human Resources Committee. Any compensation increases require Board approval in a public session. The Board conducts regular benchmarks with other major U.S. ports.
The SCPA also has a variable incentive compensation program for executives. Incentives are based on volume and operating cash flow. A supplemental executive retirement structure is available to senior executives, senior directors, and certain director-level executives.

As of October 2021, the SCPA directly employed 844 people. This is an increase of 221 employees since FY16. Employment growth is expected to continue due to heavy volume as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic, and the SCPA indicates it does not expect any layoffs after once supply chain issues eventually return to more normal conditions.

SECTION 2.
REVIEW OF EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Overview
Jim Newsome was hired by the SCPA Board in September 2009. Prior to his position with the SCPA, he was President of Hapag-Lloyd (America) Inc., an international shipping company. Mr. Newsome has spent his entire career in international shipping. He received a bachelor's degree in Transportation and Logistics and an MBA in Transportation and Logistics from the University of Tennessee, Knoxville.

Prior to Mr. Newsome's hiring, cargo volume had been steadily declining, and the Port of Charleston was losing market share. Under his leadership, the SCPA enacted a new strategic plan that included aggressive sales and marketing, a reorganization of management structure, and a cargo diversification plan. Mr. Newsome identified the Charleston Harbor deepening project as the most important project to ensure that the Port of Charleston continues to grow and regain lost market share. He has demonstrated that he has a long-range vision for the SCPA.

The Board renewed Mr. Newsome's employment contract in 2012 and amended it in 2015. In September 2021, Mr. Newsome announced that he will retire effective June 30, 2022. He will serve in an advisory capacity for a period of time following this date. The Board named Barbara Melvin, the SCPA's COO, as Mr. Newsome's successor.
The Board reports that Mr. Newsome's current contract contains the following duties:

- Responsibility for the overall performance of the SCPA
- Providing leadership and direction
- Serving as principal liaison with the Board
- Acting as chief external representative and spokesperson
- Defining and executing strategic direction and approved objectives
- Insuring communications throughout SCPA to maximize quality, productivity, and effectiveness
- Providing leadership in maximizing return on invested assets and achieving the SCPA mission

In September 2021, the Board reported to the Commission that it rated Mr. Newsome's performance in each of the above areas as "satisfactory." Further, the Board rated Mr. Newsome "satisfactory" in the following key areas, taken verbatim from the Board's performance review:

- Assure that the SCPA facilities work well. (Good gate [turnaround] times, ship productivity, growing volume, expanded stacking capacity, maximizing use of NCT in spite of bridge constraint, strong inland port performance, successful representation of SCPA before the NLRB on HLT, no days closed during pandemic.)

- Invest heavily in new facilities. (Retrofit of WWT, HLT opening, new chassis yard/pool, new Wando Transload facility, expansion of IP Greer, began transition of [responsibility for developing the] NBIF from Palmetto Railways, secured Walmart distribution center on Ridgeville Campus, completed largest financing of public sector debt at sub 4 percent interest rate.)
- Continued growth of the cargo base. (Weathered pandemic with volumes up 8 percent over FY20, vehicle shipments up 27 percent, Greer up 13 percent and Dillon up 8 percent, began relationship with Amazon at Wando Transload, finalized several plastics transload facilities to boost exports, achieved overall diversification of cargo base and above average market growth, successful development of Primus property and 1.1M spec building, involved in securing EJ Gallo project.)
- Enhance intermodal footprint. (Greer expansion, transition of NBIF from Palmetto Rail, launched conceptual planning of Wando barge operation. Difficulty encountered with Rapid Rail Dray capacity, attempted to develop new dedicated models for trucking to maintain and grow capacity. Work to be done.)
- Enhance effectiveness of workforce and workplace culture. ([SCPA] named one of the Best Places to work 2019/2020, began mapping senior management transition in all functional areas, improved remuneration for hourly staff to address ability to hire and retain in the face of strong volume growth, organized large job fair to allow successful recruitment of 150 new staff, [maintained] strong connection and communication to management through quarterly manager meetings.)

FY20-21 Accomplishments

- Key volume metrics: record volumes in pier containers, TEU, breakbulk pier tons, vehicles, revenue, and operating cash flow. No cruise passengers due to pandemic.
- Induction into the International Maritime Hall of Fame, 2021

- Participation in U.S. Commerce Secretary Gina Raimando's Supply Chain Competitiveness Council
- Blue Cross Blue Shield Outstanding Manufacturing Lifetime Service [award], 2020
- Frequent participant in industry relevant interviews on CNBC and other business media

Challenges for FY22 and Beyond

- Fully opening HLT
- Securing funding and completing the NBIF
- Improving Rapid Rail drayage capacity with dedicated truck model
- Attracting new retail beneficial cargo owners with distribution capacity
- Assuring that Macalloy property [near the HLT] is developed for industrial purposes
- Continue above market volume growth
- Improve carrier revenue model, revenue per unit
- Focus on improving operations at Norfolk Southern Seven Mile Rail Yard [in Charleston]

Suggested Areas for Improvement

- Finalization of Georgetown wind down, disposition of Port property in conjunction with city/county
- Takeoff strategy for volume growth at Dillon

SECTION 3.
REVIEW OF BOARD AND BOARD MEMBERS

Overview

The SCPA Board of Directors is comprised of nine voting members, appointed by the Governor with the advice and consent of the Senate, and two non-voting members. The appointed members must meet certain qualifications. The appointed members serve terms of five years each and until their successors have been appointed, screened, and found qualified. The two non-voting members are the Secretary of Commerce, or his designee, and the Secretary of Transportation, or his designee.
The nine voting members are:

- Bill H. Stern, Chair, Columbia (Term expired February 13, 2020)
- David J. Posek, Vice Chair, Pawleys Island (Term expires February 13, 2023)
- Kurt D. Grindstaff, Treasurer, Hilton Head (Term expired June 4, 2018)
- Willie E. Jeffries, Secretary, Elloree (Term expired February 13, 2020)
- Whitemarsh S. Smith, III, Charleston (Term expired March 19, 2019)
- Pamela P. Lackey, Columbia (Term expired February 13, 2020)
- William W. (Wes) Jones, Bluffton (Term expires February 13, 2022)
- Kenneth R. Jackson, Blythewood (Term expired February 13, 2021)
- Mark W. Buyck, Jr, Florence (Term expired February 13, 2020)

The two non-voting members are:

- Harry M. Lightsey, III, Secretary of Commerce
- Christy Hall, Secretary of Transportation

Threshold for Board Action

Board action is required for the following:

- Capital projects greater than $250,000, except for routine replacements;
- Review and approval of fiscal year plans;
- Monthly updates on financials, statistics, operations, capital projects, and business development;
- Annual in-depth review of all pertinent issues as well as strategic plan updates;
- Routine meetings with the HR committee on proposed changes to organizational structure and pay increases; and
- Frequent emails/communication from CEO and senior management on industry and pressing issues.

Staff Observations and Rating Agency Notes

Since the last oversight report, Commission staff regularly attended SCPA Board meetings (predominantly by phone) and various port-related functions. Staff reviewed minutes and spent additional time in professional settings observing and interacting with each member of the SCPA Board of Directors.

Each has demonstrated knowledge of substantive SCPA issues and the ability to apply that knowledge to address issues facing the SCPA. The voting members have demonstrated that their decisions, both individually, and as a body, are free of influence from political considerations and labor unions and serve the best interests of the State. Each member has demonstrated the temperament and demeanor necessary to be an active, productive member of the Board.

Continued growth at the SCPA suggests that the Board, as a whole, is taking the actions necessary to promote, develop, construct, equip, maintain, and operate the harbors and seaports of this State in an efficient, effective manner in accordance with all applicable laws and regulations. Both S&P and Moody's note the SCPA's strong governance model.

Commission Recommendation

The Commission has observed that the SCPA often seems to dismiss the ex-officio, nonvoting members of the Board (the Secretary of the Department of Commerce and the Secretary of the Department of Transportation, or their designees). However, on various reports and presentations the SCPA regularly discounts, or fails to note entirely, the members' membership on the Board. For example, the SCPA's website includes a photo and short bio of each voting member of the Board, while listing only the names of the nonvoting members. The nonvoting members are not mentioned in the SCPA's 2021 Annual Report, the SCPA's April 7, 2021 presentation to the Senate Transportation Committee, or the information the SCPA provided to the Commission for this report. The voting members are included in these publications. Further, there have been instances in which Board meeting agendas indicate that in executive session items directly involving the departments of Commerce and Transportation will be discussed, however, the nonvoting members are statutorily prohibited from taking part in executive sessions.

The General Assembly added the Secretary of the Department of Commerce and the Secretary of the Department of Transportation on the Board in the SCPA restructuring act of 2009. These cabinet-level members were added because the agencies they lead are those that most regularly interact with the SCPA, and the General Assembly believes their expertise would be valuable in the Board's decision-making process. The Commission notes that the SCDOT regularly has representation at Board meetings and other SCPA functions, and the Department of Commerce has also lately been represented at Board meetings.

The Commission recommends the General Assembly pass legislation that allows these ex-officio members to be part of executive sessions and makes them voting members of the Board.

SECTION 4.
CHALLENGES

The information provided to the Commission by the SCPA for this report concluded with a page entitled "Innumerable Challenges in the U.S. Global Supply Chain" and listed the following areas of general concern for the nation's logistics and shipping sectors:

- Overall slowdown in velocity
- Nationwide shortage of 300 million square feet of distribution center capacity
- Shortage of container truck drivers
- U.S. port capacity is very rigid
- Ships waiting at anchor at U.S. ports, thereby exacerbating supply chain slowdown
- Record on-terminal container inventories

The Commission adds to these concerns the following challenges that are specific to the SCPA:

- Outcome of ongoing labor-related litigation concerning use of the HLT
- Funding, construction, and operation of the NBIF
- Determining the future of Union Pier and overall cruise footprint
- Implementing the WWT/HLT barge operation

- Challenges common to any entity when transitioning to a new CEO. These may include employee acclimation to new communication and leadership styles, and new expectations of employees.

ADDENDUM

Following the release of this biennial Oversight Report to members of the Commission, SCPA released productivity and financial information for calendar year 2021. The following is a summation of that information.

Calendar Year 2021 Results

SCPA "set monthly year-over-year container records for ten consecutive months in 2021, from March through December. Much of the cargo growth stems from consumers buying more retail goods during the pandemic," according to an SCPA announcement in January 2022. 2021 ended with SCPA having had its best calendar year in history, handling record cargo volume, including:

- A combined 2.75 million TEUs at Wando, North Charleston, and Leatherman terminals, up 19 percent from 2020 and 13 percent from 2019;
- 1.53 million pier containers (containers of any size), up 18 percent from 2020 and 11 percent from 2019;
- 1.29 million loaded import TEUs, up 25 percent from 2020. Significant growth in retail imports — including home goods, appliances, furniture, clothing and electronics — was a major reason;
- 814,964 loaded export TEUs, up 5 percent from 2021;
- Inland Port Greer handled a record 160,234 rail moves, up 14 percent from 2020. Inland Port Dillon made 29,412 rail moves;
- 233,887 vehicle exports, up 6 percent from 2021.

December Volumes and FY 2022 Numbers to Date

SCPA finished 2021 with the strongest December on record, including:

- Handling 246,198 TEUs in December at Wando, North Charleston, and Leatherman Terminal. Total TEUs handled in FY 22 to date are 1.42 million, up nearly 17 percent year-over-year;

- 137,506 pier containers moved in December for a total of 787,869 pier containers thus far in fiscal year 2022, up nearly 17% year-over-year;
- Inland Port Greer handled 12,217 rail moves in December for a total of 77,345 rail moves to date in 2022. Dillon handled 1,490 and 13,325 moves, respectively;
- Cruise operations resumed in December when the Norwegian Gem calling the Port of Charleston, while in January the Carnival Sunshine resumed cruises from its home port of Charleston.

Looking Ahead

SCPA's efforts to continue the momentum achieved in 2021 includes the following projects for 2022:

- Deploying 15 ship-to-shore cranes with 155 feet of lift height at Wando;
- Achieving full use of Phase One of Leatherman Terminal;
- Completing the Charleston Harbor Deepening Project;
- Initiating construction on the rail-served Navy Base Intermodal Facility and inner-harbor barge project; and
- Completion of the Inland Port Greer expansion project.

Received as information.

H. 3538--AMENDED AND ORDERED TO THIRD READING

The following Bill was taken up:

H. 3538 -- Reps. Bradley and Erickson: A BILL TO AMEND SECTION 50-15-500, CODE OF LAWS OF SOUTH CAROLINA, 1976, RELATING TO THE ALLIGATOR MANAGEMENT PROGRAM, SO AS TO ESTABLISH THAT THE DEPARTMENT OF NATURAL RESOURCES MUST SET CONDITIONS FOR THE HUMANE TAKING AND DISPOSITION OF ALLIGATORS; TO PROHIBIT THE TAKING OF ALLIGATORS FROM A SANCTUARY UNLESS THE ALLIGATOR HAS BEEN DETERMINED TO BE A NUISANCE; TO REQUIRE THE DEPARTMENT TO ESTABLISH SPECIFIC METHODS OF HUMANE CAPTURE, REMOVAL, AND DISPOSAL OF ALLIGATOR PARTS; AND TO EXPAND THE SCOPE OF ACTIONS VIOLATING THE PROVISIONS OF THIS SECTION TO INCLUDE THE INHUMANE TAKING, REMOVING, AND DISPOSITION OF AN ALLIGATOR OR ALLIGATOR PARTS, AND

TO PROVIDE THAT THE OFFICIAL CITATION ISSUED BY ENFORCEMENT OFFICERS MAY BE USED TO CITE VIOLATIONS OF THIS SECTION.

The Committee on Agriculture, Natural Resources and Environmental Affairs proposed the following Amendment No. 1 to H. 3538 (COUNCIL\PH\3538C001.JN.PH22), which was adopted:

Amend the bill, as and if amended, by striking all after the enacting words and inserting:

/ SECTION 1. Section 50-15-500 of the 1976 Code is amended to read:

"Section 50-15-500. (A) The General Assembly finds that the American alligator (Alligator mississippiensis) was reclassified by the United States Fish and Wildlife Service from endangered or threatened to "threatened due to similarity of appearance throughout the remainder of its range" pursuant to the federal Endangered Species Act (16 U.S.C. 1531) and the regulations issued to implement that act. American alligators may now be taken under federal law in compliance with 50 C.F.R. 17.42(a)(2)(ii). Therefore, in order to create more opportunity for hunting and for the controlled harvest of the alligator, the General Assembly finds it in the best interest of the State to allow the taking of the alligator under strictly controlled conditions and circumstances and in compliance with federal law.

(B)(1) The department must establish an alligator management program that allows for hunting and for selective removal of alligators in order to provide for the sound management of the animals and to ensure the continued viability of the species. The department must set the conditions for taking, including the size, methods of take, areas, times and seasons, disposition of the parts, and other conditions to properly control the harvest of alligators and the disposition of parts. The department may allow alligators to be taken at any time of the year, in any area, including sanctuaries, as part of its alligator management program. All alligators taken under the alligator management program must be taken pursuant to permits and tags and under conditions established by the department in accordance with state and federal law. All alligators taken must be tagged. Except for those persons operating under authority of depredation permits, a person who hunts, takes, or attempts to take an alligator must have a hunting license. It is unlawful for a depredation permit holder or his or her designee to sell, barter, or trade or offer to sell, barter, or trade the privilege to take an alligator under the authority of a depredation permit.

(2) The department may establish an alligator hunting season. The department may issue alligator permits and tags to allow hunting and taking of alligators in any game zone where alligators occur. A person desiring to hunt and take alligators must apply to the department.

(3) A landowner or lessee of property on which alligators occur may apply to the department for a permit to participate in the Private Lands Alligator Program. On those private lands, the season for hunting and taking alligators is from September first through May thirty-first. On those lands in the private lands program only, unsecured alligators may be taken by firearms, provided no alligator may be taken by use of rim fire weapons or shotguns. Unsecured alligators may be taken only by firearms from thirty minutes before sunrise until thirty minutes after sunset. A person who takes an alligator by use of firearms must make a reasonable effort to recover the carcass at the time of taking or for the next ensuing forty-eight hours. A person using a firearm to take an alligator must have a gaff or grappling hook or other similar device to immediately locate and recover the carcass.

(4) The department may designate alligator control agents who demonstrate by training and experience that they possess the skills to remove alligators. Those persons designated serve at the discretion of the department. The department may require periodic demonstrations of skill or require periodic training. Alligator control agents function under the general guidance and supervision of the department for the capture and removal of nuisance alligators including the disposition of the alligator or its parts.

(5) In addition to other conditions which may be required by the department, any person who takes an alligator pursuant to a depredation permit and tag issued by the department must adhere to the following conditions:

(a) Alligators only may be relocated or moved within the boundary of the parcel described on the depredation permit, or the parcel from which the alligator is removed in the case of a permit issued to a municipality, or adjoining parcels under the same ownership, unless written permission of the department authorizes otherwise. Alligators that are habituated to humans or display inappropriate behaviors that may endanger the public may not be relocated.

(b) No alligator may be held alive for more than eight hours and no live alligator may be transferred to another person without written permission from the department.

(c) Persons capturing alligators must take all reasonable precautions to protect the health and safety of members of the public and prevent direct contact between the public and captured alligators.

(d) Conditions stipulated in any alligator depredation permit and specific directions issued by the department must be followed.

(C) It is unlawful to feed, entice, or molest an alligator except as permitted under state and federal law. A person who violates this subsection is guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction, must be fined not less than ~~one~~ five hundred dollars nor more than ~~one hundred fifty~~ one thousand dollars or imprisoned for up to thirty days, or both. The magistrates court retains jurisdiction over this offense.

(D) A person who takes an alligator pursuant to the provisions of this section must comply with all state laws, regulations, and permit conditions concerning disposition of alligators and alligator parts. Disposal of alligator carcasses into waters of the State, ephemeral and intermittent streams, ditches, and swales is prohibited. Disposal on any property without the landowner's permission is prohibited. Disposal of any portion of an alligator carcass or live alligator at any public boat ramp is prohibited.

Williams, Willis, Wooten and Yow: A HOUSE RESOLUTION TO REMEMBER THE LIFE OF FRAZIER B. BAKER, POSTMASTER OF LAKE CITY WHO WAS MURDERED BY A WHITE MOB OUTSIDE HIS BURNING HOME ON FEBRUARY 22, 1898, AND TO DECLARE TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 22, 2022, AS A DAY TO HONOR HIS MEMORY.

Whereas, Frazier B. Baker was a married forty-year-old African American schoolteacher and the father of six children, who was appointed as postmaster of Lake City in 1897 during the administration of President William McKinley; and

Whereas, local whites who resented black Republican officeholders resisted McKinley's recess appointments and launched a campaign to force Mr. Baker's removal. Williamsburg County was sixty-three percent black, but Lake City was overwhelmingly white; and

Whereas, whites initiated a boycott of the Lake City post office, and circulated petitions calling for the dismissal of Mr. Baker, a member of the Colored Farmers Alliance, claiming that he had cut mail delivery from three times a day to one due to threats against his life, threats he communicated to his superiors in Washington, D. C.; and

Whereas, a postal inspector investigated the complaints and advised that the post office be closed. In response, a white mob burned it down, sure that no one would rent another space while Mr. Baker remained postmaster. When racial tension lessened and space was found on the edge of town, Mr. Baker sent for his family; and

Whereas, when efforts failed to secure his removal, a white mob attacked him and his family on February 22, 1898, at their house, which also served as the post office. The family awoke to find their house on fire; and

Whereas, when Mr. Baker's attempts to put out the fire failed, he sent his son to find help, but as soon as the son opened the door, his son was met with gunfire, so Mr. Baker pulled him back into the house. He told his wife, Lavinia, that they might as well die running as standing still, and they started for the door; and

Whereas, before he opened the door, a bullet struck and killed his two-year-old daughter, held by his wife, so he threw open the door and was fatally shot as well. Mrs. Baker and two other children were wounded, yet they escaped when his wife rallied the family from the burning house. For three days, they received no medical treatment; and

Whereas, coverage of the event was extensive, and the lynching was met with widespread condemnation, including across the South. A grand jury in Williamsburg County failed to return any indictments, and the McKinley Administration conducted a robust investigation. On July 1, 1898, prosecutors indicted seven men in the murder of Mr. Baker, and ultimately, thirteen were indicted in United States Circuit Court on charges of murder, conspiracy to commit murder, assault, and destruction of mail on April 7, 1899; and

Whereas, the trial was held in federal court during April 1899. The jury deliberated for twenty-four hours, but a mistrial was declared in a deadlocked five-to-five verdict. The case was never retried; and

Whereas, on May 2, 1898, a mass meeting was held at the Emmanuel African Methodist Episcopal (AME) Church in Charleston where a resolution was passed condemning the attack and the congregation collected funds to assist the Baker family. Family members led fundraising efforts to help the Baker family relocate to Massachusetts; and

Whereas, the Bakers remained in Boston, where the four surviving children died from tuberculosis during an epidemic. When her last child died in 1942, Lavinia Baker returned to Florence County, living in Cartersville until her death in 1947; and

Whereas, in 1918, St. James AME Church was constructed on the site of Mr. Baker's burned post office and house. On October 5, 1955, St. James was burned down. Now, therefore,

Be it resolved by the House of Representatives:

That the members of the South Carolina House of Representatives, by this resolution, remember the life of Frazier B. Baker, Postmaster of Lake City, who was murdered by a white mob outside his burning home on February 22, 1898, and declare Tuesday, February 22, 2022, as a day to honor his memory.

The Resolution was adopted.

The Committee on Ways and Means proposed the following Amendment No. 1 to H. 4880 (COUNCIL\DG\4880C001.NBD.DG22), which was adopted:

Amend the bill, as and if amended, by striking SECTION 1 and inserting:

/ SECTION 1. Section 12-6-510 of the 1976 Code is amended to read:

"Section 12-6-510. (A) Subject to the provisions of subsection (B), for taxable years beginning after 1994, a tax is imposed on the South Carolina taxable income of individuals, estates, and trusts and any other entity except those taxed or exempted from taxation under Sections 12-6-530 through 12-6-550 computed at the following rates with the income brackets indexed in accordance with Section 12-6-520:

Not over $2,220	2.5 percent of taxable income
Over $2,220 but not over $4,440	$56 plus 3 percent of the excess over $2,220;
Over $4,440 but not over $6,660	$123 plus 4 percent of the excess over $4,440;
Over $6,660 but not over $8,880	$212 plus 5 percent of the excess of $6,660;
Over $8,880 but not over $11,100	$323 plus 6 percent of the excess over $8,880;
Over $11,100	$456 plus 7 percent of the excess over $11,100.

(B)(1) Notwithstanding subsection (A), for taxable years beginning after 2021, a tax is imposed on the South Carolina taxable income of individuals, estates, and trusts and any other entity except those taxed or exempted from taxation under Sections 12-6-530 through 12-6-550 computed at the following rates with the income brackets indexed in accordance with Section 12-6-520:

At Least	But less than	Compute the tax as follows

$3,200	$16,040	3% times the amount minus $96
$16,040	or more	6% times the amount minus $577

(2) Notwithstanding the provisions of item (1), the reduction in the top marginal rate contained in this item, as compared to the same in subsection (A), must be phased-in as provided in item (3). Until the top marginal rate is fully phased-in, the bracket to which this reduced top marginal rate applies must be the same as the bracket for the top marginal rate provided in subsection (A). All reductions are permanent and cumulative. During the phase-in and after, the department shall continue to adjust the brackets as provided in Section 12-6-520. Other than the top marginal rate, no other component of this item is phased-in.

(3) For Tax Year 2022, the top marginal rate shall equal 6.5%. Beginning with Tax Year 2023, and each year thereafter until the top marginal rate equals 6%, the top marginal rate must decrease by one-tenth of one percent if general fund revenues are projected to increase by at least five percent in the fiscal year that begins during the tax year. For purposes of this subsection, beginning with the initial forecast required pursuant to Section 11-9-1130, the general fund revenues projection must be determined by the Revenue and Fiscal Affairs Office by comparing the current fiscal year's recurring general fund expenditure base with the Board of Economic Advisors' most recent projection of recurring general fund revenue for the upcoming fiscal year. Upon the issuance of the initial forecast, the Executive Director of the Revenue and Fiscal Affairs Office, or his designee, shall notify the Department of Revenue of the projected percentage adjustment. The executive director, or his designee, shall provide similar notice if subsequent modifications to the forecast change the projected percentage adjustment. However, the forecast in effect on February fifteenth of the current fiscal year is the final forecast for which the percentage adjustment is determined, and no subsequent forecast modifications may have any effect on that determination. For purposes of this section, 'recurring general fund revenue' and 'recurring general fund expenditure base' have the same meaning as provided in Section 6-27-30.

(C) The department may prescribe tax tables consistent with the rates set pursuant to ~~subsection (A)~~ this section." /

Amend title to conform.

(E) A licensee providing occupational therapy in a remote state is subject to that state's regulatory authority. A remote state may, in accordance with due process and that state's laws, remove a licensee's compact privilege in the remote state for a specific period, impose fines, and take other necessary actions to protect the health and safety of its citizens. The licensee may be ineligible for a compact privilege in any state until the specific time for removal has passed and all fines are paid.

(F) If a home state license is encumbered, the licensee shall lose the compact privilege in any remote state until the following occur:

(1) the home state license is no longer encumbered; and

(2) two years have elapsed from the date on which the home state license is no longer encumbered in accordance with item (1).

(G) Once an encumbered license in the home state is restored to good standing, the licensee must meet the requirements of subsection (A) to obtain a compact privilege in a remote state.

(H) If a licensee's compact privilege in a remote state is removed, the individual may lose the compact privilege in any other remote state until the following occur:

(1) the specific period of time for which the compact privilege was removed has ended;

(2) all fines have been paid and all conditions have been met;

(3) two years have elapsed from the date of completing requirements for items (1) and (2); and

(4) the compact privileges are reinstated by the commission, and the compact data system is updated to reflect reinstatement.

(I) If a licensee's compact privilege in a remote state is removed due to an erroneous charge, privileges must be restored through the compact data system.

(J) Once the requirements of subsection (H) have been met, the licensee must meet the requirements in subsection (A) to obtain a compact privilege in a remote state.

Section 40-36-550. (A) An occupational therapist or occupational therapy assistant may hold a home state license, which allows for compact privileges in member states, in only one member state at a time.

(B) If an occupational therapist or occupational therapy assistant changes primary state of residence by moving between two member states:

(1) the occupational therapist or occupational therapy assistant shall file an application for obtaining a new home state license by virtue of a compact privilege, pay all applicable fees, and notify the current and new home states in accordance with applicable rules adopted by the commission;

(2) upon receipt of an application for obtaining a new home state license by virtue of compact privilege, the new home state shall verify that the occupational therapist or occupational therapy assistant meets the pertinent criteria outlined in Section 40-36-540 by means of the data system, without need for primary source verification except for:

(a) an FBI fingerprint-based criminal background check if not previously performed or updated pursuant to applicable rules adopted by the commission in accordance with Public Law 92-544;

(b) other criminal background check as required by the new home state; and

(c) submission of requisite jurisprudence requirements of the new home state;

(3) the former home state shall convert the former home state license into a compact privilege once the new home state has activated the new home state license in accordance with applicable rules adopted by the commission;

(4) notwithstanding any other provision of this compact, if the occupational therapist or occupational therapy assistant cannot meet the criteria in Section 40-36-540, the new home state shall apply its requirements for issuing a new single-state license; and

(5) the occupational therapist or the occupational therapy assistant shall pay all applicable fees to the new home state in order to be issued a new home state license.

(C) If an occupational therapist or occupational therapy assistant changes primary state of residence by moving from a member state to a nonmember state, or from a nonmember state to a member state, the state criteria applies for issuance of a single-state license in the new state.

(D) Nothing in this compact may be construed to interfere with the ability of a licensee to hold a single-state license in multiple states; however, for the purposes of this compact, a licensee shall have one home state license.

(E) Nothing in this compact may be construed to affect the requirements established by a member state for the issuance of a single-state license.

Section 40-36-560. Active duty military personnel, or their spouses, shall designate a home state where the individual has a current license in good standing. The individual may retain the home state designation during the period the service member is on active duty. Subsequent to designating a home state, the individual only shall change their home state through application for licensure in the new state or through the process described in Section 40-36-550.

Section 40-36-570. (A) A home state has exclusive power to impose adverse action against an occupational therapist license or occupational therapy assistant license issued by the home state.

(B) In addition to the other powers conferred by state law, a remote state shall have the authority, in accordance with existing state due process law to:

(1) take adverse action against an occupational therapist's or occupational therapy assistant's compact privilege within that member state; and

(2) issue subpoenas for both hearings and investigations that require the attendance and testimony of witnesses as well as the production of evidence. Subpoenas issued by a licensing board in a member state for the attendance and testimony of witnesses or the production of evidence from another member state must be enforced in the latter state by a court of competent jurisdiction, according to the practice and procedure of that court applicable to subpoenas issued in proceedings pending before it. The issuing authority shall pay witness fees, travel expenses, mileage, and other fees required by the service statutes of the state in which the witnesses or evidence are located.

(C) For purposes of taking adverse action, the home state shall give the same priority and effect to reported conduct received from a member state as it would if the conduct had occurred within the home state. In so doing, the home state shall apply its own state laws to determine appropriate action.

(D) The home state shall complete pending investigations of an occupational therapist or occupational therapy assistant who changes primary state of residence during the course of the investigations. The home state, where the investigations were initiated, also shall have the authority to take appropriate action and promptly shall report the conclusions of the investigations to the occupational therapy compact commission data system. The data system administrator shall promptly notify the new home state of adverse actions.

(E) A member state, if otherwise permitted by state law, may recover from the affected occupational therapist or occupational therapy assistant the costs of investigations and disposition of cases resulting from an adverse action taken against that occupational therapist or occupational therapy assistant.

(F) A member state may take adverse action based on the factual findings of the remote state if the member state follows its own procedures for taking the adverse action.

(G) In addition to the authority granted to a member state by its respective state occupational therapy laws and regulations or other applicable state law, a member state may participate with other member states in joint investigations of licensees. Member states shall share investigative, litigation, or compliance materials in furtherance of any joint or individual investigation initiated under the compact.

(H) If an adverse action is taken by the home state against an occupational therapist license or occupational therapy assistant license, the compact privilege of the occupational therapist or occupational therapy assistant in all other member states must be deactivated until all encumbrances have been removed from the state license. All home state disciplinary orders that impose adverse action against an occupational therapist license or occupational therapy assistant license shall include a statement that the compact privilege of the occupational therapist or occupational therapy assistant is deactivated in all member states during the pendency of the order.

(I) If a member state takes adverse action, it promptly shall notify the data system administrator, who promptly shall notify the home state of adverse actions by remote states.

(J) Nothing in this compact may be construed to override a member state's decision that participation in an alternative program may be used in lieu of adverse action.

Section 40-36-580. (A) The compact member states hereby create and establish a joint public agency known as the 'Occupational Therapy Compact Commission'.

(1) The commission is an instrumentality of the compact states.

(2) Venue is proper and judicial proceedings by or against the commission must be brought solely and exclusively in a court of competent jurisdiction where the principal office of the commission is located. The commission may waive venue and jurisdictional defenses to the extent it adopts or consents to participate in alternative dispute resolution proceedings.

(3) Nothing in this compact may be construed to be a waiver of sovereign immunity.

(B) With respect to commission membership, voting, and meetings:

(1) each member state has, and is limited to, one delegate selected by that member-state's licensing board;

(2) the delegate must be either:

(a) a current member of the licensing board, who is an occupational therapist, occupational therapy assistant, or public member; or

(b) an administrator of the licensing board;

(3) a delegate may be removed or suspended from office as provided by the law of the state from which the delegate is appointed;

(4) the member state board shall fill a vacancy occurring in the commission within ninety days;

(5) each delegate is entitled to one vote with regard to the promulgation of rules and creation of bylaws and shall otherwise have an opportunity to participate in the business and affairs of the commission, provided a delegate shall vote in person or by such other means as provided in the bylaws, and the bylaws may provide for delegates' participation in meetings by telephone or other means of communication;

(6) the commission shall meet at least once during each calendar year and additional meetings shall be held as set forth in the bylaws; and

(7) the commission shall establish by rule a term of office for delegates.

(C) The commission has powers and duties to:

(1) establish a code of ethics for the commission;

(2) establish the fiscal year of the commission;

(3) establish bylaws;

(4) maintain its financial records in accordance with the bylaws;

(5) meet and take such actions as are consistent with the provisions of this compact and the bylaws;

(6) promulgate uniform rules to facilitate and coordinate implementation and administration of this compact, which have the force and effect of law and are binding in all member states;

(7) bring and prosecute legal proceedings or actions in the name of the commission, provided that the standing of a state occupational therapy licensing board to sue or be sued under applicable law shall not be affected;

(8) purchase and maintain insurance and bonds;

(9) borrow, accept, or contract for services of personnel including, but not limited to, employees of a member state;

(10) hire employees, elect or appoint officers, fix compensation, define duties, grant such individuals appropriate authority to carry out the purposes of the compact, and establish the commission's personnel policies and programs relating to conflicts of interest, qualifications of personnel, and other related personnel matters;

(11) accept appropriate donations and grants of money, equipment, supplies, materials and services, and receive, and use and dispose of them; provided that the commission shall avoid any appearance of impropriety, or conflict of interest;

(12) lease, purchase, accept appropriate gifts or donations of, or otherwise own, hold, improve or use, any property, real, personal or mixed; provided that at all times the commission shall avoid any appearance of impropriety;

(13) sell, convey, mortgage, pledge, lease, exchange, abandon, or otherwise dispose of real property, personal property, or a mixture of real and personal property;

(14) establish a budget and make expenditures;

(15) borrow money;

(16) appoint committees, including standing committees composed of members, state regulators, state legislators or their representatives, and consumer representatives, and such other interested persons as may be designated in this compact and the bylaws;

(17) provide and receive information from, and cooperate with, law enforcement agencies;

(18) establish and elect an executive committee; and

(19) perform such other functions as may be necessary or appropriate to achieve the purposes of this compact consistent with the state regulation of occupational therapy licensure and practice.

(D) With respect to the executive committee:

(1) the executive committee shall have the power to act on behalf of the commission according to the terms of this compact;

(2) the executive committee is composed of nine members, consisting of:

(a) seven voting members who are elected by the commission from the current membership of the commission;

(b) one ex officio, nonvoting member from a recognized national occupational therapy professional association; and

(c) one ex officio, nonvoting member from a recognized national occupational therapy certification organization;

(3) the ex officio members must be selected by their respective organizations;

(4) the commission may remove a member of the executive committee as provided in bylaws;

(5) the executive committee shall meet at least annually; and

(6) the executive committee has the duties and responsibilities to:

(a) recommend to the entire commission changes to the rules or bylaws, changes to this compact legislation, fees paid by compact member states such as annual dues, and any commission compact fee charged to licensees for the compact privilege;

(b) ensure compact administration services are appropriately provided, contractual or otherwise;

(c) prepare and recommend the budget;

(d) maintain financial records on behalf of the commission;

(e) monitor compact compliance of member states and provide compliance reports to the commission;

(f) establish additional committees as necessary; and

(g) perform other duties as provided in rules or bylaws.

(E) With respect to meetings of the commission:

(1) all meetings of the commission are open to the public, and public notice of meetings must be given in the same manner as required under the rulemaking provisions in Section 40-36-600;

(2) the commission, executive committee, or other committees of the commission may convene in a closed, nonpublic meeting if the commission, executive committee, or other committees of the commission must discuss:

(a) noncompliance of a member state with its obligations under the compact;

(b) the employment, compensation, discipline or other matters, practices or procedures related to specific employees or other matters related to the commission's internal personnel practices and procedures;

(c) current, threatened, or reasonably anticipated litigation;

(d) negotiation of contracts for the purchase, lease, or sale of goods, services, or real estate;

(e) accusing a person of a crime or formally censuring a person;

(f) disclosure of trade secrets or commercial or financial information that is privileged or confidential;

(g) disclosure of information of a personal nature where disclosure would constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy;

(h) disclosure of investigative records compiled for law enforcement purposes;

(i) disclosure of information related to an investigative report prepared by or on behalf of or for use of the commission or other committee charged with responsibility of investigation or determination of compliance issues pursuant to the compact; or

(j) matters specifically exempted from disclosure by federal or member-state statute;

(3) if a meeting, or portion of a meeting, is closed pursuant to this provision, the commission's legal counsel or designee shall certify that the meeting may be closed and shall reference each relevant exempting provision; and

(4) the commission shall keep minutes that fully and clearly describe all matters discussed in a meeting and shall provide a full and accurate summary of actions taken, and the reasons therefore, including a description of the views expressed. All documents considered in connection with an action must be identified in the minutes. All minutes and documents of a closed meeting must remain under seal, subject to release by a majority vote of the commission or order of a court of competent jurisdiction.

(F) With respect to financing of the commission, the commission:

(1) shall pay, or provide for the payment of, the reasonable expenses of its establishment, organization, and ongoing activities;

(2) may accept appropriate revenue sources, donations, and grants of money, equipment, supplies, materials, and services;

(3) may levy on and collect an annual assessment from each member state or impose fees on other parties to cover the cost of the operations and activities of the commission and its staff, which must be in a total amount sufficient to cover its annual budget as approved by the commission each year for which revenue is not provided by other sources, provided the aggregate annual assessment amount must be allocated based upon a formula to be determined by the commission, which shall promulgate a rule binding upon all member states;

(4) may not incur obligations of any kind prior to securing the funds adequate to meet the same, nor shall the commission pledge the credit of any of the member states, except by and with the authority of the member state; and

(5) shall keep accurate accounts of all receipts and disbursements. The receipts and disbursements of the commission are subject to the audit and accounting procedures established under its bylaws. However, all receipts and disbursements of funds handled by the commission must be audited yearly by a certified or licensed public accountant, and the report of the audit must be included in and become part of the annual report of the commission.

(G) With respect to qualified immunity, defense, and indemnification:

(1) the members, officers, executive director, employees and representatives of the commission are immune from suit and liability, either personally or in their official capacity, for any claim for damage to or loss of property or personal injury or other civil liability caused by or arising out of any actual or alleged act, error or omission that occurred, or that the person against whom the claim is made had a reasonable basis for believing occurred within the scope of commission employment, duties or responsibilities, provided that nothing in this paragraph may be construed to protect any such person from suit or liability for damage, loss, injury, or liability caused by the intentional or wilful or wanton misconduct of that person;

(2) the commission shall defend any member, officer, executive director, employee, or representative of the commission in a civil action seeking to impose liability arising out of an actual or alleged act, error, or omission that occurred within the scope of commission employment, duties, or responsibilities, or that the person against whom the claim is made had a reasonable basis for believing occurred within the scope of commission employment, duties, or responsibilities, provided that no provision of this article may be construed to prohibit that person from retaining his own counsel, and provided further, that the actual or alleged act, error, or omission did not result from that person's intentional or wilful or wanton misconduct;

(3) the commission shall indemnify and hold harmless a member, officer, executive director, employee, or representative of the commission for the amount of a settlement or judgment obtained against that person arising out of an actual or alleged act, error, or omission that occurred within the scope of commission employment, duties, or responsibilities, or that such person had a reasonable basis for believing occurred within the scope of commission employment, duties, or responsibilities, provided that the actual or alleged act, error, or omission did not result from the intentional or wilful or wanton misconduct of that person.

Section 40-36-590. (A) The Commission shall provide for the development, maintenance, and use of a coordinated database and reporting system containing licensure, adverse action, and investigative information on all licensed individuals in member states.

(B) A member state shall submit a uniform data set to the data system on all individuals to whom this compact is applicable, using a unique identifier, as required by the rules of the commission, including:

(1) identifying information;

(2) licensure data;

(3) adverse actions against a license or compact privilege;

(4) nonconfidential information related to alternative program participation;

(5) any denial of application for licensure, and the basis for the denial;

(6) other information that may facilitate the administration of this compact, as determined by the rules of the commission; and

(7) current significant investigative information.

(C) Current significant investigative information and other investigative information pertaining to a licensee in a member state will only be available to other member states.

(D) The commission shall promptly notify all member states of an adverse action taken against a licensee or an individual applying for a license. Adverse action information pertaining to a licensee in any member state will be available to any other member state.

(E) A member state that contributes information to the data system may designate information that may not be shared with the public without the express permission of the contributing state.

(F) Information submitted to the data system that is subsequently required to be expunged by the laws of the member state contributing the information must be removed from the data system.

Section 40-36-600. (A) The commission shall exercise its rulemaking powers pursuant to the criteria set forth in this section and the rules adopted pursuant to it. Rules and amendments shall become binding as of the date specified in each rule or amendment.

(B) The commission shall promulgate reasonable rules in order to effectively and efficiently achieve the purposes of the compact. Notwithstanding the foregoing, in the event the commission exercises its rulemaking authority in a manner that is beyond the scope of the purposes of the compact, or the powers granted hereunder, then such an action by the commission is invalid and has no force and effect.

(C) If a majority of the legislatures of the member states rejects a rule, by enactment of a statute or resolution in the same manner used to adopt the compact within four years of the date of adoption of the rule, then the rule has no further force and effect in any member state.

(D) Rules or amendments to the rules shall be adopted at a regular or special meeting of the commission.

(E) Prior to promulgation and adoption of a final rule by the commission, and at least thirty days in advance of the meeting at which the rule is to be considered and voted upon, the commission shall file a notice of proposed rulemaking on the respective websites of:

(1) the commission or other publicly accessible platform; and

(2) each member-state occupational therapy licensing board or other publicly accessible platform or the publication in which each state would otherwise publish proposed rules.

(F) The notice of proposed rulemaking must include:

(1) the proposed time, date, and location of the meeting in which the rule will be considered and voted upon;

(2) the text of the proposed rule or amendment and the reason for the proposed rule;

(3) a request for comments on the proposed rule from any interested person; and

(4) the manner in which interested persons may submit notice to the commission of their intention to attend the public hearing and any written comments.

(G) Prior to adoption of a proposed rule, the commission shall allow persons to submit written data, facts, opinions, and arguments, which must be made available to the public.

(H) The commission shall grant an opportunity for a public hearing before it adopts a rule or amendment if a hearing is requested by:

(1) at least twenty-five persons;

(2) a state or federal governmental subdivision or agency; or

(3) an association or organization having at least twenty-five members.

(I) If a hearing is held on the proposed rule or amendment, the commission shall publish the place, time, and date of the scheduled public hearing. If the hearing is held via electronic means, the commission shall publish the mechanism for access to the electronic hearing.

(1) A person wishing to be heard at the hearing shall notify the executive director of the commission or other designated member in writing of their desire to appear and testify at the hearing no less than five business days before the scheduled date of the hearing.

(2) A hearing must be conducted in a manner providing each person who wishes to comment a fair and reasonable opportunity to comment orally or in writing.

(3) A hearing must be recorded. A copy of the recording must be made available on request.

(4) Nothing in this section may be construed as requiring a separate hearing on each rule. Rules may be grouped for the convenience of the commission at hearings required by this section.

(J) Following the scheduled hearing date, or by the close of business on the scheduled hearing date if the hearing was not held, the commission shall consider all written and oral comments received.

(K) If no written notice of intent to attend the public hearing by interested parties is received, the commission may proceed with promulgation of the proposed rule without a public hearing.

(L) The commission shall, by majority vote of all members, take final action on the proposed rule and shall determine the effective date of the rule, if any, based on the rulemaking record and the full text of the rule.

(M) Upon determination that an emergency exists, the commission may consider and adopt an emergency rule without prior notice, opportunity for comment, or hearing, provided that the usual rulemaking procedures provided in the compact and in this section must be retroactively applied to the rule as soon as reasonably possible, in no event later than ninety days after the effective date of the rule. For the purposes of this provision, an emergency rule is one that must be adopted immediately in order to:

(1) meet an imminent threat to public health, safety, or welfare;

(2) prevent a loss of commission or member-state funds;

(3) meet a deadline for the promulgation of an administrative rule that is established by federal law or rule; or

(4) protect public health and safety.

(N) The commission or an authorized committee of the commission may direct revisions to a previously adopted rule or amendment for purposes of correcting typographical errors, errors in format, errors in consistency, or grammatical errors. Public notice of a revision must be posted on the website of the commission. The revision is subject to challenge by any person for a period of thirty days after posting. The revision may be challenged only on grounds that the revision results in a material change to a rule. A challenge must be made in writing and delivered to the chair of the commission prior to the end of the notice period. If no challenge is made, the revision will take effect without further action. If the revision is challenged, the revision may not take effect without the approval of the commission.

Section 40-36-610. (A) Oversight

(1) The executive, legislative, and judicial branches of state government in each member state shall enforce this compact and take all actions necessary and appropriate to effect the compact's purposes and intent. The provisions of this compact and the rules promulgated hereunder shall have standing as statutory law.

(2) All courts shall take judicial notice of the compact and the rules in any judicial or administrative proceeding in a member state pertaining to the subject matter of this compact which may affect the powers, responsibilities, or actions of the commission.

(3) The commission is entitled to receive service of process in any such proceeding, and has standing to intervene in such a proceeding for all purposes. Failure to provide service of process to the commission renders a judgment or order void as to the commission, this compact, or promulgated rules.

(B) Default, Technical Assistance, and Termination

(1) If the commission determines that a member state has defaulted in the performance of its obligations or responsibilities under this compact or the promulgated rules, the commission shall provide:

(a) written notice to the defaulting state and other member states of the nature of the default, the proposed means of curing the default and any other action, if any, to be taken by the commission; and

(b) remedial training and specific technical assistance regarding the default.

(2) If a state in default fails to cure the default, the defaulting state may be terminated from the compact upon an affirmative vote of a majority of the member states, and all rights, privileges and benefits conferred by this compact may be terminated on the effective date of termination. A cure of the default does not relieve the offending state of obligations or liabilities incurred during the period of default.

(3) Termination of membership in the compact must be imposed only after all other means of securing compliance have been exhausted. Notice of intent to suspend or terminate must be given by the commission to the governor, the majority and minority leaders of the defaulting state's legislature, and each of the member states.

(4) A state that has been terminated is responsible for all assessments, obligations, and liabilities incurred through the effective date of termination, including obligations that extend beyond the effective date of termination.

(5) The commission may not bear any costs related to a state that is found to be in default or that has been terminated from the compact, unless agreed upon in writing between the commission and the defaulting state.

(6) The defaulting state may appeal the action of the commission by petitioning the United States District Court for the District of Columbia or the federal district where the commission has its principal offices. The prevailing member must be awarded all costs of such litigation, including reasonable attorney's fees.

(C) Dispute resolution

(1) Upon request by a member state, the commission shall attempt to resolve disputes related to the compact that arise among member states and between member and nonmember states.

(2) The commission shall promulgate a rule providing for both mediation and binding dispute resolution for disputes as appropriate.

(D) Enforcement

(1) The commission, in the reasonable exercise of its discretion, shall enforce the provisions and rules of this compact.

(2) By majority vote, the commission may initiate legal action in the United States District Court for the District of Columbia or the federal district where the commission has its principal offices against a member state in default to enforce compliance with the provisions of the compact and its promulgated rules and bylaws. The relief sought may include both injunctive relief and damages. In the event judicial enforcement is necessary, the prevailing member must be awarded all costs of such litigation, including reasonable attorney's fees.

(3) The remedies in this section are not exclusive. The commission may pursue any other remedies available under federal or state law.

Section 40-36-620. (A) The compact shall come into effect on the date on which the compact statute is enacted into law in the tenth member state. The provisions, which become effective at that time, must be limited to the powers granted to the commission relating to assembly and the promulgation of rules. Thereafter, the commission shall meet and exercise rulemaking powers necessary to the implementation and administration of the compact.

(B) A state that joins the compact subsequent to the commission's initial adoption of the rules is subject to the rules as they exist on the date on which the compact becomes law in that state. A rule that has been previously adopted by the commission must have the full force and effect of law on the day the compact becomes law in that state.

(C) A member state may withdraw from this compact by enacting a statute repealing the same. The withdrawal of a member state may not:

(1) take effect until six months after enactment of the repealing statute; or

(2) affect the continuing requirement of the withdrawing state's occupational therapy licensing board to comply with the investigative and adverse action reporting requirements of this act prior to the effective date of withdrawal.

(D) Nothing contained in this compact may be construed to invalidate or prevent any occupational therapy licensure agreement or other cooperative arrangement between a member state and a nonmember state that does not conflict with the provisions of this compact.

(E) This compact may be amended by the member states. No amendment to this compact may become effective and binding upon any member state until it is enacted into the laws of all member states.

Section 40-36-630. This compact must be liberally construed to effect the purposes of it. The provisions of this compact are severable and if any phrase, clause, sentence or provision of this compact is declared to be contrary to the constitution of a member state or of the United States or the applicability of it to any government, agency, person, or circumstance is held invalid, the validity of the remainder of this compact and the applicability of it to any government, agency, person, or circumstance may not be affected as a consequence. If this compact is held contrary to the constitution of any member state, the compact shall remain in full force and effect as to the remaining member states and in full force and effect as to the member state affected as to all severable matters.

Section 40-36-640. (A) A licensee providing occupational therapy in a remote state under the compact privilege shall function within the laws and regulations of the remote state.

(B) Nothing herein prevents the enforcement of any other law of a member state that is not inconsistent with the compact.

(C) Any laws in a member state in conflict with the compact are superseded to the extent of the conflict.

(D) Any lawful actions of the commission, including all rules and bylaws promulgated by the commission, are binding upon the member states.

(E) All agreements between the commission and the member states are binding in accordance with their terms.

(F) In the event a provision of the compact exceeds the constitutional limits imposed on the legislature of a member state, the provision is ineffective to the extent of the conflict with the constitutional provision in question in that member state."

SECTION 2. Section 40-36-230 of the 1976 Code is amended to read:

"Section 40-36-230. (A)(1) An applicant for licensure as an occupational therapist shall file a written application on forms provided by the board showing to the satisfaction of the board that the applicant:

~~(1)~~(a) has graduated from an occupational therapy educational program approved by ACOTE or other AOTA endorsed accrediting body for occupational therapy or other educational program which the board considers to be substantially equivalent;

~~(2)~~(b) has completed successfully a minimum of six months of supervised field work experience at an educational institution approved by the educational institution where the applicant met the academic requirements;

~~(3)~~(c) has passed a board approved certification exam for the occupational therapist; and

~~(4)~~(d) is in good standing with NBCOT or other board approved certification program.

(2) In addition to other requirements established by law and for the purpose of determining an applicant's eligibility for an initial compact privilege, the department shall require a national criminal records check, supported by fingerprints, by the Federal Bureau of Investigation. The results of this criminal records check must be reported to the department. The South Carolina Law Enforcement Division is authorized to retain the fingerprints for certification purposes and for notification of the department regarding criminal charges. Costs of conducting a criminal history background check must be borne by the applicant. The department shall keep information received pursuant to this section confidential, except that information relied upon in denying licensure may be disclosed as may be necessary to support the administrative action. The results of this criminal records check must not be shared outside the department.

(B)(1) An applicant for licensure as an occupational therapy assistant shall file a written application on a form approved by the board showing to the satisfaction of the board that the applicant:

~~(1)~~(a) has graduated from an occupational therapy assistant educational program approved by ACOTE or other AOTA endorsed accrediting body for occupational therapy or other educational program which the board considers to be substantially equivalent;

~~(2)~~(b) has completed successfully a minimum of two months of supervised field work experience at a recognized educational institution or a training program approved by the educational institution where the applicant met the academic requirements;

~~(3)~~(c) has passed a board approved certification exam for the occupational therapy assistant; and

(2) In addition to other requirements established by law and for the purpose of determining an applicant's eligibility for a compact privilege, the department shall require a national criminal records check, supported by fingerprints, by the Federal Bureau of Investigation. The results of this criminal records check must be reported to the department. The South Carolina Law Enforcement Division is authorized to retain the fingerprints for certification purposes and for notification of the department regarding criminal charges. Costs of conducting a criminal history background check must be borne by the applicant. The department shall keep information received pursuant to this section confidential, except that information relied upon in denying licensure may be disclosed as may be necessary to support the administrative action. The results of this criminal records check must not be shared outside the department."

SECTION 3. Section 40-36-250 of the 1976 Code is amended by adding an item at the end to read:

"( ) in addition to other requirements established by law and for the purpose of determining an applicant's eligibility for a compact privilege, the department shall require a national criminal records check, supported by fingerprints, by the Federal Bureau of Investigation. The results of this criminal records check must be reported to the department. Amend the bill, as and if amended, by striking all after the enacting words and inserting:

/ SECTION 1. Section 56-1-90 of the 1976 Code is amended to read:

"(A) The Department of Motor Vehicles may require every applicant to submit ~~for identification purposes proof of name, Social Security number, and date and place of birth when applying for a driver's license~~ acceptable evidence when applying for or renewing a driver's license, beginner's permit, or identification card that proves the applicants:

(1) date of birth;

(2) place of birth;

(3) gender;

(4) Social Security number;

(5) principal residential address;

(6) full legal name;

(7) when applicable, legal name change; and

(8) when applicable, authorized length of stay in the United States.

An applicant ~~for a driver's license, driver's permit, or special identification card or a renewal thereof may sufficiently prove~~ may prove sufficiently the existence and validity of his Social Security number, for purposes of Section 14-7-130, by any document or electronic means considered reliable by the Department of Motor Vehicles, so long as that document or electronic mean does not conflict with other provisions of state or federal law. ~~Such a document includes, but is not limited to, an official Social Security card, Social Security check, Social Security form SSA-1099, letter from the Social Security Administration, voter registration card, payroll stub, or Federal W-2 form.~~ The numbers also may be obtained from the Department of Revenue pursuant to Section 12-54-240(B)(7), which permits the Department of Revenue to submit taxpayer Social Security numbers to the Department of Motor Vehicles and to the State Election Commission.

This section does not prevent issuance of a driver's license or identification card to a foreign exchange student participating in a valid foreign exchange program.

(B) The department may require applicants to submit acceptable documents in other circumstances if those documents are not already on file with the department.

(C) In the case of a name change that occurred after the applicant's birth, an applicant must present documentation to the department to show name traceability, in addition to the items in subsection (A) if not already on file with the department:

(1) a court order issued pursuant to Chapter 49 of Title 15 or an equivalent court order issued by a foreign jurisdiction;

(2) a marriage license issued pursuant to Chapter 1 of Title 20 signed by the official that performed the wedding ceremony and signed by both parties to the marriage, or an equivalent marriage license issued by a foreign jurisdiction. An applicant only is entitled to use a marriage license one time per marriage to change his middle name, last name, or both with the department. A marriage license cannot be used to change an applicant's first name;

(3) a change of name allowance following a divorce pursuant to Section 20-3-180 or an equivalent change of name document following a divorce issued by a foreign jurisdiction; or

(4) an unexpired, United States Passport or Passport Card that includes the applicant's full legal name.

If any one of the above documents does not show a link to the applicant's evidence of full legal name, the department may require the applicant to submit more than one document to show traceability from the applicant's original name to his current name.

(D) If an applicant is applying for a permit, driver's license, or identification card that will be issued with a name other than what is presented to the department pursuant to subsection (A), the department may issue any driver's license or identification card in the applicant's preferred name if the applicant presents to the department at least three different documents, acceptable to the department, showing the applicant's full name with the preferred name being the one used for at least fifteen years. These three documents must be in addition to the documents prescribed in subsection (A), and must, at the department's discretion, show a reasonable link to the documents prescribed in subsection (A).

(E) If an applicant is applying for a permit, driver's license, or identification card under the provisions of subsections (C) or (D), the applicant's social security number must be validated with the Social Security Administration using the applicant's preferred and full name presented to the department before the department may issue a driver's license, permit, or identification card to the applicant.

(F) In the case of the social security number not validating, the department shall not issue any type of REAL ID permit, license, or identification card."

SECTION 2. Section 56-1-140(A) of the 1976 Code is amended to read:

"(A) Upon payment of a fee of twenty-five dollars for a license that is valid for eight years, the department shall issue to every qualified applicant a driver's license as applied for by law. The following Bill was taken up:

H. 4220 -- Reps. Sandifer, Hardee and Murray: A BILL TO AMEND THE CODE OF LAWS OF SOUTH CAROLINA, 1976, BY ADDING SECTION 38-63-230 SO AS TO PROVIDE FOR MUTUAL RESCISSION OF INDIVIDUAL LIFE INSURANCE POLICIES; AND TO AMEND SECTION 38-6-220, RELATING TO REQUIRED INDIVIDUAL LIFE INSURANCE POLICY PROVISIONS, SO AS TO ALLOW FOR THE MUTUAL DECISION TO TERMINATE OR RESCIND A POLICY OF INSURANCE.

The Committee on Labor, Commerce and Industry proposed the following Amendment No. 1 to H. 4220 (COUNCIL\PH\4220C002. JN.PH22):

Amend the bill, as and if amended, by striking all after the enacting language and inserting:

/ SECTION 1. Article 3, Chapter 63, Title 38 of the 1976 Code is amended by adding:

"Section 38-63-230. (A) An insurer may rescind a life insurance policy within the two-year contestability period in Section 38-63-220(d) by:

(1) a mutual rescission agreement executed by all parties based on false statements included in the application; or

(2) proving a fraudulent or material misrepresentation by clear and convincing evidence in a court of competent jurisdiction.

(B) Mutual rescission of a policy may be accomplished by:

(1) mailing a certified letter to the last known address on record of the insured, policy owner or, if the owner is deceased, the beneficiary, notifying the insured, policy owner, or beneficiary that the insurer is seeking a mutual rescission of the policy. The letter must state the policy is being rescinded for false statements included in the application and include the important notice language set forth in subsection (C). The letter must also specify which statements in the application were false along with a brief explanation of the facts supporting the determination that the statements were false;

(2) including a check reimbursing the insured, policy owner, or beneficiary the premium paid to the insurer with language stamped on the back of the check that reads: 'I understand that cashing or depositing this check voids the policy and no benefits will be payable under the policy and am agreeing to the rescission of this policy'; and

(3) signing and cashing or depositing the premium reimbursement check by the insured, policyowner, or beneficiary, which will be deemed an acceptance of the proposed mutual rescission of the policy.

(C) Any certified letter proposing the rescission of a life insurance policy during the contestability period must include the following language in 12-point bold face type:

'IMPORTANT NOTICE:

You are the insured, owner, or beneficiary of an insurance policy the company proposes to rescind. This letter is notice the company seeks your consent to void and rescind the policy issued to you or that names you as a beneficiary based on false statements made in the application for insurance. If rescinded, the policy is void and no benefits will be payable under the policy. You do not have to agree to the rescission of this policy. If you do not agree, do not cash or deposit the enclosed check. Return it to the insurer or destroy it.

By cashing or depositing the enclosed premium reimbursement check, you are agreeing to rescind this policy. No benefits will be due or payable under the voided policy. If you do not agree to rescind this policy, the insurer has the right, in its sole discretion, to bring a court action to rescind the policy in accordance with South Carolina law.

You also have the right to bring an action in court if your policy is canceled or your claim for benefits is denied for material misrepresentation.

You may want to speak with an attorney about this notice. If you have any questions concerning this proposal, either you or your attorney may contact the insurer at the number listed in the letter.

Information regarding the specific misrepresentation that was made in your policy and a brief explanation of the insurer's determination that the representation is false is included with this letter.'

(D) Insurance policies that are guaranteed issue or are not underwritten are not subject to mutual rescission."

SECTION 2. Section 38-63-220(d) of the 1976 Code is amended to read:

"(d) a provision that the policy and any rider or supplemental benefits attached to the policy are incontestable as to the truth of the application for insurance and to the representations of the insured individual after they have been in force during the lifetime of the insured for a period of two years from their date of issue. Any rider or supplemental benefits subsequently attached to the policy are incontestable as to the truth of the application for the rider or supplemental benefits and to the representations of the insured individual after they have been in force during the lifetime of the insured for a period of two years from their date of issue. If an insurer initiates a mutual rescission or institutes proceedings to vacate a policy on the ground of the falsity of the representations contained in the application for the policy, the proceedings or mutual rescission must commence within the time permitted in this subsection;"

/ SECTION 1. Section 16-11-760(B) of the 1976 Code is amended to read:

"(B) A vehicle found parked on private property may be towed and stored at the expense of the registered owner or lienholder, subject to the limitations on allowed storage charges set forth in Section 29-15-10, and charges for towing, storing, preserving the vehicle, and expenses incurred if the owner and lienholder are notified pursuant to Section 29-15-10 constitute a lien against the vehicle, provided that the towing company makes notification to the law enforcement agency pursuant to Section 56-5-2525."

SECTION 2. Section 29-15-10(A),(B), (C), (D), and (E) of the 1976 Code is amended to read:

"(A) A proprietor, an owner, or an operator of any towing company, storage facility, garage, or repair shop, or any person who repairs or furnishes any material for repairs to an article may sell the article at public auction to the highest bidder if:

(1) the article has been left at the shop for repairs or storage and the repairs have been completed or the storage contract has expired;

(2) the article has been continuously retained in his possession; and

(3) thirty days have passed since written notice was given to the owner of the article and to any lienholder by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, or certified mail with electronic tracking that the repairs have been completed or the storage contract has expired.

The article must be sold by a magistrate of the county in which the repairs were done or the article was stored.

(B) ~~Storage costs may be charged that have accrued before the notification of the owner and lienholder, by certified or registered mail, of the location of the article. Notification to the owner and lienholder by the proprietor, owner, or operator of the towing company, storage facility, garage, or repair shop must occur within five days, after receiving the owner's and lienholders' identities. If the notice is not mailed within this period, storage costs after the five-day period must not be charged until the notice is mailed.~~ A proprietor, owner, or operator of any towing company, storage facility, garage, or repair shop, or any person who repairs or furnishes materials for repairs to an article may charge the owner and lienholder for only such storage costs that accrue for a maximum period of seven (7) business days before notice of the location of the article is sent by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, or certified mail with electronic tracking to the owner and lienholders of the article. No other storage costs can be charged to the owner or lienholders for such time period before the notice of the location of the article is sent to the owner and lienholders. The notice must be sent within five business days after receiving the owner's and lienholder's identities from the search required in subsection (C). The notice must include a description of the article and the amount of daily storage costs that will accrue after the notice is sent. A proprietor, owner, or operator of any towing company, storage facility, garage, or repair shop, or any person who repairs or furnishes materials for repairs to an article may charge the owner and lienholders storage costs that accrue for the time period after such notice is sent as required herein.

(C)(1) Before the article is sold, the proprietor, owner, or operator of any towing company, storage facility, garage, or repair shop, or any person who repairs or who furnishes material for repairs to the article must apply to the appropriate titling facility for the name and address of any owner or lienholder. ~~including~~ The appropriate titling facility may include, but is not limited to~~,~~:

(e) the Department of Natural Resources~~, for the name and address of any owner or lienholder~~.

(2) For nontitled articles, where the owner's name is known, a search must be conducted through the Secretary of State's Office to determine any lienholders. The application must be on prescribed forms as required by the appropriate titling facility or the Secretary of State. If the article has an out-of-state registration, an application must be made to that state's appropriate titling facility. When the article is not titled in this State and does not have a registration from another state, the proprietor, owner, or operator of any towing company, storage facility, garage, or repair shop, or any person who repairs or who furnishes material for repairs to the article may apply to the sheriff or chief of police in the jurisdiction where the article is stored to determine the state where the article is registered. The sheriff or chief of police shall conduct a records search. This search must include, but is not limited to, a search on the National Crime Information Center and any other appropriate search that may be conducted with the article's identification number. The sheriff or chief of police must supply, at no cost to the proprietor, owner, or operator of any towing company, storage facility, garage, or repair shop, or any person who repairs or who furnishes material for repairs the name of the state in which the article is titled.

(D) The magistrate, before selling the article, shall ensure that the owner or any lienholder of record has been notified of the pending sale. The magistrate must advertise the article for at least fifteen days by posting a notice in three public places in his township. The magistrate must pay to the proprietor, owner, or operator of any towing company, storage facility, garage, or repair shop, or any person who repairs or who furnishes material for repairs to the article the money due, receiving a receipt in return. Any remainder of the sale proceeds must be held by the magistrate for the owner of the vehicle or entitled lienholder for ninety days. the article proceeds must be deposited in the general fund of the county or municipality.

(E) A proprietor, an owner, or an operator of the towing company, storage facility, garage, or repair shop, or any person who repairs or who furnishes material for repairs to the article may hold the license tag of any vehicle until all towing and storage costs allowed under this section have been paid, or if the vehicle is not reclaimed, until it is declared abandoned and sold."

SECTION 3. Section 56-5-5630(A), (B), and (C) of the 1976 Code is amended to read:

"(A)(1) For purposes of this article, 'vehicle' means a motor vehicle, trailer, mobile home, watercraft, or any other item or object that is subject to towing and storage, and applies to any vehicle in custody at the time of the enactment of this section. 'Vehicle' includes:

(a) items that are towed and left in the possession of a towing, storage, garage, or repair facility;

(b) contents contained in the vehicle; and

(c) personal property affixed to the vehicle.

~~Storage costs for those vehicles in custody at the time of the enactment of this section must not exceed sixty days.~~

(2) When an abandoned vehicle has been taken into custody, the towing company and storage facility having towed and received the vehicle shall notify by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, the last known registered owner of the vehicle and all lienholders of record that the vehicle has been taken into custody. Notification of the owner and all lienholders by ~~certified or~~ registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, or certified mail with electronic tracking constitutes notification for purposes of this section. This notification must satisfy the notification requirements contained in Section 29-15-10. The notice must:

(a) give a description of the year, make, model, and identification number of the vehicle;

(b) set forth the location where the vehicle is being held;

(c) inform the owner and all lienholders of the right to reclaim the vehicle within thirty days beginning the day after the notice is mailed by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, or certified mail with electronic tracking upon payment of all towing, preservation, the storage charges allowable pursuant to Section 29-15-10(B), notification, publication, and court costs resulting from placing the vehicle in custody; and

(d) state that the failure of the owner and all lienholders to exercise their right to reclaim the vehicle within the time provided is considered a waiver by the owner and lienholders of all rights, title, and interest in the vehicle and is considered as their consent to the sale of the vehicle at a public auction.

If a vehicle has been towed pursuant to the provisions of this section, the towing company and storage facility must accept as payment for the release of the vehicle the same manner of payment that they would accept if the owner of the vehicle had requested his vehicle towed.

(B) If the identity of the last registered owner cannot be determined, or if the registration contains no address for the owner, or if it is impossible to determine with reasonable certainty the identity and addresses of all lienholders, notice by one publication in one newspaper of general circulation in the area where the vehicle was abandoned is sufficient to meet all requirements of notice pursuant to this article. The notice by publication may contain multiple listings of abandoned vehicles. This notice must be within the time requirements prescribed for notice by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, or certified mail with electronic tracking, and must have the same contents required for a notice by registered or certified mail.

(C) A lienholder is not subject to a criminal penalty imposed by law in this State for abandonment unless the vehicle is abandoned by the lienholder or his agent or if a false statement or report to a law enforcement officer is made as provided by Section 16-17-722. The owner of a vehicle which has been stolen, whether or not the vehicle was subsequently abandoned, is liable for:

(1) actual recovery and towing charges; and

(2) only the storage costs ~~that accrue beginning seven days after the vehicle was towed~~ allowable pursuant to Section 29-15-10(B).

The law enforcement agency must, within two business days after the vehicle's towing, notify the owner that the vehicle has been recovered, provide the owner with the location of the vehicle, and explain that daily storage charges ~~will~~ may begin to accrue~~ if the vehicle is not reclaimed within seven days of the towing date~~.

A vehicle is considered to be stolen when the registered owner notifies a police officer and files a report which is accepted and placed on the records of the sheriff or chief of police as a stolen vehicle. The law enforcement agency that requested the tow must provide the towing company and storage facility, at no cost to the towing company and storage facility, the owner's name and address. A law enforcement agency is not liable for any costs or fees associated with the towing and storage of a vehicle as provided by this section."

SECTION 4. Section 56-5-5635 of the 1976 Code is amended to read:

"(A) Notwithstanding another provision of law, a law enforcement officer who directs that a vehicle be towed for any reason, whether on public or private property, must use the established towing procedure for his jurisdiction. A request by a law enforcement officer resulting from a law enforcement action including, but not limited to, a vehicle collision, vehicle breakdown, or vehicle recovery incident to an arrest, is considered a law enforcement towing for purposes of recovering costs associated with the towing and storage of the vehicle unless the request for towing is made by a law enforcement officer at the direct request of the owner or operator of the vehicle.

(B) Within ten days following a law enforcement's towing request, the proprietor, owner, or operator of any towing company, storage facility, garage, or repair shop must provide to the sheriff or chief of police a list describing the vehicles remaining in the possession of the proprietor, owner, or operator of any towing company, storage facility, garage, or repair shop. ~~A person who fails to provide the law enforcement agency with this list forfeits recovery of any storage fees that have accrued from the date of towing until the day after the mailing of the notification to the owner and all lienholders by certified or registered mail, return receipt requested, pursuant to Section 29-15-10.~~ Within ten days of receipt of this list, the sheriff or chief of police must provide to the towing company or storage facility, the current owner's name, address, and a record of all lienholders along with the make, model, and identification number or a description of the vehicle at no cost to the proprietor, owner, or operator of the towing company, storage facility, garage, or repair shop. The proprietor, owner, or operator of the towing company, storage facility, garage, or repair shop having towed or received the vehicle must notify by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, or certified mail with electronic tracking the last known registered owner and all lienholders of record that the vehicle has been taken into custody, pursuant to Section 29-15-10.

(C) If the identity of the last registered owner cannot be determined, or if the registration contains no address for the owner, or if it is impossible to determine with reasonable certainty the identity and addresses of all lienholders, the proprietor, owner, or operator of the towing company, storage facility, garage, or repair shop must provide notice by one publication in one newspaper of general circulation in the area from which the vehicle was abandoned which is sufficient to meet all requirements of notice pursuant to this article. The notice by publication may contain multiple listings of abandoned vehicles.

(D)(1) Before a vehicle is sold, the proprietor, owner, or operator of the towing company, storage facility, garage, or repair shop must apply to the appropriate titling facility for the name and address of any owner or lienholder. ~~including~~ The appropriate titling facility may include, but is not limited to~~,~~:

The application must be on prescribed forms as required by the appropriate titling facility or the Secretary of State. If the vehicle has an out-of-state registration, an application must be made to that state's appropriate titling facility. When the vehicle is not titled in this State and does not have a registration from another state, the proprietor, owner, or operator of the towing company, storage facility, garage, or repair shop may apply to the sheriff or chief of police in the jurisdiction where the vehicle is stored to determine the state where the vehicle is registered. If the notice is not mailed within this period, storage costs after the five-day period must not be charged until the notice is mailed. If the vehicle is not reclaimed within thirty days after the day the notice is mailed, return receipt requested, the vehicle is considered abandoned and may be sold by the magistrate pursuant to the procedures set forth in Section 29-15-10.~~

The proprietor, owner, or operator of the towing company, storage facility, garage, or repair shop must release any personal property that does not belong to the owner of the vehicle to the owner of the personal property.

(G) When a law enforcement agency stores a vehicle at a law enforcement facility, the agency must follow the notification procedures contained in this section and submit vehicle information to a magistrate in the county where the vehicle is stored to provide for the sale of the vehicle at public auction. A law enforcement agency is exempt from paying filing fees in any matter related to the towing and storing of a vehicle."

SECTION 5. Section 56-5-5640 of the 1976 Code is amended to read:

"If an abandoned vehicle has not been reclaimed pursuant to Section 56-5-5630, the proprietor, owner, or operator of the towing company, storage facility, garage, or repair shop may have the abandoned vehicle sold at a public auction pursuant to Section 29-15-10. The vehicle's purchaser shall take title to the vehicle free and clear of all liens and claims of ownership, shall receive a magistrate's order of sale, and is entitled to register the purchased vehicle and receive a certificate of title. The Office of Court Administration shall design a uniform magistrate's order of sale for purposes of this section, Section 56-5-5670, and Section 56-5-5945, and shall make the order available for distribution to the magistrates. The magistrate's order of sale given at the sale must be sufficient title for purposes of transferring the vehicle to a demolisher or secondary metals recycler for demolition, wrecking, or dismantling, and in such case no further titling of the vehicle is necessary. The expenses of the auction, the costs of towing, preserving, and storing the vehicle allowed under Section 29-15-10(B) which resulted from placing the vehicle in custody, and all notice and publication costs incurred pursuant to Section 29-15-10 must be reimbursed up to the amount of the auction sale price from the vehicle's sale proceeds. The remaining sale proceeds must be held for the vehicle's owner or entitled lienholder for ninety days. The magistrate shall notify the vehicle's owner and all lienholders by certified or registered mail, return receipt requested, that the vehicle's owner or lienholder has ninety days to claim the proceeds from the vehicle's sale. If the vehicle's proceeds are not collected within ninety days from the day after the notice to the vehicle's owner and all lienholders is mailed, then the vehicle's proceeds must be deposited in the county or municipality's general fund."

Let us pray. Holy and Almighty God, help us to overcome our fears so we can be people of healing and hope. We have been called to serve the people of South Carolina. Direct us to do the right thing as we serve You, O Lord. Bless our defenders of freedom and first responders as they care for all of us. God of light, shine upon our World, Nation, President, State, Governor, Speaker, Staff, and all who serve in these Halls of Government. Heal the wounds, those seen and those hidden, of our brave men and women who suffer and sacrifice for our freedom. Lord, in Your mercy, hear our prayers. Amen.

Amend the bill, as and if amended, by striking all after the enacting words and inserting:

/ SECTION 1. Article 1, Chapter 13, Title 7 of the 1976 Code is amended by adding:

"Section 7-13-25. (A) Monday through Saturday for a two-week period preceding a general election conducted pursuant to Section 7-13-10, a primary, a primary runoff, special elections, and all municipal elections, all qualified electors of this State must be allowed to cast an early in-person ballot.

(B) The period of early voting begins at 8:30 a.m. and ends at 6:00 p.m. on each day of the early voting period, excluding Sunday, until the conclusion of the early voting period at 6:00 p.m. on the Saturday immediately prior to the general election.

(C) For a general election conducted pursuant to Section 7-13-10, each county board of voter registration and elections must establish early in-person voting locations in an amount based on the following formulas, whichever is higher, but not to exceed seven locations:

(1) The number of registered voters in the county:
(a) 1 - 39,999 voters: one location
(b) 40,000 - 79,999 voters: two locations
(c) 80,000 - 119,999 voters: three locations
(d) 120,000 - 159,999 voters: four locations
(e) 160,000 - 199,999 voters: five locations
(f) 200,000 - 239,999 voters: six locations
(g) 240,000 voters and up: seven locations

(2) The size of the county in square miles:
(a) 0-199 square miles: one location
(b) 200-399 square miles: two locations
(c) 400-599 square miles: three locations
(d) 600-799 square miles: four locations
(e) 800-999 square miles: five locations
(f) 1000-1199 square miles: six locations
(g) 1200 square miles and up: seven locations

(D) If the main office of each county board of voter registration and elections is used for an early in-person voting location, it constitutes one of the early in-person voting locations as delineated in this section.

(E)(1) County boards of voter registration and elections must determine locations for early voting centers. In selecting locations, boards must consider geography, population, and ADA compliant accessibility. Boards must distribute the locations throughout the county to maximize accessibility for all voters in the county to the greatest extent possible. The Executive Director of the State Election Commission may, at his discretion, direct the move of early voting centers to ensure proper distribution through each county.

(2) When the early in-person location formulas in subsection (C)(1) and (C)(2) produce results that differ by 4 or more locations, the Executive Director may authorize a county board to use two fewer than the higher number determined in subsection (C). The Executive Director may also authorize the loss of an early in-person location due to an emergency such as fire or flood.

(F) The county election board must set and publish the location of each early in-person voting center at least fourteen days before the early voting period begins. Publication of the schedule must be made, at a minimum, to a website or webpage managed by, or on behalf of, each respective county election board.

(G) Upon the daily closure of each early in-person voting location during the period established in subsection (B), all ballots must be transported to the county board of voter registration and elections and stored in a secure location.

(H) County boards of voter registration and elections, in their discretion, may establish any number of early in-person voting locations for use in primary, primary runoff, special elections, and all municipal elections, and the formulas provided in this section do not apply.

(I) Each early voting center must have available every ballot style in use in the particular county for that election."

SECTION 2. A. Section 7-11-10 of the 1976 Code is amended to read:

"Section 7-11-10. (A) Nominations for candidates for the offices to be voted on in a general or special election may be by political party primary, by political party convention, or by petition; however, a person who was defeated as a candidate for nomination to an office in a party primary or party convention ~~shall~~ may not have his name placed on the ballot for the ensuing general or special election, except that this section does not prevent a defeated candidate from later becoming his party's nominee for that office in that election if the candidate first selected as the party's nominee dies, resigns, is disqualified, or otherwise ceases to become the party's nominee for that office before the election is held.

(B) A candidate may not file more than one statement of intention of candidacy for a single election.

(C) A candidate may not be nominated by more than one political party for a single office for the same election."

"Section 7-15-420. If a ballot is not challenged, the sealed return-addressed envelope must be opened by the managers, and the enclosed envelope marked 'Ballot Herein' removed and placed in a locked box or boxes. After all return-addressed envelopes have been emptied in this manner, the managers shall remove the ballots contained in the envelopes marked 'Ballot Herein', placing each one in the ballot box provided for the applicable contest. A person requesting an application for a qualified elector as the qualified elector's authorized representative must request an application to vote by absentee ballot in person or by mail only and must himself be a registered voter and must sign an oath to the effect that he fits the statutory definition of a representative. This signed oath must be kept on file with the board of voter registration and elections until the end of the calendar year or until all contests concerning a particular election have been finally determined, whichever is later. A candidate or a member of a candidate's paid campaign staff, including campaign volunteers ~~reimbursed for time expended on campaign activity~~, is not allowed to request applications for absentee voting for any person designated in this section unless the person is a member of the immediate family. A person may not request absentee applications for more than ten qualified electors in addition to himself. Applications must be accepted by the county board of voter registration and elections until 5:00 p.m. on the day immediately preceding the election for those who appear in person and are qualified to vote absentee pursuant to Section 7-15-320. A member of the immediate family of a person who is admitted to a hospital as an emergency patient on the day of an election or within a four-day period before the election may obtain an application from the board on the day of an election, complete it, receive the ballot, deliver it personally to the patient who shall vote, and personally carry the ballot back to the board of voter registration and elections. The board of voter registration and elections shall serially number each absentee ballot application form and keep a record book in which must be recorded the number of the form, the name, home address, and absentee mailing address of the person for whom the absentee ballot application form is requested; the name, address, voter registration number, and relationship of the person requesting the form, if other than the applicant; the date upon which the form is requested; the date upon which the form is issued; and the date and method upon which the absentee ballot is returned. This information becomes a public record at 9:00 a.m. on the day immediately preceding the election, except that forms issued for emergency hospital patients must be made public by 9:00 a.m. on the day following an election. A person who violates the provisions of this section is subject to the penalties provided in Section 7-25-170."

The State Election Commission shall certify, at least annually, that the State of South Carolina has substantially complied with the requirements of this section."

B. Section 7-5-430 of the 1976 Code is amended to read:

"Section 7-5-430. Immediately preceding each general election or any special election, the county board of voter registration and elections must furnish one registration book for each polling precinct in the county containing the names of all electors entitled to vote at each precinct. Security protocols for electronic poll books shall be generally consistent with current industry security standards, and in promulgating this requirement, the State Election Commission shall consider those security standards issued by the National Institute of Standards and Technology, the Cybersecurity and Infrastructure Security Agency, and the federal Election Assistance Commission. The State Election Commission shall certify, at least annually, that the State of South Carolina has substantially complied with the requirements of this section."

C. Section 7-13-320(A) of the 1976 Code is amended to read:

"(A) Other than ballots delivered electronically to qualified electors who are entitled to vote by absentee ballot under the federal Uniformed and Overseas Citizens Absentee Voting Act, 52 U.S.C. Section 20301, et seq., the ballots shall incorporate features which can be used to authenticate the ballot as an official ballot but which does not make the ballot identifiable to a particular elector. The ballot shall be printed on paper of such thickness that the printing cannot be distinguished from the back and shall be of such size and color as directed by the State Election Commission. If more than one ballot is to be used in any election, each such ballot shall be printed upon different colored paper;"

D. Section 7-13-610(C) of the 1976 Code is amended to read:

"(C) Other than ballots delivered electronically to qualified electors who are entitled to vote by absentee ballot under the federal Uniformed and Overseas Citizens Absentee Voting Act, 52 U.S.C. Section 20301, et seq., the ballots shall incorporate features which can be used to authenticate the ballot as an official ballot but which do not make the ballot identifiable to a particular elector. The ballot must be printed on paper of a thickness so that the printing cannot be distinguished from the back and must be of a size and color as directed by the State Election Commission. If more than one ballot is to be used in a primary, each ballot must be printed on different colored paper. The ballot must contain a voting square opposite the name of each candidate, and the voter shall vote by putting a mark in the voting square opposite the name of the candidate of his choice. The State Election Commission may establish, under Chapter 23 of Title 1, such rules and regulations as are necessary for the proper administration of this section."

E. Section 7-13-1330 of the 1976 Code is amended to read:

"Section 7-13-1330. (A) Before any decision is made to procure or use any kind of voting system, input shall be sought from a wide variety of sources including the public, the academic community, public interest organizations, local election officials, and policy makers. Both written and oral testimony shall be accepted from all who wish to participate. This input shall be considered in procurement of a new voting system.

(B) Before any kind of optical scan voting system is used at any election, it must be approved by the State Election Commission, which shall examine the optical scan voting system and make and file in the commission's office a report, attested by the signature of the commission's executive director, stating whether, in the commission's opinion, the kind of optical scan voting system examined may be accurately and efficiently used by electors at elections, as provided by law. An optical scan voting system may not be approved for use in the State unless certified by a testing laboratory accredited by the Federal Election Assistance Commission as meeting or exceeding the minimum requirements of the latest federal voting system standards and guidelines. Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, if these voting system standards have been amended less than thirty-six months prior to an election, the State Election Commission may approve and certify a voting system that meets the prior standards after determining:

(1) the effect that such approval would have on the integrity and security of elections; and

(2) the procedure and cost involved to bring the voting system into compliance with the amended standards.

~~(B)~~(C) No kind of vote recorder not approved pursuant to this section shall be used at any election and if, upon the reexamination of any type vote recorder previously approved, it appears that the vote recorder so reexamined can no longer be accurately and efficiently used by electors at elections as provided by law, the approval of the vote recorder must immediately be revoked by the State Election Commission, and no such type vote recorder shall thereafter be purchased for use or used in this State.

~~(C)~~(D) If a vote recorder, including an optical scan voting system, which was approved for use before July 1, 1999, is improved or otherwise changed in a way since its approval that does not impair its accuracy, efficiency, or capacity, the vote recorder may be used in elections. However, if the software, hardware, or firmware of the system is improved or otherwise changed, the system must comply with the requirements of subsection ~~(A)~~ (B).

~~(D)~~(E) Any person or company who requests an examination of any type of vote recorder or optical scan voting system shall pay a nonrefundable examination fee of one thousand dollars for a new voting system and a nonrefundable examination fee of five hundred dollars for an upgrade to any existing system to the State Election Commission. The State Election Commission may at any time, in its discretion, reexamine any vote recorder or optical scan voting system when evidence is presented to the commission that the accuracy or the ability of the system to be used satisfactorily in the conduct of elections is in question.

~~(E)~~(F) Any person or company who seeks approval for any vote recorder or optical scan voting system in this State must file with the State Election Commission a list of all states or jurisdictions in which the system has been approved for use. This list must state how long the system has been used in the state; contain the name, address, and telephone number of that state or jurisdiction's chief election official; and must disclose any reports compiled by state or local government concerning the performance of the system. The vendor is responsible for filing this information on an ongoing basis.

~~(F)~~(G) Any person or company who seeks approval for any vote recorder or optical scan voting system must file with the State Election Commission copies of all contracts and maintenance agreements used in connection with the sale of the voting system. All changes to standard contracts and maintenance agreements must be filed with the State Election Commission.

~~(G)~~(H) Any person or company who seeks approval for any vote recorder or optical scan voting system must conduct, under the supervision of the State Election Commission and any county board of voter registration and elections, a field test for any new voting system, as part of the certification process. The field test shall involve South Carolina voters and election officials and must be conducted as part of a scheduled primary, general, or special election. This test must be held in two or more precincts, and all costs relating to the voting system must be borne by the vendor. The test must be designed to gauge voter reaction to the system, problems that voters have with the system, and the number of voting units required for the efficient operation of an election. The test must also demonstrate the accuracy of votes cast and reported on the system.

~~(H)~~(I) Before an optical scan voting system may be used in elections in the State, all source codes for the system must be placed in escrow by the manufacturer, at the manufacturer's expense, with the authority approved by the Federal Election Assistance Commission. These source codes must be available to the State Election Commission in case the company goes out of business, pursuant to court order, or if the State Election Commission determines that an examination of these source codes is necessary. The manufacturer shall place all updates of these source codes in escrow, and notify the State Election Commission that this requirement has been met.

~~(I)~~(J) After a vote recorder or optical scan voting system is approved, an improvement or change in the system must be submitted to the State Election Commission for approval pursuant to this section; however, this requirement does not apply to the technical capability of a general purpose computer ~~or reader to electronically count and record votes~~ or ~~to a~~ printer to accurately reproduce vote totals.

~~(J)~~(K) If the State Election Commission determines that a vote recorder or optical scan voting system that was approved no longer meets the requirements set forth in subsections ~~(A)~~ (B) and ~~(C)~~ (D) or Section 7-13-1340, the commission may decertify that system. A decertified system shall not be used in elections unless the system is reapproved by the commission under subsections ~~(A)~~ (B) and ~~(C)~~ (D).

~~(K)~~(L) Neither a member of the State Election Commission, any county board of voter registration and elections or custodian, nor a member of a county governing body shall have any pecuniary interest in any vote recorder, or in the manufacture or sale of the vote recorder.

(M) To attain a measure of integrity over the process, the optical scan voting system also must maintain an image of each ballot that is cast, such that records of individual ballots are maintained by a subsystem independent and distinct from the main vote detection, interpretation, processing, and reporting path. The electronic images of each ballot must protect the integrity of the data and the anonymity of each voter, for example, by means of storage location scrambling. The ballot image records may be either machine-readable or manually transcribed, or both, at the discretion of the vendor.

(N) All electronic records of configurations, software logs, security devices, ballot images, hardware, and voting system firmware must be preserved for the same amount of time that the state or federal law requires for all election-related materials."

F. Section 7-13-1340(k) of the 1976 Code is amended to read:

"(k) ~~if approved after July 1, 1999, or if an upgrade in software, hardware, or firmware is submitted for approval as required by Section 7-13-1330 (C), is able to electronically transmit vote totals for all elections to the State Election Commission in a format and timeframe specified by the commission~~ prohibits, at all times while utilized in a current election, the following:

(1) a connection to the Internet or an external network;

(2) capability to establish a wireless connection to an external network;

(3) establishment of a connection to an external network through a cable, a wireless modem or any other mechanism or process; or

"Section 7-13-1370. Ballot cards for all precincts shall be sourced solely ~~of suitable design, size and stock, as prescribed~~ by the State Election Commission~~, to permit processing by a tabulating machine. A serially numbered stub and strip shall be attached to each ballot card in a manner and form similar to that prescribed by law for paper ballots~~."

H. Section 7-13-1620(A) and (G) of the 1976 Code is amended to read:

"(A) Before any kind of voting system, including an electronic voting system, is used at an election, it must be approved by the State Election Commission, which shall examine the voting system and make and file in the commission's office a report, attested to by the signature of the commission's executive director, stating whether, in the commission's opinion, the kind of voting system examined may be accurately and efficiently used by electors at elections, as provided by law. A voting system may not be approved for use in the State unless certified by a testing laboratory accredited by the Federal Election Assistance Commission as meeting or exceeding the minimum requirements of the latest federal voting system standards and guidelines. Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, if these voting system standards have been amended less than thirty-six months prior to an election, the State Election Commission may approve and certify a voting system that meets the prior standards after determining:

(1) the effect that such approval would have on the integrity and security of elections; and

(2) the procedure and cost involved to bring the voting system into compliance with the amended standards.

(G) After a voting system is approved, an improvement or change in the system must be submitted to the State Election Commission for approval pursuant to this section. This requirement does not apply to the technical capability of a general purpose computer, reader, or printer used for election preparation or ballot ~~tallying~~ tally reporting."

I. Section 7-13-1640(C) of the 1976 Code is amended to read:

"(C) If approved after July 1, 1999, or if an upgrade in software, hardware, or firmware is submitted for approval as required by Section 7-13-1620(B), the voting system must be able to electronically transmit vote totals for all elections from county board of voter registration and elections to the State Election Commission in a format and time frame specified by the commission.

(D) During anytime a voter is eligible to cast a ballot, the voting machine and any counting device shall not:

(1) be connected to the Internet or an external network;

(2) be capable of establishing a wireless connection;

(3) establish a connection to an external network through a cable, a wireless modem, or any other mechanism or process; or

(4) allow automatic adjudication functions.

(E) All electronic records of configurations, software, logs, security devices, ballot images, hardware, and voting system firmware must be preserved for the same amount of time that state or federal law requires for all election related materials."

The printed instructions required by Section 7-15-370(2) to be sent each absentee ballot applicant must notify him that his vote will not be counted in either of these events. If a ballot is not challenged, the sealed return-addressed envelope must be opened by the managers, and the enclosed envelope marked 'Ballot Herein' removed, ~~and~~ placed in a locked box or boxes, and kept secure. After all return-addressed envelopes have been emptied in this manner, the managers shall remove the ballots contained in the envelopes marked 'Ballot Herein', placing each one in the ballot box provided for the applicable contest. Beginning at ~~9:00~~ 7:00 a.m. on the calendar day immediately preceding election day, the absentee ballots may be tabulated, including any absentee ballots received on election day before the polls are closed. If any ballot is challenged, the return-addressed envelope must not be opened, but must be put aside and the procedure set forth in Section 7-13-830 must be utilized; but the absentee voter must be given reasonable notice of the challenged ballot. The processes of examining the return-addressed envelopes, opening the sealed return-addressed envelopes to remove the 'Ballot Herein' envelopes, and removing the ballots from the 'Ballot Herein' envelopes for tabulation must be conducted in the presence of any candidate who elects to be present, and of any watchers who have been appointed pursuant to Section 7-13-860. Provided, any candidates or watchers present must be located a reasonable distance in order to maintain both the right to observe and the secrecy of the ballots.

(B) Results of the absentee ballot tabulation must not be publicly reported until after the polls are closed. An election official, election worker, candidate, or watcher who intentionally violates the prohibition contained in this subsection is guilty of a felony and, upon conviction, must be fined not more than one thousand dollars or imprisoned not more than five years." /

Bless and keep these Representatives and Staff safe as they work for the people of this State. Look in favor upon our defenders of freedom and first responders. Remember those people around the world who suffer. Be our guide as we go through life.
